It has been estimated that Great Britain has about 100,000 absolutely "homeless wanderers."

In the twenty years preceding 1886 there were 328,716 divorces in America to 258,332 for all Europe.

The Bastille was originally a covered portico in which the cases where heard and other business was transacted.

An English firm is using the silk of the wild silkworm, from which is woven a soft, substantial fabric of a light tawny or puce shade.

It is asserted that the best, strongest and most fibrous material in the shape of wool, now used as a pulp for paper, is made from spruce logs.

The head dresses of 1770 were so large the ladies going to balls were forced, to save their heads, to kneel on the floors of their carriages.

Steel pens were first made in 1803. The annual sales at present in the United States are estimated at 30,000,000 pens, while the world annually consumes 300,000,000.

Window glass was first used in modern times in 1550. Now the consumption of plate glass alone exceeds 6,000,000 square feet in England and 9,000,000 in the United States.

During a severe storm in Schley County, Georgia the other day, the house of A. L. B. Clark was struck by lightning in five different places and at five different times.

Coal oil was first used as an illuminant in 1828. The United States export of oil in 1889 exceeded its value $15,000,000. In the same year the world produced 34,820,396 barrels.

Wheat was first exported from the United States about 1753. The world's product in 1889 was estimated at 2,717,000,000 bushels. The crop of the United States last year was 519,490,000 bushels.

The mountains of Guatemala (meaning full of brass) are covered with magnificent forest, and the country takes its name from them. One of its principal products is guano; dye woods and tropical trees abound.

Copies of The New York Gazette, reprinted in The Weekly Post Boy, dated March 16, 1746, to the New York Mercury, of Feb. 14, 1747, are three interesting papers in the possession of Benjamin Tilton, of Trenton, N. J.

The antiquity of the fan in the east, particularly in Asia, extends far back beyond the possibility of ascertaining its origin in time and India, the original model of the fan was the wing of a bird, and at one time was part of the emblems of imperial authority.

A nearly adult specimen of the Malayan or Asiatic tiger is a new addition to the Zoological Gardens at Regent's Park, London. It is only at very long intervals that specimens of this animal are obtained, the first being in 1840, the second in 1850, one in 1882 and the present example.

Revolving rifles were invented in 1811, but did not come into general use for many years. It is estimated that over 12,000,000 are now in actual service in the European armies, while 3,000,000 are reserved in the arsenals for emergency. Statisticians say that there are 100,000,000 guns of all kinds in the world.

Experiments with a bicycle fitted out with a small chemical tank and fire axe are being made at a South Boston fire company. The bicycle has cushion tires and, with its whole outfit, weighs about sixty pounds. The tank holds 100 lbs. of compressed gas, and the amount as an extinguisher to about twelve pairs of water.

Morse's telegraph was made practical in 1837. The Western Union now has 739,105 miles of wire and sends 62,000,000 messages a year. The world's business is transacted partly by means of 346,000,000 messages sent every year. In 1888 there were in Europe 41,500 telegraph offices. The world in 1888 had 767,000 miles of telegraph wire.

Last year 233,495 persons visited the Victoria Niagara Falls Park (on the Canadian side), which was nearly 40,000 less than in 1891. The falling of the carriage travel, the number of foot passengers having increased nearly one-quarter. The new electric railway is likely to cut down the hackmen's receipts even more this season.

When a horse is trotting a 2.20 gait his feet move a little faster than a mile in 1.10. As the trotting of the horse and as each of his feet when in contact with the ground is stationary and then is picked up and moved forward to take the next step, the foot must move as much faster than the body as to make the step, which is over twice as fast.

The English custom of turning over a residence to a bridal pair for the honeymoon is often imitated this side the Atlantic, and is considered a proper and elegant thing to do. But the sending of houses irrespective of the bridal element is also popular. Not infrequently persons going abroad for the summer offer their entire establishment to a friend for the absence.

We owe the hat to Asia, for it was in that country that the art of felting wool was first known, and from the most remote periods the art was carried on by the orientals. In India, China, Burma and Siam hats are made of straw, of rat-tail, of bamboo, of silk, of the leaf of the Talipot palm and of a large variety of grasses. The Japanese made their hats of paper.

An English court has decided that a cook—male or female—is not bound to give an employer notice before leaving, nor on the other hand, is the employer required to notify the cook before discharging her. The reason given is that if the cook were forced to remain against her will she might revenge herself on the members of the family, or, in case of a club, upon her employers' patrons.

It will probably be a matter of surprise to the general reader to learn that the petticoat was first worn exclusively by men. In the reign of King Henry VII. the dress of the English was so fanciful and absurd that it was difficult to distinguish one sex from the other. In the inventory of Henry V. appears a "petticoat of red damask, with open sleeves." There is no mention of a woman's petticoat before the Tudor period.

The decisive step in the knowledge of distillation was taken in Egypt. There were invented the first real distilling apparatus during the first centuries of the Christian era. They are described precisely in the works of Zosimus, an author of the third century, from the technical treatise of two women, chemists named Cleopatra and Mary. In the margin of a Greek text of St. Mark are the drawings of the apparatus, and they agree exactly with the author's descriptions.

"An ounce of prevention, &c. Do not neglect that cough! One bottle of Parson's Emulsion (the cough medicine par excellence) taken now, may save you weeks of illness, and a long doctor's bill. Large bottle, only 50 cents.

They Do Not Despair.

An utter loss of hope is no characteristic of consumptives, though no other form of disease is so fatal, unless its progress is arrested by use of Scott's Emulsion, which is Cod Liver Oil made as palatable as cream.

For Over Fifty Years

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used by millions of mothers for their children while cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best-known remedy for diarrhoea, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

Days of Agony

is the experience of thousands of sufferers from piles. Hawker's Pile Cure is a positive and painless cure. Sold everywhere. Price 50 cents. If afflicted, try it.

Make Somebody Glad.

On life's rugged road
As we journey each day,
Far, far more of sunshine
Would brighten the way,
If, forgetful of self
And our troubles, we had
The will and would try
To make others glad.

Thought of the world's wealth
We have little in store,
And labor to keep
Grim want from the door,
With a hand that is kind
And a heart that is true,
To make others glad.

There is much we may do.

A word kindly spoken,
A smile or a tear,
Though seeming but trifles,
Full often may cheer;
Each day to our lives
Some treasure would add
To be conscious that we
Had made somebody glad.

A SPLENDID RECORD.

A Provincial Industry Takes Its Business in the Last Three Months.

Some three months ago this journal informed its readers that a new provincial industry, that of the Hawker Medicine Company, of St. John, had completed its first quarter's business, and that the book showed a development of trade and a record of sales that was not only gratifying but really astonishing.

Another three months has now elapsed and the company have balanced their accounts for the six months. The results show that in the last three months they have trebled the business of the first three. Repeat orders come in constantly, showing that work has been carried on in the packers room till 11 o'clock every night in order to fill orders promptly. From all parts of New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and P. E. Islands, and from all parts of the United States, the orders have rolled in. The business is now firmly established. The experimental stage is past. Repeat orders come in constantly, showing that where once the remedies are introduced, they win permanent favors with the people, who know as soon as they have given any of them a trial that these standard remedies are all that they are claimed to be. Indeed, this last might hardly be assumed without a trial, and judging solely from the character of the gentlemen who form the Hawker Medicine Co., as they are numbered among the leading citizens and most honorable and successful business men of St. John.

The Hawker Medicine company are now patenting their remedies in Great Britain and will presently extend their operations there, as well as more extensively to the United States. About the middle of this month, Thomas Rankine, who so successfully introduced the Hawker remedies in Newfoundland last spring, will start and traverse the western part of Canada, from Montreal to Vancouver in the interests of the company. With such a record as that of their first six months now closed, the Hawker Medicine Co. are evidently destined to achieve a great success. They control standard remedies, which have received the endorsement of leading physicians in Canada and the United States, as well as the fervent praise of sorely afflicted people who have by their means been restored to health.

Their place of business is at 104 Prince William Street, St. John, N. B., where they have the most extensive and elaborate fitted up premises in the city. The original inventor of the remedies, has been a druggist in St. John for 30 years, and had long proved the value of the different remedies before the present company was organized. It is with pleasure that this journal records the company's wonderful success.

The Test of Time.

William Holder, sailmaker, St. John, writes: "This is to certify that for nearly a year I suffered with dyspepsia, indigestion and severe bilious headaches. I consulted a number of physicians, but was recommended to use Hawker's Tonic and Pills, and am pleased to say that they have completely cured me. I gained flesh very fast, and became hearty and stronger than I had ever been, and have never suffered since, now over one year."

Notable failures are numerous in the State nowadays, but the latest and greatest is the failure of the Nicaragua Canal Construction Company, of which Hon. Warner Miller is president, into the hands of receivers. The Directors could not borrow $300,000 upon $19,000,000 of securities in order to pay floating debts of $255,000. This ends for the present a scheme by which much trade was expected to be diverted from British hands.

THE GREATER DYSPEPSIA CURE CO.

GENTLEMEN:—I am 71 years of age. Have been afflicted with sick headache most of my life, which developed into Dyspepsia of a mild type about twenty years ago, and has continued to grow worse until during the past seven or eight years I have not been able to take a drink of cold water or milk, as they would produce severe pains and sometimes vomiting. I have been subject to severe pains in the chest, with dizziness, which have been more frequent during the past three or four years. My mouth was furled up in the morning, accompanied with bad breath. My case was yearly growing worse.

During all this long period I have tried many popular medicines, as well as prescriptions from the regular medical practitioners, but without producing any improvement.

In the fall of '92 I concluded to try a bottle or two of your medicine and such were its effects that I continued it and now I can drink cold water or milk without any inconvenience. Those dizzy pains are all gone and my mouth is as sweet as a baby's. In short, your medicine has cured me and I am sure that all Dyspepsia can be cured by its use.

(Signed) W. H. ROGERS,
Late Inspector of Fisheries for Nova Scotia.

Boyesen, Alphonse Danst, Camille Flammarion, Edward Everett Hale, Professor Graham Bell and many others, have furnished material for especially prepared interviews, which will appear fully illustrated in this magazine.

HENRY M. STANLEY will contribute, especially for young readers, a story of AFRICAN ADVENTURE.

NATURAL HISTORY AND ADVENTURE.—There will be several articles written by Raymond Blathway, and have been called by Mr. W. T. Seal the best interview in England, from material furnished him by Carl Hagenback, of Hamburg, the great animal importer and trainer. These articles deal with the Capture of Wild Beasts, the Training of Wild Beasts, the Transportation of Wild Beasts, the Adventures and Escapes of Carl Hagenback. The series will be illustrated by an English artist of great skill in drawing animals.

JOHN BURROUGHES, C. F. HOLDER, DR. C. C. ABBOTT, and other writers famous for their work in this field, will contribute to the Magazine.

Of interest to both Young and Old will be PROF. R. L. GARNER'S AFRICAN EXPEDITION TO THE GORILLAS. Arrangements have been made, in connection with a leading English review, to publish Professor Garner's letters descriptive of his present expedition to Africa. Professor Garner is noted the world over for the curious and interesting investigations he is making in the speech of monkeys. He sailed for Africa last September for the purpose of further pursuing his studies in the native haunts of the gorilla. The illustrations of these articles will be from photographs taken by Prof. Garner in Africa.

McCLURE'S MAGAZINE also contains most interesting articles under the heading "The Edge of the Future," "Newest Knowledge," "Knowledge of Immediate Value," "The Present Hour," "Stranger than Fiction," etc.

LIFE'S TORTURE.

Headache, of course, of course, is a terrible affliction, which comes on periodically, about every 15 days. I had been suffering for 2 years with it, and had no relief. I had tried every remedy, but to no avail. I was unable to work, and my appetite was gone. I was a nervous wreck, and my life was a constant torture. I was a constant failure in my business, and my life was a constant failure. I was a constant failure in my business, and my life was a constant failure.
