MISCELLANEOUS.

The remains of Mr. Butt are interred at Stranorlar, county Donegal, in the family tomb.

Brown says that a married man sometimes finds himself to be a fool soon after the wedding March.

"I don't like that cat; its got splinters in its feet," was the excuse of a four-year-old for throwing a kitten away.

Advices have been received representing that the Anglo-Afghan treaty greatly increases British prestige in Persia.

Germany is seriously offended at the right of search exercised by Peru against German vessels, and a strong protest demanding explanations will be despatched to Lima.

Lord Beaconsfield has recommended that a special grant of £200 should be made towards defraying the expenses of Dr. Ginsburg's work on the Massorah, which is now being printed at Vienna.

A short time ago a Danbury man had $40 stolen from him. The thief was subsequently struck with remorse, and sent back $20 with a note to the effect that as soon as he received more remorse he would send back the rest.—Danbury News.

As the happy couple were leaving the church, the husband said to the partner of his wedded life—"Marriage must seem a dreadful thing to you; why you were all of a tremble, and one could hardly hear you say 'I will.'" "I will have more courage, and say it louder the next time," said the blushing bride.

Mr. Gladstone's portrait by Mr. Millais in the British Royal Acadamy exhibition is striking enough to lead the London Times to observe that "it is little to say that there has been no such portrait yet painted of the careworn and intellectual statesman as he is now."

Sir Frederick Leighton, the President of the London Royal Acadamy, in a recent after dinner speech before the institute of British Architects avowed the necessity of a greater solidarity and a closer union between the sister arts. "In spirit and its inmost roots," he said, "All art is one. It is always the same soul speaking to us through various tongues—the same gem flashing its fire through various facets. I believe that in proportion as we artists bear this vital truth in our minds will be the dignity and lasting value of our achievements, and the influence and authority of the noble arts you have just toasted."

When the Zulus rushed in on the small British detachment of Col Wood, and while there was yet an open road in one direction, Col. Weatherly, an English cavalry officer clapped his son, a boy of 13, who was with him, on horseback, kissed him and told him to run for his life. The lad jumped from the saddle, striking the horse a lash which sent it galloping off, and said: "Father, I'll die with you." The father handed his revolver to the child just as the Zulus reached, over British bodies, the place where they stood. Weatherly slew five Zulus before he fell, but the son was killed at once.

The Moncton Times says:—"The reaction to the emigration fever has commenced. In Saturday's issue we stated that a letter had been received from a party in Manitoba which threw out but little encouragement for emigration to that quarter. Now we learn that Mr. Chas. McLean, a native of Sussex, has returned home after spending some years in Manitoba; and a Mr. Sullivan, of Summerside, who left for Dakota a few weeks ago, has also returned. Mr. Sullivan was in Moncton during Saturday and yesterday. He says that there is no chance in the Western States for emigrants, especially those without sufficient capital to make a good start for themselves—and probably those who have any capital could invest it at home safer, if not more profitably. Mr. Sullivan also states that emigrant wagons are met on the roads at almost every point, and that many settlers are compelled to live in clay huts.

CATARRH.

Constitutional Catarrh Remedy

CURES CATARRH.

Hear what a Reverend Gentleman says of the Constitutional Remedy.

T. J. B. HARDING, Esq., Brockville, Ont.:—

DEAR SIR—It is now two years since your "Constitutional Catarrh Remedy' was introduced to me. I have waited this ong to see if the cure would remain permanent before doing this, my duty, to you, as at first the happy effects seemed to me to be "too good to be true."

I was afflicted in my head for years before I suspected it to be Catarrh. In reading in your Circular I saw my case described in many particulars. The inward "drop" from the head had become very disagreeable, and a choking sensation often preventing me from lying long, I would feel like smothering and be compelled to sit up in the bed. My health and spirits were seriously affected. When your agent came to Walkertown in August, 1876, I secured three bottles. Before I had used a quarter of the contents of one bottle I found decided relief, and when I had used two bottles and a third, I quit taking it, feeling quite cured of that ailment, and have not used any since until of late I have taken some for a cold in my head.

A sense of duty to sufferers from that loathsome disease, Catarrh, prompts me to send you this Certificate, unsolicited, with leave to make what use of it you may see proper.

Yours truly,

W. TINDALL, Methodist Minister.

The Greatest Medical Discovery since the Creation of Man, or since the Commencement of the Christian Era.

There never has been a time when the healing of so many different diseases has been caused by outward application as the present. It is an undisputed fact that over half of the entire population of the globe resort to the use of ordinary plasters.

DR. MELVIN'S CAPSICUM POROUS PLASTERS are acknowledged by all who have used them, to act quicker than any other plaster they ever before tried, and that one of these plasters will do more real service than a hundred of the ordinary kind. All other plasters are slow of action, and require to be worn continually to effect a cure; but with these it is entirely different: the instant one is applied the patient will feel its effect.

Physicians in all ages have thoroughly tested and well know the effect of Capsicum; and it has always been more or less used as a medical agent for an outward application; but it is only of very recent date that its advantages in a porous plaster have been discovered. Being, however, convinced of the wonderful cures effected by DR. MELVIN'S CAPSICUM POROUS PLASTERS, and their superiority over all other plasters, they now actually prescribe them, in their practice, for such diseases as rheumatism, pain in the side and back, and all such cases as have required the use of plasters or liniment. After you have tried other plasters and liniments, and they have failed, and you want a certain cure, ask your druggist for DR. MELVIN'S CAPSICUM POROUS PLASTER. You can hardly believe your own convictions of its wonderful effects. Although powerful and quick in its action, you can rely on its safety for the most delicate person to wear, as it is free from lead and other poisonous material commonly used in the manufacture of ordinary plasters. One trial is a sufficient guarantee of its merits, and one plaster will sell hundreds to your friends.

Ask your druggist for DR. MELVIN'S CAPSICUM POROUS PLASTER, and take no other; or, on receipt of 25 cents for one, $1 for five, or $2 for a dozen, they will be mailed, post paid, to any address in the United States or Canadas.
