The Citizens' Band accompanied the firemen, and played well, of course. The display was highly creditable to all concerned.

The ball given at Government House last evening by His Honor the Lieutenant Governor and Mrs. Carvell in honor of the visit of their Excellencies the Governor-General and the Lady Stanley of Preston, was, as anticipated, a most pleasant affair.

This forenoon His Excellency visited the Colleges and Schools of Charlottetown. The Lady Stanley of Preston was, on account of some slight indisposition, unable to accompany him. The first visit was to St. Dunstan's College. Here His Excellency and those by whom he was accompanied were greeted and welcomed by His Lordship the Bishop of Charlottetown, the Coadjutor Bishop of Irla, Rector of the College, the teaching staff and a number of the clergy of the diocese. Proceeding to the upper hall, he found the students massed and standing ready to receive him. A piano solo was played by one of the students, and then Mr. Peter Cullen stepped forward and read and presented the following address:

To His Excellency the Right Honorable Sir Frederick Arthur Stanley, Baron Stanley of Preston, Knight Grand Cross of the Most Honorable Order of the Bath, Governor-General of Canada.

WELCOME TO LORD AND LADY STANLEY. A greeting we would bring thee, With loyal heart and hand: True welcome would we sing thee, The ruler of our land.

Then a welcome we will give thee, A loyal welcome bring: With happy hearts we greet thee, As joyfully we sing. Thou comest in the Autumn, The Summer's tale is told, The forest leaves are turning, To brown and red and gold; With sheaf and fruit and flower, With leaves of Autumn here, To thee and to thy Lady, We give a welcome here.

Then followed the singing of the "Maple Leaf" and a very pretty kindergarten song. Four of the girls of the school also sang beautifully the song "Where the Lilies Bloom." The song, composed by the National Anthem after the Hon. His Excellency, at the invitation of W. E. Dawson, Esq., went to the top of the building to view the surrounding country from that elevated point of view.

Then he went to the Convent de Notre Dame. The scene and the welcome here were in a high degree artistic and pleasing. The room in which the children were gathered to receive His Excellency was decorated with great taste. On the walls were the words in beautiful letters, "Welcome," "Prosperity," "Happiness," "Honored Guests." His Excellency was greeted with a musical welcome upon piano and violin and harp, and the voices of the children blended beautifully in an ode of welcome. We regret that THE EXAMINER has been unable to obtain a copy of either the ode or the addresses in English or French which were presented to His Excellency. He was, evidently, delighted with his reception, and delivered a very feeling and felicitous address in reply to the addresses. Before departing, he paid a visit to the teachers and pupils of St. Ann's School, who were assembled in another school. From Convent de Notre Dame His Excellency proceeded to St. Joseph's Convent, on Pownal Street. Word had previously been conveyed to the Mother Superior that he would be unable, for want of time, to visit this school. This information was the cause of much disappointment and regret. The most elaborate preparations had been made for the reception of His Excellency and Lady Stanley. The hall of the school had been beautifully draped with blue and white, and the fruit of the vine, the walls, too, were tinted, with the object of heightening the effects by the introduction of artificial light, and two hundred girls dressed in white were ready to take their parts in giving a hearty welcome to the honored representative of their Queen. The information that he couldn't come was a keen disappointment to the pupils. To divert their attention they were occupied in taking down the decorations. Just as they had finished and the school had been dismissed, to the great surprise and pleasure of the ladies of the Convent, His Excellency called upon them and promised to make up for their disappointment by visiting the School when next he comes to the Province. The following is the address which had been prepared for presentation:—

To His Excellency Lord Stanley, Governor-General of Canada. MAY I PLEASE YOUR EXCELLENCY: It is with emotions of joy and gratitude that we welcome you within the humble walls of St. Joseph's School. Such an honor far exceeded our most sanguine expectations: only yesterday, when all were hurrying off to witness the happy arrival of Your Excellencies, that we were led to think such a condensation possible.

We fully understand your exalted position in the Dominion, and how much the prosperity of this young and progressing country depends upon a wise and prudent head. Not only as such have we been taught to regard you, but also noble and good, and the guiding star beneath which peace and happiness exist, therefore, you have our warmest affection. The remembrance of this visit will be a lifelong pleasure for which we offer our gratitude to Your Excellency and the happy lady by your side, who so worthily shares your fame and your joys.

Accept, then, our ardent wishes for your happiness, and the assurance of our most profound respect. Queen Square School for boys was also disappointed by a message similar to that which had been conveyed to St. Joseph's Convent. West Kent Street School was the last visited by His Excellency. The hall of this school, too, was appropriately decorated with pictures of the Queen and several of the statesmen of Great Britain, besides evergreens and flowers, etc. Master John Lewis read the following address in behalf of the school, and a beautiful bouquet was presented for Lady Stanley:—

MAY I PLEASE YOUR EXCELLENCY: On behalf of the teachers and pupils of West Kent Street School, we welcome you, the representative of our beloved Queen, and your estimable Lady, to our Island Home. We fully appreciate the great honor Your Excellency has conferred upon us, and desire to state that we have noticed with pride that in every city honored by your presence you have visited its educational institutions and manifested deep interest in their work.

men sana in corpore sano," and reminding them that many of the best scholars of the Mother Country are the best at athletic pastimes. Taking leave of their Lordships and the clergy, His Excellency proceeded to Prince of Wales College and Normal School, where he was received with hearty cheers. The largest room in the College building was densely crowded by the scholars and those who accompanied His Excellency. Dr. Anderson delivered a short address of welcome to the distinguished visitor on behalf of his colleagues and himself; and one of the pupils read the following address:—

To His Excellency the Right Honorable Sir Frederick Stanley, Baron Stanley of Preston, in the County of Lancashire, in the Peerage of the United Kingdom, Knight Grand Cross of the Most Honorable Order of the Bath, Governor-General of Canada. MAY I PLEASE YOUR EXCELLENCY: We, the students of this College, named from the title borne by the illustrious eldest son of our beloved and gracious Queen, bid you, as her worthy representative, on this your first visit to our Island, a most hearty welcome.

While our institution may not be as ambitious as others in the Dominion of Canada, it has been the means of benefiting the youth that not a few of those who have graduated from its classic walls have won in Canadian and other universities. We thank Your Excellency for the honor of this visit, and for your kind remembrance of our institution every year in the medals awarded to the most successful of our number. This is and will be an eventful day to us, as you are the first Governor-General who has honored us with a visit; and we cannot allow this opportunity to pass without expressing that sincere spirit of loyalty that has ever characterized the Prince of Wales College.

His hope is that Your Excellency and the Lady Stanley of Preston, who evince such an interest in education, may cherish a pleasant recollection of us and our fair Island Home. In behalf of the College, LOUISE LAIRD, FAIRLIE DURANT, EDWIN P. ROBINS, P. J. TRAINER, GEORGE S. ISMAN, JOHN S. MARTIN.

Miss Ethel Scott then presented a beautiful bouquet of flowers for Lady Stanley. His Excellency thanked the students and replied to the address in a happy speech, after which the Professors were presented. Then the school sang "God save the Queen," and "Good bye Stanley."

Proceeding to Upper Prince Street School the evidences of feminine taste and ingenuity were at once apparent. A beautiful and fragrant arch of welcome spanned the gateway, and the upper hall in which the children were congregated was decorated with paintings and flowers, leaves and fruits, producing a most pleasing effect. On entering, His Excellency was welcomed by the school and the following—composed for the occasion by Miss Gregor—was beautifully sung:

WELCOME TO LORD AND LADY STANLEY. A greeting we would bring thee, With loyal heart and hand: True welcome would we sing thee, The ruler of our land. We own thy gentle sway; To this, our little Island, We welcome thee to day.

Then a welcome we will give thee, A loyal welcome bring: With happy hearts we greet thee, As joyfully we sing. Thou comest in the Autumn, The Summer's tale is told, The forest leaves are turning, To brown and red and gold; With sheaf and fruit and flower, With leaves of Autumn here, To thee and to thy Lady, We give a welcome here.

The following address was then presented to His Excellency, accompanied by a handsome bouquet for Lady Stanley: To His Excellency the Right Honorable Lord Stanley of Preston, Governor-General of the Dominion of Canada.

MAY I PLEASE YOUR EXCELLENCY: We the pupils of Upper Prince Street Public School, in the City of Charlottetown, greet Your Excellency with a cordial and loyal welcome, as the representative of our beloved and gracious Queen. We duly appreciate the great honor you have so kindly conferred on us and our school by your presence. This day will always be a red letter one in our remembrance. We hope that you will be favorably impressed with the educational advantages we enjoy in this city. Notwithstanding the lateness of the season we hope that Your Excellency and Lady Stanley will enjoy your visit to the Garden Province of the Gulf of St. Lawrence.

Signed on behalf of the School. LILLIAN ROBERTSON, LAURA YOUNG, DAISY NASH, BESSIE LEIGH, ANNIE READ, EDITH BOYER, NELLIE HODGSON, LILY TAYLOR, MAY DODD, WINNIE COTTON, MAGGIE JAMES.

We sincerely hope that the recollections of this day may long linger in your memory; and we assure you that your brief visit to the schools of this city has given us pleasure as deep as it was unexpected. To Your Excellency and Lady Stanley we tender our deep respect, and trust that during your stay among us you may be favored with glorious autumn weather, and health to enjoy it.

Members of the staff of each of the Schools were presented to His Excellency. His Excellency was accompanied on his visit by his aide-de-camp, Hon. A. A. Macdonald, Hon. T. H. Haviland, Hon. Neil McLeod, Hon. G. W. Bentley, Hon. D. Ferguson, Hon. H. L. Macdonald, the Chief Justice and Mrs. Sullivan, the Recorder and Mrs. Fitzgerald, the Superintendent of Education, Lieut.-Colonel Irving, W. E. Dawson, Esq., Thomas Foley, Esq., J. B. Macdonald, Esq., and others.

At half-past two the Local Government entertained their Excellencies at luncheon in the Legislative Council Chamber, which had been especially fitted up and decorated for the occasion. The menu was as follows:—

- MENU. Oysters on a Block of Ice. Soup Bouillon. Consomme au Riz. Roast Salmon. Tomato Sauce. Duck and Olives. Corned Beef. Tongue and Ham. Chartreuse of Oysters. Chicken and Lobster Salad. Mayonnaise Dressing. Potatoes a la Royal. Small Peas. Dressed Tomatoes. Lettuce. Wild Geese, Brant, Partridge, with Grape Jelly. Madeira, Orange and Fancy Jellies. Pine Apple Cream. Peach Meringue. Pompotte of Peas. Banana Custard. Gooseberry, Strawberry and Citron Tarts. Sponge Cake. Ladies' Cake. Spice Cake. Marmalade Squares. Fancy Biscuits. Jelly Tartlets. Muscadine and Hamburg Grapes. Celery. Cheese. Pearl Biscuits. Tea and Coffee.

The menu of the luncheon in the Legislative Library, the address of welcome by the children of Upper Prince Street School, and the order of dances at last night's ball at Government House, were printed in splendid style by Messrs. Haszard & Moore. The address and the menu were printed on satin. The arch which has been erected by Mr. Superintendent Unsworth, at the entrance of the passenger depot, is very greatly admired. His Excellency the Governor-General, this morning called at the station and personally thanked Mr. Unsworth for his kindness. His Excellency regretted that he would be unable during his present visit to avail himself of the pleasure of a drive on the Prince Edward Island Railway, but he hoped to have the pleasure of doing so at no very distant day. The arch is of the usual dimensions, beautifully trimmed with cedar, wreaths of autumn leaves and divers flags, the whole surmounted with a finely executed crown and Dominion coat of arms, while the pillars bear the motto "Welcome Stanley." We understand that Mr. Unsworth had also one of his best engines gallantly trimmed for the occasion had it been required.

To night their Excellencies will dine at Government House, and after dinner Mrs. Carvell will hold an "At Home." The weather to-day, as that of yesterday, was all that could be desired for the occasion. The Canada with our distinguished visitors on board, will sail for Pictou early to-morrow morning.

After the Ball. A cloud of lace, And a pale, sweet face— She is tired, she has danced too much, The dawn light lies On her dreamy eyes With a pitiful, tender touch. In the chill, soft air Of the morning, fair Of the churning, fair We wait for our equipage— Y et why should the smile On her face the while Seem mingled with grief and rage? Perhaps Love's pain Maketh pleasure vain— Ah! no—her poor heart is torn With a deeper woe, For her little too Is aching beneath its corn.

Weather Bulletin. Forecast, Oct. 24.—10 a. m. Winds increasing from eastward, strong or gales, increasing cloudiness and rain.

According to the Chicago Railway Age there have been 3,782 miles of new track laid on 21 x lines of railway in the states and territories since January 1, 1890. It is significant of the tremendous stride of industrial activity and development in the South States that over half of the new trackage (1,975 miles) has been laid in southern territory.
