THE DAILY EXAMINER.

FEBRUARY 7, 1894.

AGRICULTURAL MACHINERY.

THE Minister of Agriculture mentions in the course of his report for 1893 the fact that Professor Thurston, chairman of the jurors on agricultural implements, and consulting mechanical engineer of the World's Exposition, in an address stated that in design, finish and smoothness of operation, the Canadian agricultural and general machinery were the equals of anything of the kind in the exhibition, and as compared with the exhibit made in 1876 at Philedelphia, this manifested that Canada had made greater progress in manufacturing than any other nation taking part in the Exposition. This is in confirmation of the opinion expressed in THE EXAMINER a few days ago, and may be taken as good evidence that the N. P. has not been an unmitigated evil. The great Massey-Harris Company now manufacture agricultural machines equal or superior to those produced by any other factory in the the world, at prices greatly reduced since the ante-N. P. period. Yet there are grounds for believing that a well managed factory for agricultural machinery would prosper in this agricultural province.

MIDDLETON AT BATOCHE.

A LETTER from Lieutenant-Colonel Houghton, in the Montreal Gazette, is not calculated to add to the military reputation of Major-General Middleton. The General has been publishing his reminiscences of the Northwest in the United Service Magazine. He boasts that he withstood the advice of his senior officers to retreat from Batoche, and conveys the impression that they were inclined to run away while he stood his ground and gained the glory of the victory. Colonel Houghton declares that the very reverse is the truth. He says that General Middleton directed him to order a retreat to the camp of the previous night, eight miles distant, that he remonstrated with the commander upon the inadvisability of the step, and pointed out the extremely bad moral effect it would have upon young soldiers, as well as the accession to the enemy's forces which would probably result from it; that he was angrily commanded to execute the order; that he did so; that the troops were in motion within fifteen minutes; that Dr. Orton, however, positively refused to remove the wounded men under his charge upon any consideration whatever; and that when he found Dr. Orton to be inexorable, the General countermanded the order and stopped the retreat. Upon this showing, General Middleton deserves no credit for the triumph at Batoche, and the officers and men of the expedition deserve the greater praise.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

—The failures in the United States for the last five years:

1889	5,659
1890	5,121
1891	5,200
1892	5,640
1893	5,922

The record of 1893 is not so bad after all! As compared with the United States, Great Britain has done well in the past year.

—A large proportion of some of the most valuable herds in the United States and Canada have been found, upon the application of Koch's lymph test, to be infected with tuberculosis. Numbers of costly ... als have been slaughtered. This suggests that veterinary scientists might seek to discover some cheaper way of dealing with the trouble than slaughtering so many valuable animals. Only an irremediable evil should justify such a costly process.

—John Redmond, Timothy Harrington and Joseph Kinney, leaders of the Parnellite section of the Irish parliamentary party, have issued a manife to declaring that the Liberal Government's rule is a confessed failure. It does not, the manifesto adds, differ from Tory Government. It has been marked by secret enquiries, evictions and jury-packing. Home rule, it says, has been pushed aside, and it is therefore necessary to restore Ireland to her old position of "blocking the way."

—At a meeting of representatives of most of the labor organizations in Toronto held to consider the best method of securing proportional representation, it was decided, after a lengthy discussion of various systems, that grouped constituencies with cumulative voting was calculated to produce the best results. A deputation representing labor organizations all over the province will await upon the local government shortly and ask for the introduction of a bill for a cumulative voting system during the session.

—Advices from Ithaca, New York, report that "the museum of classical archæology of Cornell University, the gift of Henry W. Sage, was dedicated a few days ago. The museum contains a large collection of Greek, Roman, Egyptian, oriental sculpture, which occupies 5,380 feet of area. The collection is unexcelled in this country among university museums, and is a rival of Boston and New York metropolitan museums. Mr. Sage chose to make the presentation on his eightieth birthday, and in honor of that event the university trustees united in presenting him with a classic silver vase. Mr. Sage's gift to Cornell university amounts to nearly $1,250,000 in cash, and, as manager of the university lands, to which he has given a large part of his time for the past 15 years his devotion, experience and ability has saved for the university a sum larger than his direct donations.

THE ELDON GLEE CLUB AT VERNON RIVER BRIDGE.

The entertainment given in the Vernon River Hall by the members of the above club on the 1st inst., was in every particular a grand success.

Notwithstanding the inclement weather and the bad condition of the roads, the hall was well filled with a highly attentive and appreciative audience. And if we may judge by the applause which followed each part of the performance both vocal and instrumental, as well as the dialogues and recitations, we must certainly conclude that the concert was very creditable to the Eldon Glee Club.

We heartily congratulate our Eldon friends upon their musical attainments, and as they intimated their intention of favoring us with another concert in aid of our hall, of which due notice will be given, we bespeak for them a bumper house, feeling perfectly satisfied that every one will enjoy the rare treat offered by the members of the Eldon Glee Club.

The election will take place on Wednesday next, 14th inst. The poll opens at 9 a. m., and closes at 5 p. m.

ST. JAMES' HALL.

THE entertainment of last evening was well attended—as is every concert under Mr Earle's management—exceedingly enjoyable. One advantage of sociable musical and literary evenings in connection with our churches is the opportunities they afford to the young talent of the town. Last evening we had the pleasure of listening for the first time to the music, on the piano, of Miss Fennell and Miss Maud Bremner. Excellent it was in the case of both, showing that both have the ability and the will to profit by Mr. Earle's instruction. Very pleasing, too, was the cornet duet by our young friends, Stewart and Worth. Such good playing is an earnest of future of skill. The beautiful instrumental duet from Donizetta, by Miss Vere Hyndman and Mr Earle was was very skilfully and brilliantly rendered. Mr. F. E. Morris ever popular—played to the evident enjoyment of the audience, and was rapturously encored. Good songs were well sung by Master Charles Earle, who, though young in years, has often sung in public, and always with success, Miss Hettie Collins and Mrs. J. M. McLeod. The latter was the gem of the evening. The quartette by Messrs. Lewis, McLean, Brown and Cook was very well rendered. Amusing readings were given by Mr. A. McKinnon, of Esdale Foundry, and Capt. Weeks, and a beautiful and pathetic story was feelingly read by Miss McNeill, of Upper Prince Street School. The Rev. Mr. Fullerton presided, and conveyed to the performers and the audience the thanks of the Young Men's Literary Association, under whose auspices the entertainment was given.

MEETING OF PRESBYTERY.

The Presbytery of P. E. Island met yesterday in the hall of Zion Church at 11 a. m., and was constituted with devotional exercises. Rev. J. M. McLeod was Moderator, with whom were present Revs. W. M. Thompson, G. B. McLeod, J. G. Cameron, Geo. McMillan, Mal. Campbell, W. A. Mason, W. P Archibald, A. A. McKenzie, and Messrs. T. C. James, W. H. Brown, John Harvey, A. C. Stewart and Hon. D. Laird.

Rev. J. K. Fraser, of Alberton, was appointed Moderator for the ensuing six months.

A petition was read from members and adherents of the congregations of Tryon and Bonshaw. On the reception of the petition it was moved after considerable discussion, by Hon. D. Laird, seconded by Rev. Mr. Mason:

"That having received the petition of a number of the members and adherents of the congregation of Tryon and Bonshaw, whom, from the statements made by the representatives of the congregation present, the Presbytery regards as a considerable majority of the same, and as said petition protests against an additional mortgage being placed upon the church property of the congregation, the Presbytery expresses sympathy with the protest and caution all parties concerned to avoid risk in the premises."

A committee was appointed to watch legislation that might affect Presbyterian interests within the bounds of the Presbytery.

The resignation of Mr. W. H. Spencer, Montague, was read, and Mr. J. G. Cameron was appointed to cite the session and congregation to appear for their interest at the meeting to be held in March.

A call from the Summerside congregation in favor of Rev. E. M. Dill, B. D., of the Presbytery of Truro, was sustained and the clerk was instructed to forward the same with all necessary documents to the Clerk of the Truro Presbytery.

Mr. T. C. James reported on behalf of the Home Mission Committee.

Very satisfactory reports were presented by the conveners of the Committees of Supply to vacancies, who were present.

The Committees on Sabbath Schools were re-appointed.

Mr. W. P. Archibald presented an excellent report on the draft book of praise sent down from the General Assembly. The report was received and unanimously adopted.

The other Assembly remits were considered, and it was unanimously agreed,—

1. That apointments to theological chairs should be by nomination of Presbytery, open voting on same by synod, the whole being subject to the General Assembly.

In re representation in church courts of Mission stations, the Presbytery agreed that this should be granted.

The clerk was instructed to order Sessions to forward their reports to the conveners of the respective committees, to enable them, in turn, to present their reports at the March meeting.

Rev. J. G. Cameron was appointed to dispense the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper in Hampton church on Sabbath, the 18th day of March.

A resolution of sympathy with the Rev. Mr. Gunn, of Cardigan, who has been laid aside by a severe illness, was drawn up, and the following were appointed a committee to take in charge the supply of his pulpit during his illness: Rev. Mr. Mason, convener; Rev. Messrs. A. King, John Gillis, E. Gillis, W. H. Spencer.

The Presbytery adjourned, to meet in the Hall of St James' Church, Charlottetown, on Tuesday, the 20th day of March, at 11 a. m.

T. F. FULLERTON,
Presbytery Clerk.

Syrup of Figs

Produced from the laxative and nutritious juice of California figs, combined with the medical virtues of plants known to be most beneficial to the human system, acts gently on the kidneys, liver and bowls, effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds and headaches, and curing habitual constipation.

A man named Thomas Nelson ate 150 oysters in a New York saloon one evening last week. Nelson wagered $150 to $100 that he could eat the oysters. He boasted of his oyster eating abilities, when an unknown sport took up his offer to bet. The money was put by William Nelson, the boaster's employer, but no relation. Nelson accomplished his feat easily, and offered to eat fifty more oysters.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

THE RESCUE OF MR. McDONALD.

SIR, Your notice of the accident at Southport on Saturday evening, Jan. 27th, copied from the Guardian, is not quite in accord with the facts of the case. You say that McDonald was very intoxicated that evening, I thought he was when I pulled him out of the water, but I saw afterwards that I was mistaken. It was just six o'clock when he fell into the pond. It was very dark that evening at that time. He simply mistook the Keppoch road for the Georgetown road on account of the telephone poles, thinking they were the telegraph poles, and as he had only a short distance to go to reach the pond, he did not realize that he was astray until he went into the water—horse, sleigh and man.

I and my two boys were just then cutting wood at my house when we heard him calling. I at once sent one of them to the stable for a rope. Myself and the other one, with a lantern, made for the pond, a distance of about two hundred yards, and the snow being very deep our progress was slow. On my way I had to cross a fence. I took a batten off the fence with me. McDonald was then standing on the bars of the sleigh, up to the shoulders in the water, the bottom of the sleigh having floated out. I reached the batten to him, but he said he could not grasp it, as he was too cold. The rope having arrived by this time, I threw it to him. He got it between his teeth and I pulled him out, after being in the water, as near as I could judge about fifteen minutes. We then tried to get the horse out, but were not able. I then sent to Mr. Kelly's for help, a distance of about 500 yards. When Mr. Kelly and his men arrived on the scene we got the horse out. By that time McDonald was beginning to perish. We then got him up to my house. It was then just seven o'clock. In about two hours he was all right. You say he was unable to return home until next day. It would be very unlikely that he could go a journey of some thirty miles at night in his wet clothes, and his harness all to pieces.

THE CITY ACCOUNTS.

SIR,—The following letter from the City Clerk, Mr. Davison, is a sufficient explanation of the charge made by Mr. Taylor that the City Accounts have been manipulated to show a surplus. Kindly insert it in your paper. Yours truly,

SIMON W. CRABBE.

H. M Davison, Esq., City Clerk:

SIR,—Mr. Taylor in his manifesto to the electors of Ward 3 charges that the City accounts have been manipulated to show a balance in favor of the City by purposely keeping back a lot of accounts, which, if paid, would show a deficit of three thousand dollars.

Will you kindly inform me for publication if such is the fact, and further, if I did not request you to get every account against the city furnished and paid before the end of the year. Yours truly,

SIMON W. CRABBE.

Ch'town, Feb. 7, 1894.

S. W. Crabbe, Esq., Chairman Finance Committee:

SIR, In reply to yours of this date, I have to say that there was no manipulation of the City accounts for the year 1893 for the purpose of showing a surplus; but, on the contrary, at your request every possible account against the City of Charlottetown was collected and paid before the end of the year, and that not one account was purposely held over. Yours &c.,

H. M. DAVISON,
City Clerk.

Feb. 7, 1894.

CIVIC AFFAIRS.

SIR,—In looking over the city accounts for 1893 the following item appears among the assets: Arrears of Water Tax Assessments, $311.35. As the water rates are paid in advance how can there be any arrears if the law is strictly adhered to without favors? Treat all alike, gentlemen, please. Again, in the statement of Civic Assessment on Real Estate for 1893 the arrears are $3192.35, the largest sum line for arrears since 1879, which is not at all creditable to the Finance Committee, and is one reform not appreciated by the taxpayers in general. It is a fact that a large number of citizens positively refuse to pay their assessments, which no doubt accounts for the large arrears of taxes. This is a matter to be looked after by the incoming Council, and it is to be hoped that the citizens will elect a gentleman for Mayor with some business capacity; one who will keep a sharp eye on all civic departments and expenditures besides drawing his yearly salary.

CITIZEN.

[Our correspondent has drawn a wrong inference in respect to the item of $311.35. The item does not refer to the water rates paid by citizens at the Water Commissioners' office, but to the water tax imposed by the City Council and payable at the City Clerk's office.]

A FLOOD OF LIGHT.

SIR, —Mr. Samuel McRae, ex-City Councillor and late Sanitary Officer, at last night's meeting was very cross and continually interrupting the speakers. Councillor McKay, however, let a flood of light upon Mr. McRae's complaints, which arose out of the action of a majority of the present Council in adding the duties of Sanitary Officer to those of the City Marshal and saving $250 a year to the city. Mr. McRae wishes to get back his $350 office, and cannot do so unless he manages to get the Hooper-Hughes party into power. Hence his activity.

WARD FIVE.

DISGRACEFUL LANGUAGE.

SIR,—Some of the language used at last night's meeting in the Orange Hall in Ward Five was disgraceful. Councillor Hughes excused himself for repeating his own filthy language by saying there were no ladies present. He forgot that there were many intelligent electors present who did not desire to hear such low talk, only fit for a bar-room, and had he turned to the head of the hall he would have seen a large picture of Queen Victoria. Either of these facts ought to have been sufficient to deter the retiring councillor from using such filth.

ELECTOR.

WARD FIVE MEETING.

SIR,—I quite agree with the statements so forcibly expressed by Mr. Angus DesRoches at the Ward Five meeting last evening regarding the policemen, or some of them, being engaged in trucking. There is plenty for them to do in their regular work without intrenching on other people's. "Let the shoemaker stick to his last." Let the police attend to their's.

TRUCKMAN.

WARD FIVE AGAIN.

SIR,—Mr. Hooper's letter in yesterday's issue may be all right—so far as it goes. There certainly must have been some cause or other for the reports he refers to. Did a certain man goto his store some days since and have any talk with him on this matter? What questions were asked, and what was his answer, if any. Will he kindly let us know all about it?

A DAILY ANNOUNCEMENT.

Something new and interesting will be found every day in James Paton & Co's advt. Their daily announcement will be something for everybody and especially the ladies to read.

A DENIAL.

SIR,—I am credibly informed that I am charged with the authorship of a paragraph in the Herald two weeks ago (and to which you also gave publicity), relating to what was called a case of destitution on Douglas Street. I had nothing whatever to do with writing the paragraph; but I may here say that if I had, I would have made the statement almost precisely as it appeared. I will further say that I have the best reason to believe that the denial published last week, also in the Herald, was made by the informant under pressure. Respectfully yours,

JAMES J. O'REILLY.

OBITUARY.

It is with feelings of profound regret that the inhabitants of Alberry and vicinity mourn the death of Mrs. Angus McDonald, which sad event took place at her residence on the 1st inst., at the early age 50 years.

Deceased was sister-in-law of His Lordship Bishop McDonald, who, owing to indisposition, was unable to be present. Her demise casts a gloom over the whole neighborhood, as she was always remarkable for her kind and amiable disposition, which endeared her to all who had the pleasure of her acquaintance. She bore her illness with Christian resignation to the Divine Will, and after receiving from her beloved pastor the last sacraments of the Catholic Church, she calmly breathed her last. Her funeral, which was very largely attended by persons of all denominations, took place on Saturday. A solemn Requiem Mass was celebrated by Rev. Monsignor M. Donald, and the choir was ably assisted by Rev. A. J. M. Donald. After the funeral services were performed, the funeral cortege wended its way to the cemetery, where all that was mortal of dear, gentle Mary Ellen was committed to the earth. Requiescat in pace.—Com.

PICKED OUT THEIR EYES

Terrible Cruelties Practiced by a Witch Doctor in Africa.

According to a recent despatch from Cape Town, Major Goold Adams has reported to the government that he has captured a witch doctor who has for a long time past been the terror of the Matabeles inhabiting the kraals in the vicinity of Shiloh. The most terrible tales are told of the cruelty and daring of this witch doctor. He is said to have been in the habit of entering the kraals when the people were so afraid of him that they dared not resist and to have carried off women and children, whom he murdered after binding them by the hands and feet, and afterwards picking out their eyes with needles. Finally the witch doctor would drag his victims to the river Khami and would retire to a convenient spot from which he watched the crocodiles pull the bodies of helpless and blinded people to pieces.

The witch doctor, who is the husband of a woman classed as a witch, and who is said to have assisted the so-called doctor in his atrocities, has been tried on the charge of murder, found guilty and sentenced to be shot.

HOW IS THIS FOR A TROTTER?—The following paragraph we clip from the Bangor Commercial of the 25th ult: Major F. W. Haskell, of Waterville, has sold mare Bess, 2.29½, by Elmo, to Mr Snell, of New Bedford, reported price, $2,500. Ed. Getchell has been handling this mare while Maj. Haskell has owned her and developed her in to a very fast sturdy performer, able at any time to beat 2.20. She is a very clever driving horse and a great trotter. To take her place Maj. Haskell has purchased of P. M. Libbey, of Waterville, the bay mare Swan, by Elmo. She is a small compactly built mare with some pretensions to speed.

LEAGUE OF THE CROSS.—The entertainment in St. Patrick's Hall last evening, under the auspices of the Boys' Branch of the League of the Cross, was well attended and the programme prepared for the occasion was carried out in a very creditable manner.

HOSPITAL NURSES.—The graduating class of the training school for nurses in connection with the P. E. Island Hospital will be presented with their diplomas at the Y. M. C. A. Hall on Thursday evening, February 15th, at 8 o'clock. An interesting programme is being prepared for the occasion.

Hawker's Catarrh Cure Cured Him.

Freddie Stone, whose portrait appears herewith, lives with his mother, Mrs. E. Stone, at 117 Acadia street, St. John, and is in his seventh year. Three years ago he was seized by that dread disease, catarrh. His trouble was accompanied by a discharge from the ears, and then from the nose and mouth. He suffered intensely, became very thin, could not sleep at night, and his breath became very offensive. His condition caused his mother untold anguish lest she should lose her child. Her family physician prescribed for him but without effect. In June, 1892, she began taking him to the general public hospital for treatment. Every day for a long time she went there.

Three different doctors examined him and two of them prescribed for him. Burning of the tonsils was tried but failed to cure. Expensive instruments were procured for use at home in giving temporary relief. One physician told the mother that nothing but a surgical operation would save her boy, but he was too weak to endure such an operation which the other doctors agreed should be performed.

Mrs. Stone, however, steadily refused to agree to this, and there the matter rested. On July 12th, of this year she procured a 25c. box of Hawkers catarrh cure and began to treat the boy with it. The effect was instantaneous. A vigorous discharge of matter from nose and mouth immediately followed its application and the boy experienced great relief. She also began to give him Hawker's Nerve and Stomach Tonic to build him up, and here the effect was no less striking. In a short time the boy was able to eat and sleep well, began to attend school and was once more cheerful and happy. The delighted mother told a physician about it and he told her to continue giving the Hawker remedies. He said they were good. She did so, and the result is seen in the fact that little Freddie Stone is able to sleep sound and well, eat heartily and run about like other boys in all kinds of weather, regularly and practically cured of that which the doctors said would cause his death unless the surgeon's knife were applied. And only three boxes of Hawker's catarrh cure have been used. The story is a remarkable one and places Hawker's catarrh cure at the very head of the list of remedies of that loathsome disease. The story is told here just as it was told by the grateful mother herself, and she will gladly add her personal assurance to the genuineness of the cure. Hawker's Catarrh Cure is sold by all druggists and dealers, or sent direct post-paid, on receipt of price by the Hawker Medicine Co'y, Ltd, St John, N. B., Price 25 cents a box.
