Questionnaire Approach Seen Out For Anglers

OTTAWA (CP) — Biologists and economists searching for statistics on sport fishing may have to forget the questionnaire approach—Canadians are tired of being asked questions.

G. W. Andrews of the bureau of statistics' industry division, told the final session of a symposium on the economic aspects of sports fishing of the fact-gathering problem.

"There's a noticeable resistance developing to government inquiries" and to statistic takers in Canada, he said.

Sport fishing was particularly difficult to get facts on as "it's not even an industry." Respondents in commercial fisheries were large in numbers, spread widely and also difficult to assess.

Game fishing was "an activity within our conceptual framework." The bureau was concerned with "what should be measured and when?" What was the demand for such information?

One scientist wanted to know how to get "an economic evaluation out of the fishermen — and I've seen them 15 feet apart — with a radio playing the world series on one side, a cooler of beer on the other, their family in the background — and their fishing line out with a bell on it, which they hope won't ring"

Fact:

January is the best time to buy a new car

Here's why.

First, it's a matter of dollars and cents

Traditionally, January is the slowest month in the car business.

As a rule, people don't buy new cars in January. They buy in the fall or they hold off until spring and summer. A lot of car dealers write January off.

But not Rambler Dealers. Not this year. They're going to buck tradition.

Rambler Dealers have built up a great sales momentum. (November sales alone were 50% more than the same period a year ago.) They won't stop now. They're going to drive right over the January sales barrier.

How? With the right product and the greatest deals of the entire year. Your Rambler Dealer wants to sell cars. He's offering superb deals that can't be beaten—this month or any other month.

For 31 days, you won't find Rambler Dealers in Canada writing January off. They'll be working hard, making the best deals you've ever seen. Prove it to yourself. Talk to the Rambler Dealer in your neighbourhood.

Second, it's a matter of common sense

If you nurse your present car through the winter with the intention of trading it come spring, you may be making a mistake. Will it be completely comfortable? Are you certain it will perform safely and efficiently through the long, tough winter?

Why put up with discomfort? Uncertainty? Needless expense?

You won't have to with a new Rambler—the Canadian car built for Canadian conditions. Only Rambler gives you such exclusive features as:

Deep-Dip Rustproofing—the world's best rustproofing. The body of every Rambler gets a "dunking." It's dipped right to its roofline in rustproofing solution six separate times.

Rambler's Ceramic-Armored Muffler and Tailpipe are made of galvanized metal covered with a heat-resistant shield to resist corrosion, exactly like the inside of your oven at home.

Unique roof insulation with Fiberglass Roof-liners holds warm air in, keeps cold air out. Rambler's Double Door Seals halt chilly drafts.

Single Unit Construction with Uniside makes every Rambler body strong, safe, lastingly rattle-free.

Double Safety Brakes give you extra protection against rugged winter conditions.

In addition, Rambler offers you its superb Weather-Eye Heater for complete comfort all winter long; a heavy-duty battery for peak starting power on the coldest mornings; an alternator that charges your battery even while your engine is idling; Twin-Grip Differential for safe, sure going; and plastic kick panels to resist snow and slush tracked in by driver and passengers.

Because of its no-nonsense protection against Canadian conditions, your Rambler will stand up to the worst that Old Man Winter dishes out.

And here's the best part: Come spring, your Rambler will still be a new car! How can you beat that?
