

Charters Presented To Newly Formed Lions Clubs

Charters were presented to the newly organized Kensington and Summerside Lions Clubs at a joint charter night meeting in Summerside last evening, attended by about 100 members and wives from Lions clubs in Charlottetown, Kensington, Summerside, O'Leary, and Alberton.

The charters were presented by district governor, Andrew G. Gunter, of Saint John, N. B., and were accepted by Herbert Schurman, president of the Summerside club, and Eugene Spicer, president of the Kensington club.

Each of the two clubs were also presented with bell and gavel by the Charlottetown Lions Club who sponsored the two new clubs.

Mr. Herbert Schurman was the charter night chairman, and the master of ceremonies was Eric Jessome of Kensington.

In his address to the meeting Mr. Gunter announced that a deputy district governor and a zone chairman for Lions in Prince Edward Island will shortly be named from recommendations submitted by the various clubs.

He described Lionism as a way of life that affords the opportunity to get together for community betterment.

Referring to the history and growth of the organization since Lions International was formed 38 years ago, he said that it now has over half a million members in eleven thousand clubs in sixty-one countries of the world.

To the officers and members of the two clubs he urged acceptance of responsibility to see that the clubs are operated so that the people of those communities will recognize the value of the clubs.

He said that he had learned recently that the Kensington Lions Club has already started a commendable project which involved the construction of a house at Kensington for an invalid who needed a home. Later it was announced that the O'Leary club had rendered material assistance to a family in a neighbouring district who suffered loss of their home through fire.

Mayor Henry Wedge of Summerside was present and extended official greetings to the visiting clubs, officials, and guests.

He said that he had observed the grand work the three other service clubs in S'Side had accomplished in community work and didn't think the town had too much to boast because there was so much work to do and so few to do it.

The charter night chairman, Roy Grant, spoke briefly and paid tribute to organizational work done by various members in the clubs including Doug Mitchell of Summerside and Gerald MacKenzie of Kensington, who assisted Mr. Grant in preparation for last night's program.

Mr. J. Calvin Welsh, special representative for Lions International, whose efforts resulted in the formation of the four clubs in Prince County, thanked the members for their co-operation.

He defined Lionism as a group of men working together for others; and he announced that the date of charter night to be held at O'Leary for the O'Leary and Alberton clubs

Let's Talk It Over

"The time has come," the walrus said, "to talk of many things."

Such as the motorists who have the habit of going through a town like Summerside with their lights full up. We can't see that it is ever necessary, and it makes things more difficult for other drivers than is the case on the open highway. There ought to be a law. Maybe there is. In that case, there ought to be a policeman, to take action.

Some time ago someone raised an objection to newlyweds going through the town with horns blaring. We defended them from the grounds that this is a very special occasion in their lives, and the happy couple should be allowed to call attention to their blissful state. We feel differently, however, when the horns of a motorist who, when delayed a minute or so by a traffic snarl keep up a steady blowing. Sometimes there are three or four in the queue of cars blowing horns at once. To make it worse, Sunday evening seems to be their favorite night to howl. Does this call for some kind of action?

And now to change the mood with a banquet—Congratulations to the Summerside Police for their round-the-clock watch that caught the boys with the sweet-tooth complex. This sort of unremitting vigil should be a warning to all evildoers in the vicinity.

The way our educational picture is developing, we would not be surprised if some teacher soon gets from some indignant mother a note reading: "Johnny ain't no fox. Don't pill him. Larn him."

play a particularly nice choice from the children's point of view.

The two pixies, "Smarty" and "Tricky," played by Arthur MacInnis and Richard Baldwin were commended on having so much fun on the stage, and particularly for working so well as a team. Their voices were good, Mr. Wetmore said, and they gave their roles lots of variety.

He complimented Mrs. Wenn on her training of the other characters in the production, his main criticism being that he thought the voices a little strained and loud at times. Lighting, he said, was excellent, the bright white light being ideal for this picture of Never Never Land, individual banners were presented to all members of the cast.

The second performance of the evening, Philip Johnson's one-act play "Hullabaloo", presented by Parkdale W. I. and directed by Cecelia Blatch, had been prepared for the Festival in the short span of three weeks, but nevertheless drew praise from the adjudicator

800 Canadians Arrive At Seattle En Route Home

SEATTLE (CP)—More than 800 soldiers of the 4th Battalion Canadian Guards arrived here aboard a U.S. transport Friday en route to their homes.

The navy transport Gen. McMeigs docked in a cold rain with 2,400 U.S. troops and the 844 Canadians.

The Canadians and their commander, Lt.-Col. Val Le Duc of Montreal were greeted by Lt.-Col. L. J. St. Laurent of the Canadian Army's western command headquarters at Edmonton.

It was a quiet homecoming to a cold and drizzle-dampened pier. There was none of the music and fanfare that has greeted many of the troops in the past.

The Canadians were to entrain promptly for their home across the dominion.

WO2 A. L. Lovett of Halifax and Cpl. Ted Fargo of Vancouver grinned happily, among the first Canadians off the ship.

"Good to be home," you bet, was the general response.

P.W.C. News & Views

Hi there, everybody! At long last here are the "News and Views" of Prince of Wales. Remember us? We were with you last year, and will be with you again each Saturday (we hope). So dig these crazy mixed-up words with us every week-end and keep hep to what gives with your favourite college.

The biggest deal right now is the coronation of the King and Queen of our campus. Two candidates from each year have been nominated: First Year, Maida Rogerson, and Alan MacKenzie; Second Year, Connie Chandler and Janet Wood; Third Year, Janet Wood and Doug Cudmore; Fourth Year, Kathy Craig, and Lou Peoli; Commerce; Margie Fraze, and Don Whelan; Teacher Training, Bertha Birch and Glen Leco. From this group the student body has elected a new King and Queen. They are — You dunno, do yuh? — But the big secret will be out come Monday night at the Coronation Ball. This dance promises to be the most, to say the least. Advance reports say the P. W. C. auditorium will be beautifully decorated for this important occasion. The "Downtowners" will supply the music.

All that, plus the opportunity to see and pay homage to the Royal Family of Prince of Wales. Dickens wrote a book called "Great Expectations". What the dickens! — We have them in a column.

The "little black book" of P. W. C., the college directory, currently in a red cover, still tops the list of best-sellers. Edition is limited, so roar around and get your copy.

Harold Kemp, editor-in-chief of the "College Times" assures us that the first issue of our paper will hit the streets on December third.

Even though the Football season is officially over, we still can't help but giving with that old college yell every time we think of our team's winning the championship. We, at Prince of Wales, think this is the greatest, yes, the greatest, the final victory, the team enjoyed a banquet and dance held in their honor. A pat on the back and a tip of the hat to you, boys.

Our powerful Welshmen basketball team made their first appearance of the season Wednesday night, when the Welshmen defeated the Celtics by a score of 42-16. Hope this is a forecast of things to come.

P. W. C. Girls and the Abbie Sisters played a very close hoop game Wednesday evening, also. The Sisters took the game with a score of 25-21. Let's give both these Prince of Wales basketball teams our full support for the remainder of the season.

Gay blades at P. W. C. enjoy Menettes Bunny Archer and Rae Adams. The meeting closed with the Queen.

S' side High Notes

This week at Summerside High we were thrilled to be privileged to listen to some records by Dylan Thomas, who was a famous Welsh poet. He died on November 9th of this year at the age of 39 years while on a tour of the United States. His voice had a magnificent range and beauty which made his recitation of poetry as sublime as his writing of it. We heard such poems as "Do not go gently," "Into that good Night" and "The long-legged Bat." They were very interesting. The records were lent to the school by Mrs. Earle Smith.

Congratulations are hereby extended to Eileen Staver of North Bedouque and now attending grade XI classes at Sum-Hi for having been awarded a bursary of $50.00 from the Summerside Business and Professional Women's Club.

Johnny Whalen and Dean Cause, grade eleven and grade nine pupils respectively of Sum-Hi last year, are attending St. Dunstan's University this year.

In the high school bowling this week Marjorie Perry took the girls' high single and high three with 218 and 568. For the boys, Alan Crue notched up 276 for the high single, and Don Ross was tops with a high three of 621. The scores for the teams were as follows: Amalgamated Dairies—2645 (4 points); Vics Fish and Chips—2364 (0 points); C.J.R.R.—2775 (3 points); Summerside Co-Op—2733 (1 point); Edwin Heckbert Studios 2558 (3 points); Imperial Esso—2396 (1 point); Jenkins Grocery—(2530) (1 point); Mutt's Guys and Gals—2489 (1 point).

Conservative Rally Held At Wellington

—Speaking last night at a Progressive Conservative rally at Wellington, Hon. R. R. Bell, leader of the Opposition, dealt with the failure of the Liberal Government to enact agricultural legislation that would, he said, make farming attractive enough to keep young people from leaving this province.

He pledged the support of his government, if elected at the next election, to obtain free school books for all the school children of Prince Edward Island and also that a more equitable old age pension would be paid because he claimed that the government had the funds to do this, with the assistance of the Federal Government.

Speaking in support of the Progressive Conservative candidate, Mr. Chester S. MacDonald, Summerside barrister, he said that Mr. Gallant could also claim a notable record. Mr. Gallant had three sons who had served their country in the armed services, one of whom had died on active service.

Mr. MacDonald said that Liberal candidate Mr. Augustin Gallant was in the peculiar position of being the secretary of the Progressive Conservative Association of Third Prince as well as the Liberal candidate since he had never at any time resigned that office with the Conservatives.

Other speakers included Mr. Walter MacKenzie and the candidate, Mr. Cyrus P. Gallant, who spoke in both French and English.

Mr. John F. Arsenault of Wellington was chairman.

Y's Menettes Club Meeting

—The monthly meeting of the Y's Menettes Club of Summerside was held at the Y Centre, Wednesday, October 24th. The meeting opened with the Y's Menettes prayer. Y's Menette Dorothy Clark expressed her pleasure on being appointed president of the Y's Menettes Club and said she held high hopes for a very successful year. Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. Secretary Pat MacFarlane read an outline of the proposed by-laws of the constitution. After these were discussed separately, it was moved and seconded that they be adopted, with the exception that the meetings be held at 8 p.m. instead of 8:30.

Y's Menette Rae Adams gave the treasurer's report for the year 1953-54.

It was decided to purchase a portrait of John Paul Alexander, founder of the Y's Men. It was also decided to order one dozen Y's Menette pins as well as a president and past president pin.

Y's Menette Marion Melkie was appointed sick and visiting committee and cards are to be purchased for this purpose. It was decided to make favors for the hospital trays at the December meeting. The meeting was then turned over to the program committee and Y's Menette Hope Cameron gave a most interesting and thought provoking talk on the founding of Y'sdom and the duties of a Y's Menette.

A delicious lunch was served by the hostess for the evening, Y's
