Spotlight

BOB SEGER & THE SILVER BULLET BAND-The Distance, Capitol ST12254. Produced by Jimmy Iovine. The last superstar release before Christmas is Seger's first studio album since "Against The Wind" in March, 1980. The first single from this set, "Shame On The Moon," has been No. 1 on Billboard's Most Added Records feature two weeks running, suggesting that Seger's long lay-off hasn't unduly hurt him. The album is a mix of high energy boogie rockers and soft, contemplative ballads-the same combination that propelled "Against The Wind" to No. 1. Unfortunately, the cover art reflects only the subdued, romantic side of Seger's musical personality and may lead some fans to think he's abandoned the bluesy, boozey rockers that first brought him fame. Such up-tempo treats as "Even Now," "Makin' Thunderbirds" and "Roll Me Away" prove that he hasn't.
