Paying Dividends

THE wisdom of putting the roof on the grandstand was surely demonstrated last Saturday at Charlottetown Driving Park.

It started raining just before the first dash went away and by the time the second dash got going it was coming down rather abundantly. Had it been a year ago, the folks would have made for home and the race card would have been a dismal failure. But the rain bothered nobody Saturday and the CDP had its best night of the present campaign, with the exception of the night that The Evening Patriot Inaugural was held.

Of course, track conditions a year ago would undoubtedly have forced the judges to call a halt to proceedings. But the rain made little impression Saturday and things went along just as merrily as though the moon was shining brightly.

It was the first real test at the local driveway this season and folks in attendance just laughed at the rain.

Track conditions and the grandstand roof have sure solved a lot of problems.

Tough-Luck Bettor

ONE pari-mutuel bettor surely came close to a huge pay the other night at the local raceway.

This bettor had picked Mr. McElwyn Key in the first race and exchanged the ticket after the win for a Mary Leah ducat. He was the only one on this combination and stood to collect $1008 for his two dollar investment.

For a while it looked mighty good as Mary Leah and Little Doctor fought it out in the stretch. But Little Doctor won by a neck and the huge return didn't materialize for him.

The cruelest blow, however, was that Mary Leah outfooted Little Doctor the next trip and gave herself a new trotting mark. That would make anybody feel a little sick.

But that's the fortunes of horse racing. You can get so mighty close to these big ones and then see them slip through your fingers.

Crushing Blow To Cards

THAT was a tough blow on St. Louis Cardinals' pennant hopes Sunday when they fell twice before those most troublesome Philadelphia Phillies.

The Cards had closed the gap to within three and one-half lengths of the Dodgers but after Sunday's activity the Red Birds found themselves five games off the pace.

You just can't expect a team to keep on forever winning ball games. The law of average is bound to catch up with you and it did just that with the Cardinals Sunday. They had been playing great ball of late but they weren't nearly good enough for the Quaker City crew on Sunday.

Giants did manage to go into second place with that ten inning squeaker over the Chicago Cubs. It's these kind of decisions that make up a pennant winner and those hungry Giants realize this all too well. They were at Houston last night against those Colts and we hadn't the outcome when we stopped pounding the typewriter. Today they would be four or five lengths back of Dodgers, depending on what kind of a recption they received last night in Houston.

Great Pitching

DODGERS still aren't hitting the ball but they managed a pair of important decisions nevertheless on the weekend. Sandy Koufax and Johnny Podres each blanked the Colts. The Dodgers only got two runs for Sandy and four from Johnny. However, they did win both contests and that is what counts the most. It would seem as though the great Dodger pitching has returned. If it really has, then the other contending clubs can look for plenty of trouble in their attempts to overhaul the Alstonites.

For Koufax, Saturday's win was his 18th of this season and for Podres it was number 11. Ten of Koufax's wins have been shutouts, tying Mort Cooper's record of 1942. He seems almost certain to break the Cooper mark unless injury strikes the talented moundsman.

Dodgers' hopes look much brighter than they did a few days ago. Alston is beginning to show a trace of a smile once again.

MISS LINDA McGILL, above, won the Maritime Women's Junior Golf Championship at the Belvedere Golf and Winter Club last evening with a low gross score of 103. Her nearest competitor was Holly MacMillan of Charlottetown who finished with 115.

Allan Roth Stars As LA Statistician

By CHARLES MAHER

LOS ANGELES (AP) — If baseball statistics really do drive people out of their minds, Montreal-born Allan Roth of the Los Angeles Dodgers has done as much as any other living man to keep the nation from going sane.

Roth, 46, and the only full-time statistician employed by any baseball club, generally works at least a dozen hours a day during the season, taking about five times as long to assemble his records on a game as the Dodgers take to play one.

Roth has come up with the most elaborate statistical library ever assembled for one baseball team.

His records are housed in six filing cabinets, a steel locker about seven feet high and three feet wide, a couple of briefcases, half his pockets, the currency section of his wallet and the lower left hand corner of his brain.

Roth even has statistics on statistics. Since he joined the Dodgers in 1947, when they were still in Brooklyn, he has recorded every pitch in every Dodger game, except for a month in 1951 when he scouted the American League contenders.

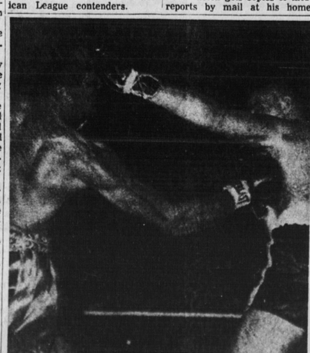
Figuring there are about 275 pitches in a game, Roth has recorded about 700,000 of them —as called strikes, swinging strikes, foul strikes, balls and so forth.

But recording pitches and plays on his complex 17-by-14 inch scoresheet is just a fragment of his work.

In his records, for example, there is a card for each of about 225 players on the other nine National League teams. If the player is a catcher, infielder or outfielder, his card shows his batting performance against each Dodger pitcher—this season, last season and over his career.

If the player is a pitcher, his card shows his record against each Dodger hitter over the same periods. The cards are prepared for use by manager Walter Alston.

Between seasons, Roth prepares a six or seven-page statistical report on each Dodger player. In addition to the conventional batting and pitching records, these reports contain such rarely accumulated facts as what per cent of the time a batter pulls the ball and how often he hits to the opposite field. Alston gets copies of these reports by mail at his home.



HOLDS ON TO TITLE

Canadian Middleweight Champion Blair Richardson of South Bar, N.S. made an easy defence of his title in Glace Bay against Ron Brothers of Saint John, N.B. The fight was stopped at two minutes and 15 seconds of the fourth round in the scheduled 12-rounder.

Stars Victorious 3-1 Over Dodgers

The Stars behind the pitching of Donnie MacLean defeated the Dodgers 3-1 in a rain- shortened baseball contest last evening.

MacLean handed out five hits over the six inning distance while striking out five.

Pot MacDonald was on the mound for the losers and gave up a total of eight hits. He struck out seven.

The losers picked up their only run of the game in the first inning. In this frame Bobby Lund led off with a double and after one was out, three straight hits by Jack Kane, Bob Rice and Wayne MacDougall brought in the marker.

The 1-0 lead held until the third inning when the Stars moved into the lead to stay.

Joe Gallant started things off with a single. Bernie Gallant and Donnie MacLean rounded things off with singles and in between two runs scored.

They picked up their final tally in the fifth frame on a walk to Wayne MacDonald and a single by Rolan Connelly.

In tonight's game the Rovers and Stars meet at 6.15.

Two Horses Lower Marks At Ch'town Driving Park

Norine Clegg and Miss Cool Eyes emerged double dash victors at last night's harness racing program at Charlottetown Driving Park.

Norine grabbed dashes four and eight, edging stable mate Deceiver in both outings. Miss Cool Eyes, chalking up her first victories of the present campaign, did it with loads to spare in each trip.

In the feature event, Elmer C and Spensive Spud took turns at heading the six-horse field. Elmer took the first jaunt in 2.11:2 but Spensive Spud roared to victory in 2.09:2 in the night's finale. It was a new mark for the new addition to Island racing.

Miss Fury and Ray Grattan Up had identical summaries in the event for non-winners of $700 in 1963. Miss Fury had too much for the pack in her first try, winning in 2.13:4 but Ray Grattan Up stormed home in the stretch in the second mile to win in 2.13. Miss Fury and Ray Grattan Up had a 4 to accompany their 1 in the summary. Dreamy Guy was runnerup in the first mile and Captain Chief chased Ray Grattan Up home in the final trip.

In the single dash affair, it was Dr. Alex racing to a new record of 2.14:3.

The first daily double, Doctor Alex and Miss Cool Eyes, was the top pay of the night, $56.00. The quinella, Miss Fury and Dreamy Guy, was worth $26.60. The second double, Norine Clegg and Elmer C, gave a return of $17.60 and the exactor cash return was $7.30.

Rain fell at intervals throughout the program but things went on without interruption. Next race card at the CDP is Thursday night.

Yastrzemski Calls Shot To Lead In Batting Race

By BEN OLAN

NEW YORK (AP)—It was spring training time and Carl Yastremski told a writer: "I think this is the year I'm going to have a good shot at the batting title."

Now, with two-thirds of the American League season in the books, the young Boston outfielder appears to have called his shot. He is lodged comfortably in first place with a .331 average, 19 points ahead of runners-up Al Kaline of Detroit and Rich Rollins of Minnesota.

Yastrzemski, who hit .266 and .296 in his first major league seasons, tacked three points onto his average in last week's games with 10 hits in 27 tries. Meanwhile, Kaline dropped 11 points to .312 with a five-point gain on nine safeties in 24 trips.

Boston's Frank Malone dropped to fourth place, losing 13 points to .306. The veteran third baseman managed only two hits in 22 attempts, an .091 pace. Leon Wagner and Albie Pearson of the Los Angeles Angels are deadlocked for fifth at .304.

Dick Groat of St. Louis continued to set the National League pace with .344. He picked up three points with an 11-for-29 performance. Roberto Clemente of Pittsburgh held second place at .334, an increase of five points over last week. Tommy Davis of the Los Angeles Dodgers moved up one notch to third at .327 with a 9-for-22 showing that lifted his average six points.

Groat won the NL batting crown in 1960 while Clemente won it in 1961 and Davis in 1962.

Tony Gonale of Philadelphia slumped one place to fourth at .320 while Hank Aaron advanced one place to fifth at .317. Gonzalez fell four points eight hits in 29 tries and Aaron gained one point with 10 safeties in 31 at bats.

Aaron drove in 10 runs and boosted his leading RBI total to 92. He also slammed a couple of homers, putting him one behind Willie McCovey of San Francisco. McCovey has 32 homers and Aaron 31.

Roommates Bob Allison and Harmon Killebrew of Minnesota are tied for the American League home run lead at 25. Allison hit three homers last week while Killebrew had a pair. Dick Stuart of Boston collected six RBI last week and tied Kaline for the top spot. Each has 70.

Irish Capture Semi-Finals

The BIS Shamrocks pounded Barry's Lions 1-4 last night in City Softball League action.

The victory for the Irish team was their third straight in the best of five set and gave them the right to advance into the finals against the winner of the series between the National Park All-Stars and the Main Brace Mariners.

Portsider Sterling Simms was on the mound for the winners and was credited with the victory. He only allowed three hits over the seven inning route.

Art Ballem started for the Lions and was relieved by Roy MacConnell in the third frame. Between them they gave up a total of 11 hits.

The Shamrocks moved into a 3-0 lead in the first frame by picking up three runs on only two hits. The big blow of the inning was a double by right - fielder Lester Taylor.

They added three more tallies in the next inning with second sacker Charlie Weatherbie clouting a home run, after Bull Dunn had reached on an error and Hennessey had singled.

The losers collected their first marker in the fourth frame to make the score read 6-1 as Jerry Kane was the first batter for the Lions to garner a hit.

The winners blew the game wide open in the last of the fifth with five more runs. Simms led the attack in this inning with a home run.

The Irish added two more insurance runs in the next inning before Barry's put up their best batting spree of the game in the final inning when they collected their other two hits and their final two runs.

Tonight's action sees the Mariners and the All-Stars doing battle. The game is scheduled to start at 6.15.
