The polling, however, was to be continued for three days longer, unless a more speedy determination of the question shall have been arrived at, by the exhaustion of the forces of either of the parties, so that much uncertainty prevails as to the ultimate result.

The special Constables, of whom a great number were sworn in, being unable to maintain order, and having been severely mal-treated by the mob, the military were called out, after which the polling went on without interruption.

A volume of "Poems written in Newfoundland," by Henrietta Prescott, the accomplished daughter of the Governor of that Island, has just issued from the London press.

In the Bill now before Parliament, for the re-union of the Canadas, and other matters appertaining thereto, a clause has been introduced for annexing the Magdalen Islands, hitherto considered part of the County of Quebec, to the Government of Prince Edward Island.

The report which His Excellency made on that occasion, we have not seen, but we subsequently learned that in the original draft of the Canadian Bill, which was submitted to Parliament last year, a clause was introduced for dismembering the Magdalen Islands from Canada and annexing them, as well as the District of Gaspé, to the Government of New Brunswick.

As to the policy which dictated this measure, we should suppose that one glance at the map would satisfy any unprejudiced person of its propriety and adaptation to the local circumstances of the two countries.

In our fourth page we have inserted the highly interesting narrative of the expedition under Messrs. Dease and Simpson, of the Hudson Bay Company's service, who have at last been successful in ascertaining the existence of a North-west Passage. These gentlemen have solved the great problem, by supplying the link which was wanting to connect the discoveries of Parry and Ross from the east, with those of Beechey and Franklin from the west.

The Fair held here on Wednesday last proved a failure. Very few cattle were offered for sale, and those, with a few exceptions, of a rather sorry description. Such as they were, however, the most of them found purchasers, milch cows being eagerly bought up at from £7 to £10 per head, as in quality.

As a gala or holiday the day passed off pleasantly enough. During the greater part of it the open space around the Market house was crowded by gay and happy looking groups, who seemed to have assembled there for no other purpose than that of enjoying themselves, and we may safely challenge any country to produce a finer specimen of peasantry than was there congregated.
