GENERAL INTELLIGENCE.

The Kingston (Canada) Comnerical Advertiser, in speaking of the new system of Tanning Leather, says:—

We have seen some of the stock manufactured by this process, and it only requires to be handled to convince even the most inexperienced judge of the article, of its great superiority over that manufactured by old process. There can be no doubt that this valuable invention will soon be universally adopted, while those first in the field, will, in the meantime, reap the reward of their enterprise.

The passengers arrived at Aspinwall by the British mail steamship Lima, report that they saw the barque Emma on fire in the harbor at Paita, on the 14th Oct. When When they arrived there, she had already burned to the waters edge, having on board 546 barrels of oil, all of which were a total loss.

Two citizens of Portland have circulated statements to the effect, that there is more intemperance and more liquor sold and drank in that city and State, at the present time, than before the passage of the existing liquor law, and more than there has been at any other time for twenty years, the Advertiser of that city contains a reply signed by 430 residents, in which those statements are said to be most grossly and palpably erroneous and unfounded. The document bears the names of the ministers and very many leading men of the city. Many more signatures could readily be obtained. A bad cause has always weak arguments, and to assert that a law must be repealed because there are some who will not obey it, is weak reasoning.—Montreal Witness.

Supplies of Grain.—A return, which possesses great interest at the present moment, showing the scources of the supply of foreign and colonial flour and grain imported into the united kingdom during the first nine months of the current year, has been promptly prepared and issued by the Board of Trade. It gives the exact quantity received from each nation, distinguishing wheat from other descriptions. The total of wheat, as well as other grain (consisting chiefly of oats and Indian corn), taken from Russia, has been very large, the quantity during the nine months having equalled the whole received from her in the entire year of 1852. At the same time it will be remarked that, owing to timely purchases, a considerable total both of flour and wheat, as well as of other kinds of grain, has been imported from France, notwithstanding her own wants, while in the instance of the Papal territories and Tuscany the amounts have actually been double those of 1852, the false accounts circulated in Italy to delude the people having prevented that early rise of qotations which would have checked the operations of English buyers.

HASZARD'S GAZETTE.

Saturday, December 3, 1853.

Mr. Whelan still harps upon the Lieut. Governor's knowing nothing of the proceedings of the meeting relative to the loss of the Fairy Queen until after his—Mr. Whelan's—resignation, we know very well he did not. Mr. Whelan was sufficiently cunning to send in his resignation before what passed at the meeting got to the Lieut. Governor's ears, as he well knew that in such case even Mr. Coles's paramount authority would not be able to protect him. Our readers will however have an opportunity of reading in another part of this paper, the Rev. Dr. Evans's account of the expressions made nse of by Mr. Whelan.

That there was some anachronism with respect to the different motions that were made, there can be no doubt, but Mr. Whelan must have been as sensible of this as Dr. Evans, and yet like an injudicious counsel in a case he avails himself of a statement the incorrectness of which is sure to be subsequently brought to the notice of the Judge and to his disgrace who would make use of an involuntary misstatement, knowing it to be such. But Mr. Whelan's want of veracity is well known, is upon record; no one who reads the proceedings of the infamous clique of the last House of Assembly in the case of his disputed qalification but must be sensible of this. There was not a doubt that Mr. Whelan had no legal qualification and the verdict of men who had sheltered aud fostered the perjured Le Lacheur is unworthy of a moment's consideration. Whelan was one of those who lent Le Lacheur the aid of his vote and pen. A noble pair. Like says the proverb goes to like. Those who defended Le Lacheur shared his guilt and must be content to share his infamy.

It is amusing to see quotations from other papers respecting "abuse of public men in the Colonies" inserted in Whelan's Gazette, will Mr. Whelan tell us who began this system of personal vituperation? Is it because his own conduct has been such as to call forth not public abuse, but public accusation, to rouse not only the press but individuals, who feel indignant at one who stands in the situation of a servant of the public, prostituting the columns of the Government Paper to the disemination of the grossest slanders and untruths, to come fearlessly forward and put him on his trial, and that, when those untruths are being made fully manifest and he feels that the deserved punishment is about to descend upon his shoulders, he is to call out in order to arrest the lash, that he is a public man, and that both the persons and the characters of such onght to be held sacred? No, no; Both the New Brunswicker and the Montreal Sun are in a grievous error. It is the dnty of the Press, for the safety of the Public, that it should take hold of the public actions of public men and subject them to the most severe tests. Grand Juries and public prosecutors hear the evidence on one side only, but they bring forward the accusation nevertheless and put the party upon his trial, and it not unfrequently happens that he is acquitted, but who doubts the propriety of the proceeding? So it should be with the Press, when, prima facie case of impropriety of conduct in a public character comes to the knowledge of those who conduct its movements it is their duty immediately to put the supposed delinquent on his trial, if he is acquitted well, and if found guilty, well, also. In either case the public reaps the benefit. The faithful watch dog may give tongue on hearing the footsteps of the innocent stranger, but his bark serves at once to shew that he is at his post and fully awake, and is a warning to both friend and foe to keep the right path. It may serve the purpose of those in power to muzzle the press, but should they ever be able so to do, the public will soon perceive that such is the fact, and then new servants will be appointed both strong enough and honest enough to prevent such a catastrophe happening again. It is the public slander of private character that we deprecate, it is this nefarious thief like attempt to frighten the watchman from his post or make him relax in watching the proceedings of those in power, and prevent him from doing his duty in preferrring his charge that we complain of; this allusion to private and domestic misfortune, the lies and slander, the personal abnse and calling names, that is the disgrace of the press;—Not that we care three straws for all this common place abjurgation which we read and forget We feel that confidence in our own moral courage as to be under no fear that we shall be driven from our post, by all the noise of the Gazette or Advertiser, and that when we catch a public rogue we shall hold him fast, and if he resist make him feel that we have teeth, until we have placed him at the bar of public opinion where the people may then hear both sides, and pronounce, as it generally does when well informed an impartial verdict.

The First Anniversary of the Bible Christian Sabbath School at Montague, took place at that place on Thursday, 10th, Nov. According to previous arrangement the Scholars were assembled and took Tea at 3½ p. m. It was a pleasing sight to see the happy countenances of this little band of Juveniles, while seated around the table with their Pastor and Teachers. After tea, the S. S. Anthem being sung Mr. Whitlock addressed them on the necessity of reducing to practice the precepts of the gospel by "Remembering their Creator in the days of their youth" and concluded by invoking the Divine blessing on the institution. At 6 o'clock Public Tea being announced, a highly respectable company sat down to regale themselves, with the most costly viands which were served up in so excellent a style as reflected great credit on the young Ladies of Montague.

The repast being ended, and the company being called to order. On motion of Mr. J. Whitlock, B. C. M. seconded by Mr. R. Wilson. Mr. Robert Cameron was called to the chair. After a few introductory remarks from the chairman. Mr. R. Wilson in a Speech, replete with interest, gave an account of the rise of S. S. operations in 1784 by the venerable Raikis their subseqbent progress, and present prospects, enlivened by humourous and instructive anecdotes. After which, Mr. J. Whitlock interested the audience, for some time, by noticing the past and present state of the School at Montague, and the beneficial results of Sabbath Schools in the world, concluded by exhorting all persons to persevere in this work of faith and labor of love. After a vote of thanks to the Ladies for their zeal and activity in preparing the Festival, and to the chairman for the discharging of the business of the evening the Company separated highly delighted with the entertainment of the evening.—Com.

ELECTRIC TELEGRAPH.

We are much pleased to learn there is every probability of the Newfoundland and Prince Edward Island Electric Telegraph operations being proceeded with in the ensuing spring. We understand from F. N. Gisborne, Esq., that some of his friends in England came forward and offered to advance £10,000 sterling, and take up the Line, but on submitting the proposition to the original Company in the United States, they have agreed to proceed with the work (already advanced a considerable stage), as early as possible.—Isl.
