Everybody should attend as both the green race and 45 class are pretty well filled.

Saturday, 28th.—Young men's gym. class at 8 p. m.

Sunday, 29th.—Young men's rally in the reading room at 4 o'clock.

The meeting in the reading room yesterday was largely attended. R. H. Fitzgerald, Esq., gave a talk, his subject being "Christian Moralities." The address was thoughtful and able, and was delivered in an earnest and impressive manner.

His references to the opposite of manliness, viz., cowardice, brutality, and discourtesy, were pointed and plain. These faults, he claimed, were all more or less guilty of, and consequently cause short of the true type of manhood.

By overcoming these and others, which he enumerated, in the small things of our daily life and striving to emulate the principles which govern Christ's life, realizing our oneness to God and brotherhood to man we would achieve something of manliness.

The Educational Committee will contemplate the arrangement of the educational classes early in November, at its meeting Wednesday evening.

Our membership is on the up grade. It will help us if all our members will make a pull in this line now. Renewals are in order.

Quite a number of Prince of Wales College students were received into membership last week. It will be noticed by the Bulletin that a special gymnasium class has been arranged for them.

A gymnasium class, exclusively for business and professional men, will be started the first week in November.

The prospects will be out in a few days.

Next Sunday's meeting will be addressed by Mr. Percé, Pope. The young man and his duty as a citizen.

LOTS FOR SALE

MONDAY OCT 23 1893

TO-DAY a World's Real Estate Congress, held under the auspices of the National Real Estate Association, opens in Chicago. It will continue through the week. The arrangements for the gathering were made with President Bonney of the World's Congress Auxiliary, and all the principal cities on this side of the Atlantic are represented by real estate experts. A strong contingent is also present from abroad.

This (Monday) morning our great sale begins, embracing CLOTHS and FURNISHINGS. We will sell regardless of the weather as much as possible of everything we keep in stock. We reserve nothing, and rest assured if you come first you will be served first. Don't be delicate about entering if you see a crowd, because if you wait for an empty store you may lose your job—waiting for an opportunity. Press to the front; let your wants be known, when we will show you what bargains we are giving. It would be silly in me to even make an effort to enumerate them, so you have to come and see for yourself. To buy your goods, join the grand chorus, "Hurrah for the Star Tailor."
