"THE VILLAGE BLACKSMITH."—On next Monday night the Richards Stock Company will repeat "The Village Blacksmith," which was presented so well on Thursday night. This is one of the best plays the Company has produced in Charlottetown, and is one that has a most interesting plot. In it a man is falsely accused of the murder of his father and by his wife who knows he did not do it. He goes to prison. But in the end he is released, and his wife pays the penalty of sin. There is some delicious humor in the play and a few pathetic scenes. This may be the last time this season that the company will play in Charlottetown, and it should be taken advantage of.
