

Ask Summit Talk To 'Avert War'

BERLIN (AP)—East Germany and Poland called Monday for an East-West summit conference to avert the danger of war.

The two Communist states, in a joint communique, urged chiefs of the great powers to renew negotiations on disarmament and creation of a central European zone free of atomic weapons.

"This will contribute to reducing the danger of armed conflict in Europe," said the communique signed by Walter Ulbricht and Wladyslaw Gomulka, Communist party bosses of East Germany and Poland. The communique was issued shortly after Ulbricht returned to Berlin from a six-day visit to Poland.

Gomulka joined with Ulbricht in demanding the ouster of West-ern troops from Berlin and acceptance of the Soviet proposals to turn the isolated metropolis into a free city.

But the two Communist leaders, in sounding a call for a summit parley, did not indicate that Moscow was ready to place Berlin on the agenda.

The communique offered no encouragement to those Western statesmen who favor a top-level conference with the Russians on the whole German problem, including Berlin. It insisted that German reunification is a matter for the two German states to settle themselves. The West has long demanded German reunification through free elections.

Four Belgian Explorers Are Reported Safe

LONDON (Reuters)—The crew of a Belgian plane which crashed Thursday in the Antarctic has been saved, the official Soviet news agency Tass announced today.

The plane was carrying four Belgians, including Prince Antoine de Ligne, son-in-law of Grand Duchess Charlotte of Luxembourg, and Capt. Gaston de Gerache, 39-year-old leader of the Belgian Antarctic expedition.

A Russian rescue plane equipped with skis found the crashed plane two days ago. But the occupants had already left the scene for a Belgian supply base about 80 miles away.

They left a note in the wrecked plane saying they had only enough food to last until today.

The Soviet rescue plane, piloted by Viktor Perov, had made repeated efforts to find the Belgians as they trekked across the dangerous, crevasse-scarred terrain.

Tass said today it was Perov who had found the explorers.

Tass said the rescue plane found the men standing near a tent and took them to the Belgian King Baudouin base.

Tass, quoting reports from the Soviet Antarctic base at Mirny, gave no further details of the rescue.

LONDON (Reuters)—The Soviet government has refused to take part in talks on freedom of information and travel for British journalists in the Soviet Union, the House of Commons was told Monday.

Labor member Desmond Donnelly had asked what the government had done to obtain reciprocal facilities for British newspaper men in Russia similar to those given to Russian newspaper men in Britain.

John Profumo, joint under-secretary for foreign affairs, said: "In April of this year, the government proposed to the Soviet government that talks should be held on various aspects of freedom of information, including freedom of travel for journalists to any area within the Soviet Union and freedom to send uncensored news reports out of the country."

"The Soviet government refused to take part in such talks."
