ANOTHER DISCOVERY.

Of Interest to Bicycle Riders.

A well known bicycle rider has made a discovery that will be good news too all who locomote on the wheel. He says:

Since I first began to ride a wheel, which is several years ago, I have been subject to more or less chafing and irritation. Sometimes when heated the itching inside my legs would be so severe that I would feel compelled to forego riding for a time. Nothing that I tried did any material good until my attention was drawn to an advertisement of Dr. Chase's Ointment for all itching of the skin. I tried it and almost from the moment it touched the skin the itching stopped. I also find its occasional use prevents chafing. Further evidence of the efficacy of this preparation is given by Chas. Roe, foreman Central Press Agency, Toronto, who was troubled with Itching Skin of the most aggravated kind. When the skin became heated during sleep from too much clothing, would wake up with absolute pain from digging into the flesh with his nails. Chase's Ointment gave relief from the first application and permantly cured. Price 60c.

Children Shrink

from taking medicine. They don't like its taste. But they are eager to take what they like—Scott's Emulsion, for instance. Children almost always like Scott's Emulsion.

And it does them good.

Scott's Emulsion is the easiest, most palatable form of Cod-liver Oil, with the Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda added to nourish the bones and tone up the nervous system. The way children gain flesh and strength on Scott's Emulsion is surprising even to physicians.

All delicate children need it.

Don't be persuaded to accept a substitute!

IN AN EMERGENCY.

SOME HINTS TO OBSERVE WHILE WAITING FOR THE DOCTOR.

Antidotes For Various Kinds of Poison—Something About the Complexion and Wrinkles—Loss of the Voice and Its Cause.

It makes one shudder to think of the grim sign on the druggist's phials, but the shudder is worse when one of the family, perhaps a favorite child, has swallowed some deadly dose. What is done then must be done quickly. The following plain directions ought to be kept handy. They may save a life while the doctor is coming.

When the poison is unknown this is the treatment: Provoke vomiting, give bland liquids, stimulate if necessary.

For acids (sulphuric, nitric, muriatic, oxalic)—Give an alkali, provoke vomiting, give bland fluids, secure rest, stimulate if necessary.

Alkalis (hartshorn, soda, potash, lye)—Give an acid (vinegar), provoke vomiting, give bland liquids, secure rest, stimulate if necessary.

For arsenic, Paris green, Scheele's green—Provoke vomiting, give dialysed iron and salt (repeat several times), give dose of castor oil, secure rest, stimulate if necessary.

For sugar of lead—Give Epsom salts, provoke vomiting (repeat several times), give bland liquids, give dose of castor oil.

For corrosive sublimate, tartar emetic—Provoke vomiting, give strong tea without milk (repeat several times) give raw eggs and milk, give dose of castor oil, stimulate if necessary.

For phosphorus—Provoke vomiting, give five grain doses sulphate of copper, give dose of magnesia, but no oil.

Lunar caustic (nitrate of silver)—Give strong salt and water, provoke vomiting (repeat many times).

Opium (morphine, laudanum, paregoric, etc., chloral)—Provoke vomiting, repeatedly, give strong coffee without milk, keep up the breathing.

Strychnine—Provoke vomiting once or twice, give a purgative, secure absolute quiet.

Aconite—Provoke vomiting, stimulate well.

Decayed meat or vegetable—Provoke vomiting, give a purgative, give powdered charcoal.

To provoke vomiting, warm water may be used with or without ground mustard (a tablespoonful to a pint of water), or ipecac (a teaspoonful of the powder or a tablespoonful or so of the sirup), and thrusting a finger down the throat.

The Loss of Voice.

Loss of voice may be owing to inflammatory swelling, either acute or chronic, or to ulceration of the lining membrane of the larynx, to paralysis, or to hysterical affection. Coming on suddenly, accompanied with fever, pain in the larynx and upper part of the throat, increased on swallowing, and difficulty of breathing, the above symptom must be regarded with some apprehension as one of the concomitants of a rapidly fatal disease, acute laryngitis. Loss of voice, however, frequently occurs quite unconnected with the other symptoms mentioned, and is then not to be so seriously regarded. Many persons are liable to it after exposure to night or foggy air, or after much or loud talking. Persons living in damp houses suffer from this form of aphonia, which is probably owing to the thickening of great susceptibility of the laryngeal membrane. When it continues nothing affords greater relief than antimonial ointment, or croton oil, rubbed over the fore part of the neck so as to produce a free eruption. Mustard plasters may be used, but are not so efficacious. A hot bran poultice to the throat at night, and a teaspoonful of paregoric, taken along with 20 drops of ipecacuana wine, will often remove a threatened attack. Inhaling steam from hot water, or spray from Seigle's spray producer is sometimes of great service. In the more chronic form, 20 drops of tincture of squills may be submitted for the ipecacuana. A sirup made with infusion of horseradish is popularly and sometimes beneficially employed.

The Complexion Wrinkles.

A soft, beautiful complexion is certainly an attraction which every woman should desire, and any simple means which does not occupy time needed for more important matters should be tried to attain such an end. There are many complexions which chafe readily, and tan in the spring winds.

A simple preparation of sweet cream rubbed into the skin after washing it thoroughly is a remedy for this trouble. This should be applied at night just before retiring, and the next morning the face should be washed thoroughly first in the lukewarm water and afterwards in cold to give tone to the muscles. Some ladies use glycerine in the same way, diluted with half of its bulk in rosewater. This preparation is rubbed in the face and hands, and gloves are worn at night. A little of Scrubb's cloudy household ammonia in the water is a help toward keeping the skin firm and free from wrinkles. There certainly is no remedy for wrinkles after they come. It should be remembered, however, that an amiable temper, a clear conscience and freedom from a disposition to worry over the petty annoyances of life are qualities of mind and heart that will keep the face free from wrinkles, and beautiful to the ripest old age.

Milk Diet in Typhoid.

Da Costa thinks the exclusive milk diet is a source of mischief rather than good, and recommends three parts of milk alternated with one broth. He, however, evidently does not recognize the fact that the latter has scarcely any food value, the little extract of meat it contains acting solely as a stimulant, and, moreover, with a great tendency to cause flatulence. It has on several occasions been pointed out that whenever curd can be seen in the motions, too much milk is being given, and it may indicate that it is not being digested at all. It is best replaced by white of egg beaten up, and largely diluted with water; in this way can be introduced any requisite amount of real food, and in the blandest and most readily digestible form; it leaves no solid residue and can cause neither diarrhœa nor gaseous distention.

SAVED HIS LIFE.

"I now weigh nearly 200 pounds," said a robust, fine looking man the other day; and yet this same man was given up to die of consumption less than two years ago. What cured him? Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil did. He took it when at a low ebb, when his weight was less than 100 pounds. It created new blood for him, and that combined with his will power, raised him up to a life of usefulness and happiness. If you are threatened with consumption or any lung trouble, try Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil.

Maud—"Do you really love Tom?" Madge—"Oh, no; not in the least." Maud—"Then, why are you going to marry him?" Madge—"Oh, he's such a good fellow I couldn't think of letting anybody else get him."—Boston Courier.

Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Chase's Pills have gained popularity because the are a specific for the uric acid condition, prevent Bright's disease, cure Rheumatism and all Catarrhal conditions of the Kidneys and Bladder. They do this because they possess remarkable alterative, tonic and diuretic properties, exerting a wonderfully soothing influence on irritated or inflamed mucos membranes of the kidneys or bladder. One pill a dose. 25 a box. The chrapest medicine in the world.

"I believe," said the young man, "in giving the devil his due." "Um—yes," replied his father, who was looking over the stubs of his check-book. "Still, I don't quite see the propriety of your paying him at my expense."—Washington Star.

It Saved Our Child.

"My little daughter, three and a half years old, suffered three years with Eczema. Her little body was covered with the itching rash, and doctors did no good. Four boxes of Chase's Ointment have entirely cured and saved our child. Her skin is clear and not a sign of rash is to be seen." Andrew Aiton, Hartland, N. B. Mr. Aiton is one of thousands benefited by this unfailing cure for piles and skin diseases.

Jinks—"I am always embarrassed when I want to say the word vase. I don't know whether to say vaze, vace, vahz, or vawse." Binks—"You might take a hint from our hired girl. She simply speaks of a lot of ornaments as 'them there.'"—Truth.

DANFEQOUS.

We often see this sign on roads or streets
Any kidney ailment is dangerous. Because you never know where it will end.
Suppose you feel languid, suppose you have feverish symptoms, there must be pison in the blood for these are the certain signs.
To the fact that pisons get past the kidneys, may be traced every sickness to which you are ligcle.
Treat the kidneys fourthwith and first of all.
It is the safe and propea thing every time;
Therefore do it promptly and well. We are trying to teach people to turn to Dodd's Kidney Pills as the simplest and greatest treatment of kidney diseases on earth.

Can't you see the point? Every serious disease results from the kidneys being out of order. Dodd's Kidney pills keeps on curing the disease.

Wayworn Watson—"Why, what you runnin' fer? Did she set the dog on ye?" Perry Pettie—"Naw. But she set me out a whole half chicken, bread, butter'n jilly an' a pack o' cigareets. I bet she wants to marry me!"—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Bad Blood Between Them.

The ever slaving farmer's wife, her delicate sister in the city, suffer more than they care to tell. The dark rings round the eyes, headaches, dizziness, palpitation or rheumatic twinges, betoken a run-down system. The blood is poor, and is a bar to enjoyment of life. Scott's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, strengthens and vitalizes the system, and speedily restores the bloom of health to the cheeks. It cures when all others fail.

A little Boston girl who had recently learned to repeat the Lord's prayer was asked by her mother if she knew the meaning of "Forgive us our trespasses." "Why, yes," she replied; "it means excuse us for going on the grass."—Boston Gazette.

Mr. C. Donnelly, wholesale liquor dealer, Alliston, Ont., was troubled for years with Itching Piles. He was persuaded by Jas. McGarvey, Alliston, livery man, to use Chase's Ointment, which he did, was cured, has had no return of them and highly recommends this Ointment as a sovereign cure for Piles.

"Come, sirrah," said the sultan; "make

ASTOR ON CANADA.

John Jacob Astor Used to Transact a Large Part of His Business in Montreal.

John Jacob Astor, the founder of the Astor family of New York, once had an establishment in Montreal. Astor was born in Heidelberg, in 1763. At the age of 16 he set out for London to seek his fortune, from whence, after a residence of four years, he migrated to America. It had been his intention to pursue in the new world the musical instrument business, a knowledge of which he had acquired while employed with his uncle in London; but learning from a fellow passenger, on the way out, of the fortunes to be made in the fur trade, the bent of his business pursuits was changed. Settling in New York—which at that time, 1783, was in a state of deep financial depression, caused by the seven years war of independence, just brought to a close—Astor, that he might the more surely gain a knowledge of his chosen business, hired to a Quaker fur trader for the small wages of $3 per week, retaining the right to dispose of the small stock of musical instruments that he had brought out with him. It was not long before the energetic young German set up for himself. This was, indeed, in a small way, for he traveled through the country bearing his pack on his back. To him the wilds of central and western New York, the haunt of fur-bearing animals, was a source of untold wealth, which he soon turned to great profit. But his energy was such that he soon extended his operations into the greater wealth producing wilds of the frozen north and the pathless west. This bringing him into competition with the more extensive Canadian trade, so long centred in Montreal, he determined to "carry the war into Africa," and attack the Canadian fur lords in their stronghold. With this end in view he established a branch in Montreal for purchasing direct from the Indians and trappers. According to law he was not allowed to ship his stock to his headquarters at New York. All shipments from the colonies had to be sent direct to Great Britain. He therefore leased from Frobishire the warehouse on Vaudreuil street where his winter's purchases were stored until they could be shipped by the first vessel sailing to London. Astor came regularly to Montreal to look after his Canadian trade, often stopping a month at a time. While accumulating wealth fast he was still thrifty, for he gave the hotel the go-by and lived in his warehouse, occupying the room formed by turning the gateway into a window. The outward appearance of the Astor warehouse has remained almost unchanged since the days when in it he competed for the Canadian fur trade with the all-powerful Hudson Bay Company. About the beginning of the century the colonial shipping laws were relaxed and colonists could enter into direct foreign trade. Thus Astor, finding little further need for keeping up his Canadian branch, closed up and conducted his western business wholly from New York.

GILBERT PARKER.

He Has Captured the Ear of the Great Metropolis of Britain.

Gilbert Parker, the Canadian novelist, was entertained at Quebec on the occasion of his visit there. Mr. J. M. Lemoine, speaking of Mr. Parker, said: More than once it has been the privilege of Canadians to meet in order to pay honor to a compatriot who had won his spurs on Canadian soil. This evening we meet to join hands and say godspeed to one of us who has achieved distinction in a far more arduous race beyond the sea—one who has met face to face that censorious, critical British public, one who has stood without awe in presence of that deep prejudice, shall I say the word, that rooted hostility, until of late years, to literary labor bearing the colonial stamp. Mr. Parker, a colonist, has asserted himself fearlessly, successfully, in the very citadel of British thought. In the length and breadth of the British Empire his name now is one to conjure with. You know he has captured the ear, won the good will of the great metropolis of Britain, as well as the admiration of the other younger branch of the English race on this side of the Atlantic. Until lately, among many gifted colonists, one specially, as our literary ambassador abroad, represented Canada, the gifted, versatile Grant Allen, a Kingston boy once, now a renowned novelist of London. Toronto now has sent forth, in her gifted son, Gilbert Parker, a second ambassador to represent abroad the charm of Canadian life, its manhood, its stirring legends, its present aspirations. Gentlemen, I stand up here to-night to voice with you most emphatically your inmost thought, your most cordial greeting, and ask you with brimming glasses to drink "Long life and happiness to Canada's pride, Gilbert Parker."

On the Cattle Ranches.

The fact that nearly 20,000 fat cattle averaging $40 a head have been shipped from the western ranges this season, establishes cattle raising for the old country markets as the leading industry of the territories. Compared with grain growing or any other branch of farming, cattle ranching stands out pre-eminently as the safest, easiest and most profitable thing that a man in this country can turn his hand to. There is in fact no occupation or industry in Canada that to the industrious man of small capital offers such advantages.

The 4,000 head of stockers that have been shipped in from the east this season furnish an indication of the possibilities open to the rancher. Two year old stockers were laid down in Calgary this fall at $23 to $25 a head. Many of these were sold in small lots to men with bands of 25, 50 or a hundred or two head. These eastern cattle being unaccustomed to wintering out will have to be fed during a part of the winter at a cost of a few dollars a head, but next season they will be in shape to be sold as three-year-olds at $40 each. Yearlings can be bought for $16 to $17 now, and after running on the range for a couple of years can be cashed at $40 each; and all this, be it noted is done by the grass of Southern Alberta, which for its remarkable fattening properties in both winter and summer is peculiar to this section of the northwest.—Calgary Herald.

Timely Warning.

The great success of the chocolate preparations of the house of Walter Baker & Co. (established in 1780) has led to the placing on the market many misleading and unscrupulous imitations of their name, labels, and wrappers. CASTORIA for Infants and Children.

MOTHERS, Do You Know that Paregoric, Bateman's Drops, Godfrey's Cordial, many so-called Soothing Syrups, and most remedies for children are composed of opium or morphine?

Do You Know that opium and morphine are stupefying narcotic poisons?

Do You Know that in most countries druggists are not permitted to sell narcotics without labeling them poisons?

Do You Know that you should not permit any medicine to be given your child unless you or your physician know of what it is composed?

Do You Know that Castoria is a purely vegetable preparation, and that a list of its ingredients is published with every bottle?

Do You Know that Castoria is the prescription of the famous Dr. Samuel Pitcher. That it has been in use for nearly thirty years, and that more Castoria is now sold than of all other remedies for children combined?

Do You Know that the Patent Office Department of the United States, and of other countries, have issued exclusive right to Dr. Pitcher and his assigns to use the word "Castoria" and its formula, and that to imitate them is a state prison offense?

Do You Know that one of the reasons for granting this government protection was because Castoria had been proven to be absolutely harmless?

Do You Know that 35 average doses of Castoria are furnished for 35 cents, or one cent a dose?

Do You Know that when possessed of this perfect preparation, your children may be kept well, and that you may have unbroken rest?

Well, these things are worth knowing. They are facts.

The fac-simile signature of Chas. H. Fletcher is on every wrapper.
