House Committee Cautious In Deciding Party Status

OTTAWA (CP) — The Commons privileges committee, after an hour-long wrangle over whether to tackle at its first meeting the question of status of smaller parties in the Commons has decided to take a more deliberate approach.

About the only matter unanimously agreed on was the election of Alexis Caron, parliamentary secretary to Prime Minister Pearson, as committee chairman.

Mr. Caron, MP for Hull, finally was instructed to select a six-member steering committee in consultation with all the political groups. The steering committee was to prepare an agenda for a meeting of the full committee today "if possible."

The question before the committee involves the seating arrangements and precedence in debate of the New Democratic Party and the two Social Credit groups—one headed by Social Credit Leader Thompson and the other by Creditiste Leader Real Caouette.

The New Democrats claim recognition as the Commons third party by reason of having 17 MPs, behind the 139 Liberals and 95 Progressive Conservatives.

Social Credit, which split into two groups during the summer recess, at present occupies the third-ranking position. Its two wings are battling for recognition as the fourth party.

Mr. Caouette and his 12 followers claim their numbers give them the fourth spot. Mr. Thompson and 10 followers argue the Creditistes aren't really a party and the Thompson group should have the fourth position.

The 29 - member privileges committee was almost at full strength for its first meeting of the session and had a full gallery of spectators, including Commons Speaker Alan Macnaughton who asked the Commons Monday to decide the tangled question of party recognition and small party precedence.

Millions Leak For Lotteries, Commons Told

OTTAWA (CP) — Millions of dollars leak out of Canada each year for foreign lotteries and sweepstakes, speakers said in a Commons debate on a privately sponsored bill that would permit provincial lotteries.

The bill got nowhere, but there was general agreement that the federal government should act in this regard.

Guy Rouleau (L — Montreal Dollard) said he is sure the present government will amend the Criminal Code to let individual provinces establish sweepstakes and lotteries if they wish.

The bill was sponsored by Louis Joseph Pigeon (PC — Joliette - L'Assomption - Montcalm) for the purpose of permitting hospital and university sweepstakes. But it had not come to a vote when the hour devoted to it had passed.

Barry Mather (NDP — New Westminster) said "we have a law on sweepstakes that is laughed at."

Gov't To Double Training Rate Of Unemployed

OTTAWA (CP) — The government is aiming at almost doubling the rate at which the unemployed are trained in new skills, the Commons has been informed.

Labor Minister MacEachen "would like to see the rate of training of the unemployed reach a level of 70,000 over the next 12 months from the level of 38,000 which was achieved during the last fiscal year" ended March 31, his parliamentary secretary James Byrne reported.

He was introducing a resolution increase federal contributions to federal - provincial programs encouraging vocational and technical training.

Mr. Byrne said the bill will raise the federal share of training unemployed persons to 90 per cent from 75 and also raise the training costs paid by the federal government to 75 per cent from 50.

The bill is expected to come up within the next two weeks.

The parliamentary secretary said that the importance of training the jobless in new skills cannot be over-estimated. Many of the unemployed were not suited to expanding employment opportunities because of their low levels of education and skill.

Foreign Exchange Reserves Make Strong Recovery

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada's foreign exchange reserves registered a strong recovery in September, Finance Minister Gordon has reported.

A heavy drain on reserves of United States dollars and gold occurred during the latter part of July and August following the July 18 announcement of the planned U.S. government "interest equalization" tax on American purchases of foreign securities.

Reserves at Sept. 30 rose by $97,800,000 to $2,568,300,000 from $2,470,500,000 at Aug. 30.

After the U.S. announcement July 18, reserves at July 31 droppedby $190,600,000 to $2,-501,000,000 from the end-of-June total of $2,691,600,000. This was followed by a further decline of $30,500,000 in August.

The U.S. administration agreed to exempt new Canadian securities issued from the tax, but the levy will apply to American investor purchases of outstanding Canadian stock and bond issues and other investments, retroactive to July 19. In the past, inflows of American capital from such purchases have been an important factor in helping to offset Canada's international payments deficit on trade and other current transactions.

Private School Takeover Vetoed By British Labor

SCARBOROUGH, England (Reuters.—A proposal that the state school system take over the now - considerable private sector of education — including such well - known "public schools" as Eton and Harrow—was defeated resoundingly at the Labor party conference here.

The vote was 5,200,000 to 1,068,000 against the idea of nationalizing British public schools, which are fee-charging private institutions operating independently of the state school system.

Plan Offered To Speed Up High Schools

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York board of education has received a plan to put high school students on an eight-hour day instead of the present six and give them an opportunity to complete the normal four years in two.

The plan was reported by a special committee of present and former principals. They made a two-year study at the suggestion of the high school division of the board of education.

The committee will meet with the board's deputy superintendents on Oct. 18 to attempt to set up a pilot project.

Among major points in the concept is the abolition of grade levels and of the Carnegie unit system, which sets the points for each subject.

A student would proceed at his own pace, completing the normal span of study in two, three or four years. He would not be allowed to shift from one area of knowledge to another until he had mastered the subjects to the satisfaction of his teachers.

The working hours of teachers would be 40 a week instead of the present 32 and they would get salary increases of about 33 per cent.

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
Pass (!)	Pass	2♠	2♠
7♥	?	?	?

When the French team was on its way to Buenos Aires to participate in the world championship in 1961, they stopped off in Brazil and played a few exhibition matches against the native talent. Here is a hand in which the French scintillated but did not shine!

Bacherich, holding the North hand for France, decided to pass. The Brazilian East (Alvarenga) also passed, and South (Deru) opened with two clubs.

The Brazilian West (Amaral) inquired about the meaning of the bid and was told that it indicated a strong hand and that the bid was forcing to game, though it did not necessarily show a club suit.

West thereupon bid two spades, over which Bacherich jumped to seven hearts. East was naturally taken aback by this unexpected development and took some time before finally deciding to pass. After South passed, West had to choose between running the risk his opponents might make a vulnerable grand slam, and making a sacrifice bid of seven spades.

Seven spades. At this point Bacherich suggested that perhaps the tournament director should be called, since West's seven spade bid might have been based on East's studied pass over seven hearts.

Deruy now spoke up and pointed out that this was a friendly match and that technicalities should be waived, and that in any case the question was only academic, since he intended to bid seven notrump—which was doubled and defeated seven tricks—2,000 points!

Since the Brazilian pair at the other table bid and made seven hearts with the North - South cards for a score of 2,210 points, the outcome was that the French team lost 4,210 points on this one deal.

The moral of this tale is not exactly clear—but the hand did help to cement cordial international relations.
