

West Humbles East 35-0 In All-Star Football Tilt

By ERWIN FRICKE
Canadian Press Staff Writer
VANCOUVER (CP)—The west, superior along the ground and through the air, provided additional evidence of supremacy in Canadian football this year by defeating the east 35-0 Saturday in the second annual East-West Shrine game.

The forces of coach Frank (Pop) Ivy of Edmonton, whose Eskimos beat Montreal Alouettes 50-27 in the Grey Cup final Nov. 22 at Toronto, virtually submerged the easterners throughout the rain-drenched contest.

The west, with quarterback Frank Tripucka of Saskatchewan Roughriders calling a diversified running and air attack, scored five converted touchdowns—two in the first, one in the third and two in the final quarter.

Play was seldom spectacular but Ivy said his eastern interprovincial football union all-stars

"handled the ball amazingly well under such awful conditions." Players were chilled to the bone by icy rain, a driving wind and 35-degree temperatures.

BOYS PLAYED WELL

Coches Jim Trimble of Hamilton Tiger-Cats, who piloted the Big Four's all-stars, also said his boys played "real well" considering the conditions.

The weather cut Empire Stadium attendance to 13,546 fans compared to the 15,083 who watched the first all-star game in Toronto last year. The teams then played to a 6-6 tie.

Shrine officials said Sunday they could not give a figure for the number of persons who bought tickets to the game until later in the week. On Friday night, sales had reached 16,500. Gross receipts and net profit would be announced along with total sales.

Last year, gross was $80,000 and $21,750 net. The proceeds go to support Shrine hospitals in Winnipeg and Montreal.

The east never could get a good foothold in the sloshy turf. Cookie Gilchrist, Hamilton fullback, fumbled for a five-yard loss on the east's first play and that's the way the ball bounced throughout the game. Along the ground the easterners lost 10 more yards than they gained.

EAST OUTCLASSED

The west ran up 370 yards in passing and rushing compared with 45 for the east.

Tripucka, who got splended protection from the west's line, completed 13 of 29 passes, two for touchdowns. A 34-yard heave to halfback Jackie Parker of Edmonton in the end zone provided a first quarter touchdown and a 37-yarder to Bud Grant sent the Winnipeg end scampering 15 yards for the game's final touchdown.

Ivy said the west's overwhelming victory was an unsound basis for comparison of the calibre of football played in the WIFU and Big Four.

"This was an isolated game but with three Grey Cups in three years maybe..." and his voice trailed off.

Saskatchewan quarterback Frank Tripucka who threw two touchdowns passes one to Jackie Parker and one to Buddy Grant said the ball "was surprisingly easy to handle."

Jackie Parker of Edmonton who came up with a superb touchdown catch in the first quarter praised the linemen.

Playing behind that line made it really easy," he said.

He also was mindful of the slogan of the game—"strong legs will run so that weak legs may walk." Net proceeds of the game were turned over to crippled children's hospitals.

Danny Sees Forbie Kennedy As A Top Rookie Candidate

Danny Gallivan, arrived in town last evening by air and we didn't waste any time getting in contact with him because we had a couple of questions to ask him.

Danny, taking President Clarence Campbell's place at the Ninth Annual Maritime hockey school for referees and coaches, was obliging enough to answer them and we should say that Island hockey fans will be mighty interested in what he had to tell us.

Chief question on our agenda was "Does Forbie Kennedy rate all the printer's ink that has been used in stories about him since he hit the N.H.L. with the Black Hawks this season?" Danny answered the question by saying that in his opinion Forbie was one of six top candidates for the Rookie of the year awards and if he kept on playing the kind of hockey he has been displaying around the National League he has a good chance of winning it. The other five players mentioned were Forbie's teammates Elmer Vasko, Larry Regan of Boston, Bill MacNeill and Billy Dea of Detroit and Toronto's Ed Chadwick.

Danny told us that he had had a short talk with Tommy Ivan sometime ago and Tommy is "very satisfied" with Kennedy's work with Harry Watson and Eddie Litzemberger on the Hawks top forward line. Watson too is a Kennedy fan and thinks Forbie is going to go a long way in the N.H.L.

Even though he picked the Chicago Black Hawks for the cellar position when he asked him to name his choices in order for he qualified it by saying that if the Hawks had five or six Kennedys on the team they would likely get into the playoffs. This is quite a tribute to a 21-year-old kid playing his first year in the big time.

Second question on our list was "What happen Canadiens at the first of the year when they couldn't seem to get out of their own way?" The answer to this one was: (1) Complacency and (2) injuries. Danny told us the Canadiens were anything but a sunny hockey team when they started this season after winning the N.H.L. title last year in a breeze and knocking off Detroit in five games for the Stanley Cup. As a result complacency permeated their ranks and the edge was taken off their will to win. Injuries, of course, played a big part too and Danny credits the recent surge of the Boston Bruins to the move that put Doug Mohns back on defense and the lack of injuries. Mohns, he said, "is to Boston what Kelly is to Detroit and Harvey to Montreal."

Danny sees Montreal finishing the league in top place with Detroit second and Boston third. He says Toronto will likely get into fourth place because of the return of Ted Kennedy and the simple fact that the Maple Leafs are always a playoff club and will be tough to keep out. Rangers were relegated to fifth and the Hawks in the hole.

We hope to see a lot of Danny in the next couple of days at the hockey school. He will be addressing the Charlottetown Rotary club at their weekly luncheon at noon today and open the school with an address at the banquet tonight to all budding coaches and referees.

Boston Dumps Detroit 5-3; Leafs-Rangers Play 0-0 Tie

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Rookie Jack Blonda scored his first National Hockey League goal Saturday night to break a 2-2 tie in the second period as Boston Bruins went on to defeat Detroit Red Wings 5-3 and take undisputed hold on first place. The lost edged the Wings into second spot, two points behind.

Three players were injured in the bruising encounter. Warren Godfrey of Detroit left with a bruised thigh after a check by Real Chevrefils, Boston defenceman Bill Bolyin needed six stitches for a head cut inflicted by Gordie Howe and the Wings' Billy MacNeill had three stitches taken in his upper lip after a collision with a teammate.

At Toronto, the Maple Leafs and the New York Rangers battled to the first scoreless tie in the NHL in more than a year.

Lorne Worsley, tiny Ranger netminder, and rookie Leaf goaltender Ed Chadwick each recorded their third shutouts of the season in a game which frequently had the 12,746 fans—smallest NHL crowd in Toronto yet—stomping for action.

Worsley was exceptionally good, blocking 38 shots and on a few occasions bouncing around like a jumping-jack when Leafs had a man advantage because of penalties. Chadwick handled 22 shots, many fired in a hurry and from far out.

Bruins opened and closed the scoring at Boston. Johnny Peirson slammed home the first goal at the five-minute mark and Allan Stanley got the fifth with less than two minutes left in the game. In between there were Bruin goals by Larry Regan, Blonda and Fleming Mackell.

Billy Dea scored for Detroit late in the first period, Gordie Howe temporarily tied it up in the second and Dutch Reibel tallied in the third.

PRES. CAMPBELL, CLANCY NOT COMING

Danny Gallivan And Buddy O'Connor To Attend School

The three-day hockey school planned for today, Tuesday and Wednesday at Charlottetown will go on as scheduled tonight but without two of three N.H.L. representatives originally slated to attend.

N.H.L. President Clarence Campbell in a phone call to Brig. W.W. Reid Saturday said that due to last minute commitments and the pressure of business neither he nor Frank (King) Clancy would be able to make the trip. Mr. Campbell deeply regretted that last minute change in plans but arranged for two other representatives of the league to make the trip.

They are Danny Gallivan, well known radio announcer who is known the length and breadth of the country for his play-by-play commentary of Montreal Canadiens' games, and ex-star of the N.H.L. Buddy O'Connor.

Mr. Gallivan arrived in the city last night by air and he will take Mr. Campbell's place as guest speaker at the Rotary luncheon today at noon and will address the hockey school candidate at the opening banquet tonight at the Charlottetown Hotel.

Buddy O'Connor, who will arrive by plane today with N.H.L. referee Roy "Red" Storey, will pinch-hit for King Clancy will take over the instructions to aspiring coaches attending the school.

Mr. O'Connor for more than 10 years was a top player with Montreal Canadiens and New York Rangers. He reached his peak in the 1947-48 season with the Rangers when he finished second in the scoring race with 60 points, trailing only Canadiens' great centreman Elmer Lach and at the end of that season was presented with both the Hart Trophy, as the league's "most valuable player" and the Lady Byng Trophy as the player combining great ability with clean play.

He is now living in Montreal. Danny Gallivan, of course, is no stranger to Prince Edward Islanders and Charlottetonians in particular. Danny, 45, married to a Charlottetown girl (the former Eileen MacPhee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank MacPhee) and is a Nova Scotian Native born in Sydney. Danny started his career with an Antigonish radio station and moved on to Halifax where he broadcast Maritime Big Four hockey games when that league, now defunct, was being revived following World War 2. From Halifax he went to Montreal where he has been announcing Canadiens games for the past five years.
