Their Holiday Included a Revolution

Among the few persons with a first-hand knowledge of Guatemala in a state of revolution, or invasion, whichever it is, are Gerard Fabry and Frank Baker of Cambridge, Mass. On a holiday motor trip to Rio de Janeiro, they turned up at Guatemala City with a story of having been stopped by trigger-happy police and "citizens' committees" of armed peasants who were even more nervous with their trigger fingers. They reported that the government had armed the peasants to fight the rebels.

President Speaks at W. I. Convention

"Be informed on all levels of citizenship," was the advice of Mrs. Michael Doyle, President P.E. Island Women's Institutes at a district convention in Graham's Road Hall on June 24.

Mrs. Doyle offered congratulations on the beautifully renovated hall, artistically decorated for the occasion with many baskets and bouquets of cut flowers and potted plants. She thanked the district president, Mrs. Reginald Haslam of Springfield, the secretary treasurer, Mrs. Arthur Proffitt, Margate, and the executive for a special invitation to speak at this meeting.

The speaker, who had attended the 7th triennial conference of the A.C.W.W. in Toronto in 1953, gave a very interesting account of the meetings held there, and told of visiting Stoney Creek where the first Women's Institute was organized by Adelaide Hoodless. It was a Canadian too, Mrs. Alfred Watt, who carried the idea to England. An interesting comment made at this point, was to the effect that Miss Lena MacLure of Charlottetown who represents P.E. Island Institutes in the British Isles, had recently addressed a W.I. Conference in Wales, taking for her subject matter, Farm practices in P.E.I., with the Senator Jones farm, the Keith Boswell farm and Mrs. Doyle's own farm as specific examples.

Mrs. Doyle reminded her hearers that the A.C.W.W. (Associated Country Women of the World) recognizes no barriers of color, race or religion, and went on to tell of the set-up of the meetings, separated into eight discussion groups, each with a leader. She pointed out that the lack of education and poverty, are at the root of world problems to-day, and said that "unless people the world over have a reasonable living standard, we have no hope for peace." In speaking of conservatory of nature's rich resources, she said conservation should be taught at all levels. "For nature's resources, are not inexhaustible." Conservation is today a very urgent study, and distribution is almost equally important.

Urging the study of citizenship, not only as it affects ourselves, but other women of the world, she paid tribute to the late Mrs. Wyand, whose ideas, one of which was the suggested study of Indian women, were ahead of her time. Mrs. Doyle paid warm tribute to the past president of A.C.W.W., Mrs. Raymond Sayre, whom she described as not only the most clever woman to whom she had ever listened but tactful and charming to a high degree. Mrs. Haslam thanked the president for her inspiring address.

Gillis - Goan Wedding

A beautiful summer wedding of widespread interest was solemnized in the church of St. Vincent de Paul in Oranocoto, New Brunswick, on Saturday, the nineteenth day of June, when Mary Theresa, daughter of Oranocoto, became the bride of John Angus Hugh Gillis, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Gillis of Charlottetown, Prince Edward Island. The nuptial mass was celebrated by Reverend Father Joseph Daley.

The brass altar vases contained lavender snapdragon and the sanctus was banked with white snowballs and asparagus fern. Prof. Charles MacIvor of Saint John was organist and Miss Emily Malcolm of New Glasgow was soloist.

The bride was attended by Miss Joan Gillis of Winnipeg, sister of the groom, Miss Hazel Goan, sister of the bride, Miss Mary Gilbert of Oranocoto and Miss Patricia Ahern of Halifax. The groomsmen were Dr. Frank O'Keefe of McAdam and the usher were Mr. Edison Baker of Summerside, Mr. William Duffie of Oranocoto and Mr. Patrick McAdam of Fredericton.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a bouffant gown of crisp white nylon tulle. The fitted bodice was hand-embroidered with a raised gold thread, having an inserted cuff of softly pleated tulle and cut away jacket with bracelet length sleeves. Her chapel veil of French tulle illusion, fell softly from a tiara of seed pearls. Her bouquet was of Lily of the Valley. The bridesmaids floor length gowns were identical to the brides in delicate apple green. They carried bouquets of stasias daisies and wore matching bandeaux and short white gloves.

Mrs. Goan, mother of the bride, was wearing a floor length gown of cinnamon summer crepe with a panel of cinnamon lace over lime; and her close fitted hat was covered with tiny flowers of a lime shade. Her corsage was of bronze roses and she carried a mink scarf. Mrs. Gillis, mother of the groom, wore a full skirted floor length gown of iridescent blue having a Nile green panel and a tiny model hat of blue French mohair. Her corsage was of pink roses.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Lord Beaverbrook Hotel, Fredericton. The toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. W. W. Hubbard and the groom happily responded and proposed a toast to the brides attendants to which the groomsmen responded. Miss Noreen Donahue was in charge of the guest book. For travelling the bride wore a fitted suit of scarlet silk shantung with a white coin dot, and a white straw cloche, and carried a white straw cloche, and carried a white straw cloche.
