

Miteff, Hunter Tangle Tonight

NEW YORK (AP) — Alex Miteff hopes to wipe out one of the blots on his record tonight in Madison Square Garden. He gets another chance at Billy Hunter, the Detroit heavyweight who stopped him in seven rounds Sept. 25 in Syracuse.

Hunter, of course, has other ideas. He is a fast-rising young man in the division at the moment. The TKO over Miteff, followed by another TKO over Tony Anthony gave Billy ideas about going all the way.

With Ingemar Johansson now fencing around about his next opponent in defence of his heavyweight title, all the big boys are anxious to keep in the running.

Miteff was a 4 to 1 favorite over Hunter when they fought the first time. When they stopped it because of Miteff's cut eye, Hunter was in full control with a 4-2-1 edge on all official cards. Despite that result, Miteff probably will be a slight favorite in their 10-round rematch.

SCORP BY ROUNDS
The Friday fight is part of the regular network radio-TV series, starting at 11 p. m. AST. As usual, two judges and a referee will score it by rounds, using a supplementary point system in case the rounds are even.

Chualvo, Cooper Match Sought

LONDON (CP)—A British Empire heavyweight title fight between champion Henry Cooper of London and George Chualvo of Toronto is being sought by a British promoter.

Alex Griffiths, who promotes fight contests in the Midlands, wants Cooper to meet Chualvo in Leicester sometime in February.

The Daily Sketch says Griffiths will offer Cooper £3,500 to take on Chualvo, Canadian heavyweight champion.

After defeating challenger Joe Erskine of Cardiff in a title fight two weeks ago, Cooper announced that he wouldn't fight again until next August. Sources close to him said the reasons involved income taxes.

Curling Draw
The following is the curling draw for Friday in the chicken bonspiel:

Ice 1 — Open.
Ice 2 — T. W. L. Prowse, L. Johnston, B. MacLeod, H. Horsford, vs. R. W. Manning, M. Reeves, J. S. Taylor, R. Smith.
Ice 3 — A. MacDonald, C. Whitteet, M. Pursey, Bud McDonald, vs. R. Jones, E. McDonald, L. Donald, S. Moore.
Ice 4 — K. Acom, D. Matheson, W. Farrell, B. Dillon, vs. G. Storey, R. Newson, L. McPhail, T. Walker.
Ice 5 — D. Walker, R. Manning, F. Stephens, J. Morris, Jr., vs. W. Mellich, S. Beaton, A. Balzer, J. Burgess.

YEAR'S EARNINGS
In two title fights this year Cooper made £22,500.

Chualvo, 22, recently knocked out Yvon Durelle of Baie St. Anne, N.B. Empire light-heavyweight champion. Durelle announced his retirement after his defeat.

Griffiths says Cooper agreed earlier to fight in Leicester after his bout with Erskine. His opponent was to have been German's Albert Westphal.

"He is due to fight for me in Leicester," says the promoter. "I am writing to manager (Jim) Wicks."

In Toronto, Chualvo's manager, Tommy McBeigh, said "we haven't heard anything yet" about the proposed fight.

McBeigh said that a bout with Cooper couldn't be staged until next year.

"George got a bad bump on his eye the last time," he said, "and these things take time to heal."

limit of 5 each . . . a total of 65. My personal check that morning showed 41 in the bag as odds and ends short of the limit. This totals 106. Accurate information regarding the geese shot running the gauntlet of McCabes hill places the number of 68 in 10 days. Thirty-three of this number were killed in three consecutive morning shoots. In the dawn when they reached the hill's crest, as one hunter remarked: "The earth seemed to open in flames they flew head on into the barrage."

HEAVY CASUALTIES
The geese at Moore's Sanctuary also suffered heavy casualties this fall. During the first part of the season when they patronized the stubble fields within the mile protection zone they escaped without undue loss. Trouble loomed when they crossed the frontier into no man's land. They were like sitting ducks when met by hunters' 'right' outside the protective zone. When geese or ducks associate at close quarters with human beings for weeks and months, they lose their natural and instinctive fear of man. When they encounter hunters they have two strikes against them right off the bat. Methinks that legislation should be placed in the Migratory Bird regulations prohibiting the use of live birds as decoys for the purpose of forming little "two-by-four" private refuges or feed stations. It does not achieve any useful conservation purpose, only teaches them how to die in one easy lesson. In other words it grooms them for the kill.

SPORT ECHOES

By NORMAN MacDONALD

We're looking forward to another exciting night of hockey at Civic Stadium tonight when the Royals of Charlottetown tangle with the Aces of Summerside. Games that have been played so far in the ISHL have been close and exciting, and Hogan's Aces will be out to make everything even as far as the three town teams are concerned in tonight's battle. Summerside fans certainly couldn't complain about the brand of hockey dished out by the Aces and the Perfection Penguins Monday night. The birds with the tuxedos and Sandy's Royals edged the creamery crew 7-6. This would seem to indicate that at least three of the four teams are fairly evenly balanced, with the line-ups they had in these games.

Report has it that Eustace Reeves will turn up tonight in Royal livery. Let's see. We're getting a bit rusty on equations, but there seems to be a bit of mathematics in that somewhere. Reeves wasn't permitted to play with the Aces because he would make the Aces too strong. The Penguins beat the Aces, and the Royals beat the Penguins. Therefore, the Royals have shown themselves to be slightly better than the Aces. Therefore, subtract Reeves from the Aces, and add him to the Royals to even everything up. Gadzooks! that's not the way those equations were worked when we studied algebra. There must be an unknown quantity there somewhere which fouled the whole thing up. Either that, or the most cock-eyed regulation ever dreamed up by a group of sportsmen.

The correspondent who seems to feel that Charlottetown sports writers invented the name "P.E.I. Aces" is, we believe, a little off base. At least, we first heard the name from Summerside hockey leaders, and their explanation was that since the Summerside Aces M.A.H.A. franchise was held by a management not connected with the present Aces, this year's edition would have to be a new team under a new name.

While most writers are joining hands and singing "Happy Days Are Here Again" we hate to keep injecting discords into the refrain, but if we're going to keep our resolution to call a spade a spade, we haven't too much choice. Perhaps when we do dish out the syrup, readers will be more likely to believe us. Although the boy who kept crying "hooray" didn't get into the story, he became just as ineffective as the boy who cried "wolf". All this preamble leads up to a warning we'd like to give referees. In the game Monday night a ref. was pushed by a player and nearly lost his balance, yet no misconduct was handed out. This could be the fine edge of the wedge.

If this referee allows himself to be pushed around like a wheelbarrow, enraged players will go a little further every night until someone hangs a haymaker on his chin. If there's one guy who can't afford to turn the other cheek, it's a hockey referee. In days gone by, when some people wanted to do a little frivolous joshing in their letters to a friend, but wanted it clearly understood it was all in fun, they used to write ("ha, ha!") in brackets after the crack. We find to our dismay that some of our spoofing is being taken with deadly seriousness by one of the sporting fraternity. We may have to use that ("ha, ha,") gimmick to keep "dead pan dicks" informed when we have our tongue in our cheek.

In closing, let us remind all hockey fans that there'll be a lot of rugged action at Civic Stadium tonight. Miss it, and you'll be kicking yourself all day tomorrow.

James Is Interested In Playing For Leafs

By AL VICKERY
Canadian Press Staff Writer
TORONTO (CP)—Jerry James said Thursday he is interested in playing hockey for Toronto Maple Leafs if the offer from the National Hockey League club is "right."

James, fullback with Winnipeg Blue Bombers of the Western Interprovincial Football Union, was commenting on a report that coach Punch Imlach of the Leafs was interested in obtaining his services for the last few months of the NHL.

"I sent a letter to the Leafs quite a while ago asking them what the situation was," James said, "but I haven't heard anything from them."

IN GREY CUP
James is in Toronto for Saturday's Grey Cup game in which Bombers are defending their Canadian championship against Hamilton Tiger-Cats. He hasn't played hockey since his 1957-58 season with the Leafs.

Imlach, also general manager of the Leafs, said he hoped he could get together with James after the Grey Cup to discuss hockey.

James suffered a double fracture of his left leg early in the 1958 football season, which also kept him out of hockey last winter. He returned to Bombers this year.

While James was attempting to get his injured leg back in shape during September and early October, the 25-year-old back used skating as part of his therapy treatment.

"I used to go out after Warriors (Winnipeg Warriors of the professional Western Hockey League) finished practising, and do some skating," James said. "I felt I had to do something."

"I found I could skate better than I could walk, and this boosted my moral. I felt even if I couldn't make a place on the football team again, at least I could try out for hockey."
