CORRESPONDENCE.

The Scott Act.

To the Editor of the Examiner.

SIR,—The Canada Temperance Act was carried in Charlottetown by a vote of 827 to 253, and in Queens County by a vote of 1317 to 99—a majority of 13 to 1. It was passed to be enforced. It must, and it will be enforced. If any man thinks otherwise, he knows little of Island pluck and Island determination. The saloon is to go. That much is determined on. Whether it will go of its own motion, or whether it will have to be compelled to go, it matters little, for go it must and go it will. The handwriting on the wall is very plain, and there is not a liquor dealer in Charlotte town who is not able to read it. Let him not trifle with the power behind this measure, nor provoke its wrath, for it is the intention and purpose of the people of Prince Edward Island to enforce the law, and banish the traffic. Let no one misunderstand this. It may take more effort, it may take more real hard work than has ever yet been done, but whatever it is going to take to do it, it is going to be done. Let the liquor shops, wholesale and retail, go by their own motion. It will be the least to their own injury, for go they must and will. Let branches of the Dominion Alliance be formed in our principal towns and villages, and formed at once.

The body of the Earl of Crawford, stolen some months ago from the family vault at Dun-cht House, Aberdeenshire, has been found in the grounds of the House. As is well known, the Earl's family and relations resolutely refused to offer any reward or ransom for the return of the body. The payment of rewards puts a premium on crimes of this kind, is in fact what it lives on, and if it were determinedly refused in every case body-snatching with the idea of extorting money would cease to exist.

Weather Bulletin.

Probabilities for the next 24 hours for the Maritime Provinces.

TORONTO, Aug. 1—10 a. m.

Light to moderate winds; fine weather, stationary or higher temperature.

The mortality among children in American cities during the present hot weather is appalling. Were the death rate among children to be as great throughout the year as it has been on one or two days since the beginning of the heated term, about 38,000 New York children would die during the year. Such a mortality is at least 13,000 more than the annual mortality of adults and children together should be. The high death rate is due to defective sanitary regulations as well as to the hot weather. This is proved by the fact that the death rate in the Peabody buildings, London, is but 16.7 per 1,000, while in the neighborhood it is from 30 to 40, and the rate for all London is 24.4. If the tenements of New York were well built and well kept, and if the sale of impure milk, diseased meat, and rotten fruit and vegetables were stopped, the lives of several thousands of children would be saved annually. The best thing to be done during the summer is to get the children out into the country, or at least where they can have cool, pure air.
