IN MEMORIAM

MRS. JAMES CAMPBELL

Spring Valley was saddened when they learned that a beloved resident in the person of Mrs. James Campbell had passed to her eternal reward. She will be missed by every one as she had a lovely disposition and her kind and genial manner endeared her to everyone, old and young alike. She was always ready to help anyone in trouble and sickness, and a wonderful neighbor.

Being sickly all winter, she was confined to her bed only the last ten days of her life. Suffering unbearable pain, but with patience, she always spoke of going where there is no more pain. Everything that could be done for her was done. Medical skill was of no avail. God called her home and she that was heavy-laden, He will give her rest. She was carefully nursed by her son and daughter-in-law. It is the home where she will be missed the most as she always had a word of cheer for everyone she met. One always felt better after meeting her and she leaves a beautiful memory that will be hard to forget.

Before her marriage, she was formerly Margaret Jane Duggan, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Duggan of Spring Valley.

Being twice married, first to George Stevenson of Boston, Mass., having three children by her first husband: Roy in Medford, Mass., Jennie, Mrs. Arthur Stewart, Sea View, P. E. I., Hilda, Mrs. Stirling Andrews, Freetown. She lived fifteen years in the U. S. A. when her husband passed away. She returned to P. E. I. where she married Mr. James Campbell. She had two children: Mona, Mrs. Cecil Campbell, Irishtown, Lloyd at home with whom she resided. She also leaves to mourn, the following sisters and brothers, namely: Mrs. Winfred Ramsay, Hamilton, Mrs. Weston Francis, Freetown, Mrs. Albert Connick, Spring Valley and John Duggan, Kensington and Guy Duggan, Spring Valley.

The funeral was held Saturday afternoon at two o'clock from her late residence, people coming from far and near to pay their last respects to one they loved and honored.

In the absence of her pastor, Rev. D. M. Campbell, New London, conducted the service. He spoke words of comfort to the bereaved, speaking from the fifteenth chapter of Corinthians. The hymns sung were: "Rock of Ages", "Safe in the Arms of Jesus", and a special solo was softly sung by Mr. J. B. Lewis of Freetown: "Life's Railway to Heaven", a favorite of the deceased. The pallbearers were her six nephews: Harold Ramsay, Walter Duggan, Alvin Sudsbury, Ralph Connick, Fred Campbell, Everett Francis.

She was tenderly laid to rest in the People's Cemetery at Malpeque, beside her husband who predeceased her. At the grave, Mr. Joseph L. Davidson was in charge.
