Thompson Relatives Located Here

About the year 1853 a young man, John Thomas Thompson, aged 17, of French River, left P. E. I. and located in Pontiac, Michigan. He married and had a family who in turn raised families until today there are quite a number of John Thomas Thompson's descendants living in Pontiac and vicinity. In those early days means of communication were so primitive that the Thompsons of P. E. I. lost contact with those in Michigan until last week when John T. Thompson's grand-daughter, Mrs. Cameron, came to P. E. I. to locate her relatives here.

He was accompanied by her husband and her nephews, Tommy Thompson and his wife, Mrs. Cameron enquired through the columns of The Guardian and continued to speak to many people she met about her search for relatives and was rewarded when she was sent to her second cousin, William Thomson, Margate Road, Kensington. Here the visitors had a great reunion with Billy and his family, his mother and his sister Olive, who took them to French River where they saw the farmsteads and the graves of the Thompsons who first landed in America. The visitors were greatly taken with the beauties of P. E. I. and wondered how their grandfather could leave such a beautiful place. They took several rolls of moving picture films to show at their annual Thompson reunion in Michigan, and were delighted with their visit. They were greatly surprised by the size of P. E. I. as they expected to find a small place with one post office in Charlottetown.

It is quite a coincidence that Mrs. Cameron has been an outstanding primary grade teacher just as her cousin Olive is an outstanding Grade One teacher in Kensington School for a number of years.
