Chinese Reverse Charge; India Is Said Aggressor

By WATSON SIMS
NEW DELHI (AP) — Communist China has countered India's charge of border aggression by calling India the aggressor. Indian patrols, it declared, have entered Tibet.

Prime Minister Nehru disclosed this Friday and said "there is a big argument over it."

He told Parliament his government will issue within the next week a white paper on the tense border situation, including correspondence with the Chinese. He said the countercharge was made in a fairly long note that arrived from Peking Thursday.

"They accuse us of aggression against their (Tibetan) border," he said. "Obviously their version does not tally with ours. They have given the names of some places where they said the aggression took place and we are looking into it."

He said he does not understand the Chinese border attacks.

SHOW SOMETHING DEEPER
"I don't know whether it is local aggressiveness to show us our place or something deeper," he said.

He described as a reprehensible affront Peking's action in circulating maps claiming for China broad sections of Ladakh province, Assam, the northeast frontier agency and other Indian regions.

Nehru told Parliament he still feels "these two great nations of Asia — India and China — must have friendly relations."

"It would be a tragedy for Asia and the whole world if they should develop some permanent condition of hostility."

WON'T BE BULLIED
He made the points that: India will not allow itself to be bullied, but is quite willing to submit the border disputes to arbitration by anyone agreed to by both parties.

India has no wish to push things to the point where there is no recourse but to arms.

India will persevere in attempts to retain the friendship of Peking "even though it sometimes is hard to feel friendly when we see our people not being treated courteously and when we get communications singularly lacking in courtesy."

Nehru again declared his opposition to a debate on Tibet's situation in the United Nations, as urged by the Dalai Lama, a royal refugee in India.

"What earthly good would come of a debate for anybody?" Nehru asked. "It would be an acrimonious discussion after the cold war fashion—nothing more."

NO ARMY FOR TIBET
"Nobody is going to send an army to Tibet. If they couldn't send an army to Hungary (where Russia crushed a revolt in 1956) in the heart of Europe, how on earth could anyone think they would send an army to Tibet?"

Among other developments:

1. Kushak Bakul, Indian Kashmir's minister for the affairs of Ladakh province, declared in Srinagar that the Chinese Communists have fixed November "for their advance on Ladakh."
2. From Leh, the Ladakh province capital, came a report that the Chinese are building bases, including airports, at the Tibetan towns of Rudok and Gartok.
3. India's charge of aggression was based on intrusions by Communist China's units 1,000 miles apart in the Himalayas — into Ladakh and the northeast frontier agency.

President Rests With Golf Round

By JOHN HEFFERNAN
AYR, Scotland (Reuters)—President Eisenhower breezed around a tricky golf course near his weekend castle home Friday, but his travelling White House indicated he was far from relaxing his line on policy back home.

While Eisenhower had his first golf game since leaving the United States 10 days ago, press secretary James Hagerty announced the president's decision to veto the revised housing bill passed by Congress in this fight to maintain a balanced budget.

Eisenhower covered the seaside course in 89 strokes—well above the 71 par but on the winning side of a foursome match.

He teed off at Turnberry, a fine course about four miles from Culzean, the turreted, 18th-century castle on the rocky Ayrshire coast where he is staying.

He flew here Friday morning from Paris with French President de Gaulle — the last stage of consultations with Western Allies over his coming meeting with Premier Khrushchev.

LETTER FOR DE GAULLE
A letter sent Friday from Eisenhower to de Gaulle said he felt "strongly that common understand-standing has been advanced and that our common purposes have been clarified and reaffirmed."

The president had planned to fly to Washington Monday, but press secretary Hagerty hinted that he might delay his departure "if the weather continues as nice as it is."

The brisk, sunny air stirred Eisenhower's golfer's blood Friday. Wearing brown slacks, a fawn sweater and checked cap, he was in obvious good spirits as he stepped up to the first tee.

He surveyed the crowd of spectators and quipped to his partner, club professional Ian Macpherson:

"I don't feel so good about this. This is a pretty critical crowd for me to play off before."

But he took an easy stance and blasted his ball about 200 yards down the fairway.

Duplessis Lies In Coma; Right Side Is Paralyzed

Dag Calls Security Council To Study Laotian Request

By WILLIAM N. OATIS
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld Friday night started setting up a session of the UN Security Council for Sunday or Monday to deal with the request of Laos for an emergency force to stop Communist aggression.

A UN spokesman announced the action slightly more than seven hours after Laos officially accused Communist North Vietnam of aggression and asked for United Nations force to stop it.

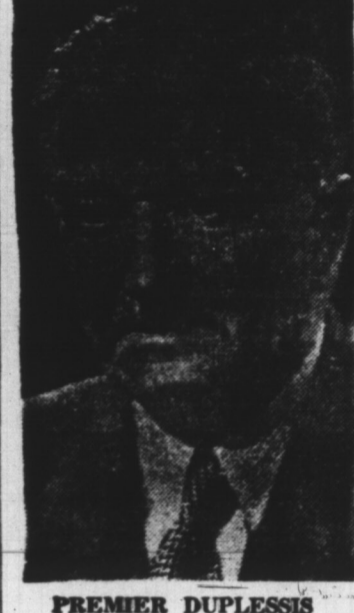

Hammarskjöld acted while in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil where he stopped on a hurried flight back to New York from a curtailed South American tour.

He dealt with the 11-nation council through his executive assistant, Andrew W. Cordier.

CABLES RIO
The spokesman met correspondents and told them: "The secretary-general cabled from Rio before his departure instructing his executive assistant, Mr. Cordier, formally to approach the president of the Security Council, suggesting that the president consult with his colleagues on the council with a view to calling a meeting of the council Sunday or Monday."

Canada is a member of the Security Council.

The council president this month is Ambassador Egidio Ortona of Italy.

PREMIER DUPLESSIS

Premier Is Stricken With Four Seizures

SHEFFERVILLE, Que. (CP) Premier Duplessis lay critically ill and paralyzed in a Montreal hospital Friday night, the victim of a series of strokes.

The 69-year-old premier was in a coma, his right side immobile.

At 9:30 p.m. EDT Friday night, his doctors said: "The condition of the premier is unchanged. He suffers from paralysis. The outcome of the illness will not be known for 24 or 48 hours. During this time there can be no question of moving the patient as this would constitute grave danger."

The last rites of the Roman Catholic Church have been administered.

Three Quebec City doctors were flown to this isolated northeastern Quebec community Thursday night shortly after Mr. Duplessis suffered the first of four cerebral seizures.

Mr. Duplessis was stricken at 3 p.m. Thursday while chatting with Maurice Casteau, Union Nationale member of the Legislative Assembly for Montreal Jeanne-Mance. They were in an Iron Ore Company of Canada building at the time.

UNABLE TO SPEAK
The premier walked over to a window then turned abruptly towards Mr. Casteau. Mr. Casteau looked at the premier, saw that something was wrong, that he could not speak. Mr. Casteau asked others to help and to summon a doctor.

The premier was helped to bed in the company's guest house. The company doctor was summoned from the small hospital operated here mainly for miners and their families. At 8 p.m. it was decided to summon specialists from Quebec City.

Schefferville, with a population of 1,600, is the northernmost town in the province. Located 720 air miles northeast of Montreal, it is in the centre of rich iron ore deposits which straddle the Quebec Ungava and the Newfoundland Labrador boundary. It is in the northern terminal of the Quebec North Shore and Labrador Railway which carries iron ore 365 miles south to Sept-les, a St. Lawrence River shipping centre.

It was to see something of the progress being made at mining developments which his government has encouraged that Mr. Duplessis came here. He left Quebec City by air Wednesday with some supporters of his government. Their first stop was Sept-les. Then they came on here. He was to have returned to Quebec today.

Two-Car Crash Sends 7 Persons To Hospital

Six young men and one woman are in hospital in Charlottetown this morning following a spectacular two-car crash which occurred at the intersection of Great George and Euston Street at approximately 11:15 last night.

Involved in the collision were a 1951 Ford sedan which police said was driven by Ronald MacPhail, New Dominion, and a 1956 Pontiac station-wagon driven by Robert Currie, 169 North River Road.

Besides the two drivers those in hospital include Stanley MacPhail, New Dominion, Merrill MacPhail, New Dominion, and Winston Mason, Long Creek, all passengers in the MacPhail-driven vehicle, and Mrs. Robert Currie, Jr. Extent of the victims' injuries could not be determined.

Police said that the Ford was travelling north at the time of the accident while the Pontiac was proceeding in the opposite direction.

The force of the impact threw both vehicles around and as a result the Elm Avenue exit was blocked for over a half-hour. The accident, one of the worst on City streets in many years attracted several hundred spectators to the scene.

"Mr. Cordier talked with Ambassador Ortona a half hour ago on the telephone," the spokesman said, "and is sending him a letter confirming the conversation."

Foreign Minister Khamphan Panya submitted Laos' request to Hammarskjöld through the Laotian delegation. He asked "the appropriate procedure against actions of the Ho Chi Minh regime, which is not a UN member."

VETO POSSIBILITY
If the Soviet Union should veto council action, the General Assembly could be called into emergency session within 24 hours by a vote of any seven of the 11 council members.

The assembly is empowered to recommend that member countries use armed force to maintain or restore international peace.

Thephathay Vilalongs, of the Laotian delegation handed his foreign minister's letter to Hammarskjöld's executive assistant, Andrew W. Cordier.

It said that since July 16, foreign troops with "reinforcements from outside in personnel and in supplies of food and ammunition" have been fighting Royal Laotian army garrisons on the northeastern frontier, forcing them to abandon many posts.

"On the 30th of August," it went on, "a new attack surpassing in violence those previously encountered was launched against the posts of Muong Het and Xieng Kho with the participation of elements coming from the democratic republic of Viet Nam and supported by artillery fire based on the other side of the frontier."

"In the face of this characterized aggression, for which the democratic republic of Viet Nam bears full responsibility, Laos requests the assistance of the United Nations organization of which it is a member."

In particular, the royal government requests the sending in the shortest possible time of an emergency force in order to stop the aggression and prevent it from spreading.

World Law Seen Need

VANCOUVER (CP)—The need for settling world disputes through the processes of law was emphasized here Friday by an international four-man panel discussing rule of law in a changing world.

Mr. Duplessis was stricken at 3 p.m. Thursday while chatting with Maurice Casteau, Union Nationale member of the Legislative Assembly for Montreal Jeanne-Mance. They were in an Iron Ore Company of Canada building at the time.

Pres. Bows To Demands

By ROMAN JIMENEZ

War Secretary Elvio Anaya resigned, and was succeeded by Gen. Rodolfo Larcher, a close friend of the rebellious army leaders.

'Seasonal' Prices Boost Canada's Cost Of Living

OTTAWA (CP)—Canadian living costs, which had been relatively stable for nearly a year, rose nearly one-half of one per cent in July due mainly to what the bureau of statistics said was a "seasonal" upswing in food prices.

The bureau's consumer price index reached a record 126.4 on Aug. 1, just topping the previous peak of 126.3 last Nov. 1. The living-cost yardstick, based on 1949 prices equalling 100, was 125.9 on July 1.

The new level on Aug. 1 meant a 12-month rise of 1.2 points. That gain compares with increases of 2.6 points during the corresponding period in 1957-58 and 3.5 points in 1956-57.

The usual summertime lower prices for fresh vegetables, particularly potatoes and tomatoes, were not enough to offset higher prices in July for eggs, oranges, lettuce, beef and pork. As a result the food component of the consumer price index rose by 1.1 per cent to 120.5 on Aug. 1. This compares with 122.6 a year earlier, and the record of 123.4 last Oct. 1.

Among miscellaneous goods and services there were higher price tags in July on a fairly wide range of items including gasoline, taxi fares, hospital rates, pharmaceuticals, alcoholic beverages and personal care items. The sub-index for this field of purchases climbed to 135.3 on Aug. 1 from 134.9 a month earlier.

During June, wage figures showed a slight decline. The index of average industrial wages and salaries at July 1—latest date for which figures are available—was 171.7, compared with 171.9 on June 1 and 164.6 on July 1 last year. The index is based on 1949 equalling 100.

NIKITA EMERGES AS ART CRITIC

MOSCOW (Reuters) — Nikita Khrushchev emerged as an art critic when he visited the American exhibition Thursday.

At the contemporary art display, he stood before a long canvas covered with straight brush strokes in all colors and asked: "What's that?"

Told that it was called Cathedral, he chuckled loudly and said: "That's cathedral? I can't believe it. That's freedom. Still, I'm not opposed to it. Let him paint."

In the sculpture park, Khrushchev stood several minutes before a statue of a nude woman.

He looked, turned away, then looked again and told his first deputy premier, Anastas Mikoyan:

"I don't understand it. That artist doesn't understand anything about women."

Disarmament Talks To Start Again In 1960

LONDON (Reuters) — East-West talks on general disarmament, stalled since 1957, will start again early in 1960, usually reliable sources reported Friday.

The sources said the next two or three days should produce an announcement that a new, 10-nation body with equal representation by East and West will be set up, probably in Geneva, to tackle both conventional and nuclear disarmament.

No disarmament negotiations have been conducted since two years ago when the five-country united nations disarmament subcommittee failed to reach agreement in a London conference.

In the new panel—associated with the UN in the sense that it would keep the world organization informed of its work — the United States, Canada, Britain, France and Italy. The east bloc members would be the Soviet Union, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Rumania and Bulgaria.

The U.S., Britain, France, Canada and Russia constituted the 1957 UN subcommittee.

Ottawa Quiet On Laos Bid

OTTAWA (CP) — There was little official reaction here following Friday's Laotian request to the United Nations for UN forces to help repel Communist attacks from the southeast Asian state.

External Affairs Minister Green declined to comment on the matter at this time. Officials said the matter has not yet been discussed in the department.

Canada has more than usual interest in the tiny country. This country is a member of the three-nation truce supervisory commission set up in 1954—a body which would up its work and adjourn indefinitely a year ago.

India recently sought to re-activate the commission, of which it is also a member, with Canada and Poland. But Canada opposed the move on grounds the government of Laos didn't want the commission.
