

KEITH L. BREHAUT, right, of Bumbury was named president of the P.E.I. Rural Beautification Society at the annual meeting held here Saturday afternoon. Wendell MacKay, Charlottetown at the left, is the vice-president. Others, left to right, are Glen MacLaren, New Perth, retiring vice-president who presided, and Lt. Col. E.W. Johnstone, Burlington who sparked the rural beautification idea 20 years ago.

Society Seeks Best Idea For Centennial Project

Prince Edward Island's Rural Beautification Society is seeking the best idea possible for a 1967 Centennial Project, it was announced at the annual meeting held Saturday afternoon in Birch Court at the Experimental Farm. The idea of seeking ideas from anyone in the province was suggested by Wendell MacKay who was named vice-president of the organization.

Keith L. Brehaut, director of the Bumbury nursery is the new president. Glen MacLaren, New Perth, retiring vice-president, presided. R.B. Nazelle, Bumbury, is past president.

Dr. Reddin Funeral Held

REDDIN FUNERAL — The funeral for Dr. James D. Reddin was held Saturday morning from his late residence to St. Andrew's Church, Mt. Stewart, where the remains were received by his pastor Rev. George MacCormack. Solemn Requiem High Mass was celebrated by Rt. Rev. George A. MacDonald, Deacon and sub-deacon were Rev. J.P.E. O'Hanley and Rev. T.P. Butler. Rev. Allan MacDonald was master of ceremonies. The mass was sung by the Sisters of St. Martha. Members of the Prince Edward Island Dental Association and the Mt. Stewart Fire department attended in a body. Interment was in St. Andrew's Cemetery where service was conducted by Father MacCormack. Present in the sanctuary were Rt. Rev. J.A. Sullivan, Rev. Wilfred Keefe, Rev. K.C. McMillan, Rev. Lawrence Landrigan, Rev. Francis Alyward, Rev. O.P. Wood, Rev. Eugene Murray, Rev. Owen Sharkey, Rev. Denis Gallant, Rev. Clair MacDonald, Rev. James Kelly and Rev. Francis Ledwell.

Pallbearers were Albert Reddin, Daniel Reddin, Richard Reddin, John Reddin, Eldred Farmer and Peter Steele, all nephews of the deceased.

LOCAL BRIEFS

IS CONVALESCING
John G. Stewart, Caledonia, is convalescing at home after treatment at Montague Hospital.

UNDER OBSERVATION
D.L. MacPherson, Caledonia, is a patient in City Hospital, Charlottetown, under observation.

ENTERS HOSPITAL
Lester Sherren, Bunter River, has entered the P.E.I. Hospital, Charlottetown, following a heart attack.

CARD WINNERS
Velda Proud and Fenton MacLure were winners of a tournament play at the regular card party held at Brackley School Saturday evening. Following are other results: ladies first, Ruth Stewart; consolation, Margaret Clark; second, Belle Young; gentlemen first, Willard MacCallum; second, Harold MacHughes.

Fuel Stove Oils Burner Service
A complete stock of furnace parts on hand. Your Shell Agent for Charlottetown, Parkdale, Sherwood and Eastern P. E. I.

J. W. Skinner
Dial 4-4044

Col. Johnstone, who is president of the P.E.I. Tourist Association said it will sponsor a competition in the beautification society this year. It will also help out on the expense involved, it was suggested.

The meeting Saturday decided that the nominating committee to bring in a slate of officers for Centennial year should be named at least three months prior to next year's annual meeting.

Special thanks were tendered by the meeting to auditor R.B. MacLaren, Experimental Farm; to secretary Leonard Arsenault, Charlottetown; to Mr. Brehaut and to Neil A. Matheson of this paper, among others.

R.B. Snazelle, Bumbury was named past president of the organization. Other directors named for the coming year include Edward Dymont, Margate; Col. Johnstone, David A. Scales and Mr. Arsenault of Charlottetown; Claude Smith, Parkdale; Mrs. David Mutch, Mermaid; G. Keith Pickard, Summerside and Glen MacLaren.

Named to the advisory committee are Mrs. D.C. Marchbank, Travellers Rest; D.C. Schurman, Fulton Pierce, William Meggison and George Fraser, Charlottetown; Charles Linkletter, Summerside; Charles Yeo, Sherbrooke; Don Anderson, St. Peter's; Harry Lowther and Mrs. Gordon MacMillan, Cornwall; Neil A. Matheson of this paper.

WEATHER

TORONTO (CP) — Observed temperatures:

Low overnight High Sunday
Dawson	5 15
Victoria	36 44
Edmonton	19 29
Regina	6 9
Winnipeg	-6 -2
Toronto	34 35
Ottawa	23 32
Montreal	27 36
Quebec	15 35
Fredericton	15 37
Saint John	17 35
Moncton	19 36
Halifax	28 34
Charlottetown	20 33
Sydney	23 35
Yarmouth	25 37
St. John's	24 26
Albany	23 35
Boston	34 40
Atlanta	54 54
Tampa	64 69
New Orleans	48 64
Los Angeles	42 60

Col. Johnstone showed the way when he transformed his farm home at Burlington and turned it eventually into the professional show place that it is at the present time. It was his example, as well as his suggestion of boosting the idea on a province-wide basis, that sparked the society here originally, it was observed, though many people have contributed to the success of the society on a large scale in more recent years.

From six to eight inches of snow is forecast for northern New Brunswick with the approach and passage of this storm. From four to six inches of snow is expected in southern New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island before the snow changes to rain. In northern Nova Scotia and Cape Breton from two to four inches of snow will occur before the snow changes to rain. Freezing rain will occasionally be mixed with the snow overnight in southern New Brunswick, Prince Edward Island, Cape Breton and in northern Nova Scotia. Freezing rain is not likely to be in sufficient quantities or last long enough to cause a hazard.

Regional forecasts:
Prince Edward Island, Eastern New Brunswick Counties, Lower St. John River Valley: Overcast; rain changing to snowflurries early this evening; extremely mild; winds southeast 25 with gusts to 45 shifting in the morning to northeast 25 with gusts to 45 and Monday afternoon to northwest 25 with gusts to 45; temperatures remaining steady at Charlottetown, Moncton, Fredericton and Saint John at about 38.

High tide today at Charlottetown 5.21 a.m. and 5.14 p.m. At Rustico at 1.16 a.m. and 12.50 p.m. Summerside tide eighteen minutes later than Charlottetown. Sun rises today at 7.08 a.m. and sets at 5.47 p.m.

Island News Page

Eastern and Central Districts
The Guardian, Charlottetown, Mon., Feb. 14, 1966. 5

PLANT

(Continued from page 1)
Several suggested that much of the opposition to a livestock marketing yard here comes from local cattle buyers. It would put them out of business, it was suggested.

John A. Rodd, Milton said that co-operative marketing is the answer for farm price problems. He's provincial president of the federation of agriculture.

There was considerable discussion on delayed "deficiency payments" on manufactured milk.

Mrs. Clare Haslam, Springfield was secretary of the meeting.

Receives News Of Uncle's Death

Frank Jones of Charlottetown received news Saturday morning of the death of his uncle, Franklin F. Gould, Freeport, Maine.

Mr. Gould is survived by his wife, the former Hilda Jenkins of Vernon River, P.E.I., two sons and two daughters.

Funeral services will be held Monday at Freeport.

Police Check Hit And Run

The Charlottetown Police department is investigating a hit and run accident which occurred Saturday.

Reports indicate that a 1965 model Studebaker owned by Dr. Allan MacMillan, City, parked near 66 McGill Avenue about 9:45 p.m., was struck by another car which did not stop. Police believe the car was a green Mercury.

Estimate of damages to Dr. MacMillan's car was not available.

IRISH JOINED LATER
The present Union Jack was designed in 1901, when the cross of St. Patrick was added to those of St. Andrew and St. George.

OPEN TONIGHT MONDAY UNTIL 9 P.M.

DO IT NOW
Visit Us For Ideas For Better Living

CHANDLER BROS. LTD.
Building Supplies
No. 1 Plywood Place
Charlottetown, P. E. I. 4-6557

Lisa Parker Doing Well

TORONTO (CP) — Lisa Parker, 11-month-old Georgetown, P.E.I., baby who has worn an artificial heart pacer since she was two weeks old, is doing well in the Hospital for Sick Children here as she adjusts to a slower heartbeat.

She was in the hospital last December when an electrode from the small electronic pacer — installed when her heartbeat slowed dangerously shortly after her birth because of a defect-pulled out of the heart muscle.

It was corrected and Lisa was sent home in the middle of January. However, she was flown back to Toronto Feb. 5 when her heartbeat slowed again.

Doctors at the hospital said Sunday the infant is being watched closely and is doing well.

WILL DISCUSS RESEARCH

OTTAWA (CP) — The 12th annual conference on Canadian muskox research will be held at the University of Alberta's Calgary campus May 19-20, the National Research Council announced Saturday.

LARGELY ATTENDED MEETING

Knud Jorgensen, SECOND FROM LEFT, president Saturday night at a largely attended meeting of agriculturists at Breadalbane, Rudi Dallenbach, Helen Dunbar; second, Mrs. D. Farmer and Mrs. Hilda Greene; third, Mrs. Grace King, Ron Murphy; second, Mrs. J.W. Wilsack; Mrs. Marie Carragher, Kirby and Jim Kirby; third, Mary Duffy and Mae Himes.

Second season winners on North South are as follows: first Jack Cutcliffe; third, B. Ellis and Tom Cauty.

Following are the results of the two-session event.
North - South: first, Mr. and Mrs. J. Cutcliffe, second; Mrs. Mae-MacMillan and Mrs. L.L. Duffy; third, Mrs. Hilda Green and Mrs. D. Farmer, Mrs. H.

Recalling the campaign for a marketing yard here several years ago, Mr. Jorgensen said that the price for beef cattle was much higher at that time. It was never more than one cent per pound below the Montreal price, he said. It's usually three cents below now, he said.

Mr. Dallenbach was greatly surprised by the large meeting of farmers I have seen in the more than one and one-half years I've been in the province," he said.

Mr. Jorgensen said that he had visited the stockyards in Montreal recently, and steers were selling there for 23 cents to 27 cents per pound alive. "We all agree we are taking a licking on our beef cattle here," he said.

Nelson Matheson said there's no doubt "the farmer is being robbed." He had tried the Halifax Abattoir with two really good animals but was most displeased at the price he received, Mr. Matheson said.

Recalling the campaign for a marketing yard here several years ago, Mr. Jorgensen said that the price for beef cattle was much higher at that time. It was never more than one cent per pound below the Montreal price, he said. It's usually three cents below now, he said.

Recalling the campaign for a marketing yard here several years ago, Mr. Jorgensen said that the price for beef cattle was much higher at that time. It was never more than one cent per pound below the Montreal price, he said. It's usually three cents below now, he said.

Recalling the campaign for a marketing yard here several years ago, Mr. Jorgensen said that the price for beef cattle was much higher at that time. It was never more than one cent per pound below the Montreal price, he said. It's usually three cents below now, he said.

Recalling the campaign for a marketing yard here several years ago, Mr. Jorgensen said that the price for beef cattle was much higher at that time. It was never more than one cent per pound below the Montreal price, he said. It's usually three cents below now, he said.

Recalling the campaign for a marketing yard here several years ago, Mr. Jorgensen said that the price for beef cattle was much higher at that time. It was never more than one cent per pound below the Montreal price, he said. It's usually three cents below now, he said.

Recalling the campaign for a marketing yard here several years ago, Mr. Jorgensen said that the price for beef cattle was much higher at that time. It was never more than one cent per pound below the Montreal price, he said. It's usually three cents below now, he said.

Recalling the campaign for a marketing yard here several years ago, Mr. Jorgensen said that the price for beef cattle was much higher at that time. It was never more than one cent per pound below the Montreal price, he said. It's usually three cents below now, he said.

Recalling the campaign for a marketing yard here several years ago, Mr. Jorgensen said that the price for beef cattle was much higher at that time. It was never more than one cent per pound below the Montreal price, he said. It's usually three cents below now, he said.

Recalling the campaign for a marketing yard here several years ago, Mr. Jorgensen said that the price for beef cattle was much higher at that time. It was never more than one cent per pound below the Montreal price, he said. It's usually three cents below now, he said.

Recalling the campaign for a marketing yard here several years ago, Mr. Jorgensen said that the price for beef cattle was much higher at that time. It was never more than one cent per pound below the Montreal price, he said. It's usually three cents below now, he said.

Recalling the campaign for a marketing yard here several years ago, Mr. Jorgensen said that the price for beef cattle was much higher at that time. It was never more than one cent per pound below the Montreal price, he said. It's usually three cents below now, he said.

Recalling the campaign for a marketing yard here several years ago, Mr. Jorgensen said that the price for beef cattle was much higher at that time. It was never more than one cent per pound below the Montreal price, he said. It's usually three cents below now, he said.

Recalling the campaign for a marketing yard here several years ago, Mr. Jorgensen said that the price for beef cattle was much higher at that time. It was never more than one cent per pound below the Montreal price, he said. It's usually three cents below now, he said.

Recalling the campaign for a marketing yard here several years ago, Mr. Jorgensen said that the price for beef cattle was much higher at that time. It was never more than one cent per pound below the Montreal price, he said. It's usually three cents below now, he said.

LARGELY ATTENDED MEETING

Knud Jorgensen, SECOND FROM LEFT, president Saturday night at a largely attended meeting of agriculturists at Breadalbane, Rudi Dallenbach, Helen Dunbar; second, Mrs. D. Farmer and Mrs. Hilda Greene; third, Mrs. Grace King, Ron Murphy; second, Mrs. J.W. Wilsack; Mrs. Marie Carragher, Kirby and Jim Kirby; third, Mary Duffy and Mae Himes.

Second season winners on North South are as follows: first Jack Cutcliffe; third, B. Ellis and Tom Cauty.

Following are the results of the two-session event.
North - South: first, Mr. and Mrs. J. Cutcliffe, second; Mrs. Mae-MacMillan and Mrs. L.L. Duffy; third, Mrs. Hilda Green and Mrs. D. Farmer, Mrs. H.

Recalling the campaign for a marketing yard here several years ago, Mr. Jorgensen said that the price for beef cattle was much higher at that time. It was never more than one cent per pound below the Montreal price, he said. It's usually three cents below now, he said.

Mr. Dallenbach was greatly surprised by the large meeting of farmers I have seen in the more than one and one-half years I've been in the province," he said.

Mr. Jorgensen said that he had visited the stockyards in Montreal recently, and steers were selling there for 23 cents to 27 cents per pound alive. "We all agree we are taking a licking on our beef cattle here," he said.

Nelson Matheson said there's no doubt "the farmer is being robbed." He had tried the Halifax Abattoir with two really good animals but was most displeased at the price he received, Mr. Matheson said.

Recalling the campaign for a marketing yard here several years ago, Mr. Jorgensen said that the price for beef cattle was much higher at that time. It was never more than one cent per pound below the Montreal price, he said. It's usually three cents below now, he said.

Recalling the campaign for a marketing yard here several years ago, Mr. Jorgensen said that the price for beef cattle was much higher at that time. It was never more than one cent per pound below the Montreal price, he said. It's usually three cents below now, he said.

Recalling the campaign for a marketing yard here several years ago, Mr. Jorgensen said that the price for beef cattle was much higher at that time. It was never more than one cent per pound below the Montreal price, he said. It's usually three cents below now, he said.

Recalling the campaign for a marketing yard here several years ago, Mr. Jorgensen said that the price for beef cattle was much higher at that time. It was never more than one cent per pound below the Montreal price, he said. It's usually three cents below now, he said.

Recalling the campaign for a marketing yard here several years ago, Mr. Jorgensen said that the price for beef cattle was much higher at that time. It was never more than one cent per pound below the Montreal price, he said. It's usually three cents below now, he said.

Recalling the campaign for a marketing yard here several years ago, Mr. Jorgensen said that the price for beef cattle was much higher at that time. It was never more than one cent per pound below the Montreal price, he said. It's usually three cents below now, he said.

Recalling the campaign for a marketing yard here several years ago, Mr. Jorgensen said that the price for beef cattle was much higher at that time. It was never more than one cent per pound below the Montreal price, he said. It's usually three cents below now, he said.

Recalling the campaign for a marketing yard here several years ago, Mr. Jorgensen said that the price for beef cattle was much higher at that time. It was never more than one cent per pound below the Montreal price, he said. It's usually three cents below now, he said.

Recalling the campaign for a marketing yard here several years ago, Mr. Jorgensen said that the price for beef cattle was much higher at that time. It was never more than one cent per pound below the Montreal price, he said. It's usually three cents below now, he said.

Recalling the campaign for a marketing yard here several years ago, Mr. Jorgensen said that the price for beef cattle was much higher at that time. It was never more than one cent per pound below the Montreal price, he said. It's usually three cents below now, he said.

Recalling the campaign for a marketing yard here several years ago, Mr. Jorgensen said that the price for beef cattle was much higher at that time. It was never more than one cent per pound below the Montreal price, he said. It's usually three cents below now, he said.

Recalling the campaign for a marketing yard here several years ago, Mr. Jorgensen said that the price for beef cattle was much higher at that time. It was never more than one cent per pound below the Montreal price, he said. It's usually three cents below now, he said.

Recalling the campaign for a marketing yard here several years ago, Mr. Jorgensen said that the price for beef cattle was much higher at that time. It was never more than one cent per pound below the Montreal price, he said. It's usually three cents below now, he said.

Recalling the campaign for a marketing yard here several years ago, Mr. Jorgensen said that the price for beef cattle was much higher at that time. It was never more than one cent per pound below the Montreal price, he said. It's usually three cents below now, he said.

LARGELY ATTENDED MEETING

Knud Jorgensen, SECOND FROM LEFT, president Saturday night at a largely attended meeting of agriculturists at Breadalbane, Rudi Dallenbach, Helen Dunbar; second, Mrs. D. Farmer and Mrs. Hilda Greene; third, Mrs. Grace King, Ron Murphy; second, Mrs. J.W. Wilsack; Mrs. Marie Carragher, Kirby and Jim Kirby; third, Mary Duffy and Mae Himes.

Second season winners on North South are as follows: first Jack Cutcliffe; third, B. Ellis and Tom Cauty.

Following are the results of the two-session event.
North - South: first, Mr. and Mrs. J. Cutcliffe, second; Mrs. Mae-MacMillan and Mrs. L.L. Duffy; third, Mrs. Hilda Green and Mrs. D. Farmer, Mrs. H.

Recalling the campaign for a marketing yard here several years ago, Mr. Jorgensen said that the price for beef cattle was much higher at that time. It was never more than one cent per pound below the Montreal price, he said. It's usually three cents below now, he said.

Mr. Dallenbach was greatly surprised by the large meeting of farmers I have seen in the more than one and one-half years I've been in the province," he said.

Mr. Jorgensen said that he had visited the stockyards in Montreal recently, and steers were selling there for 23 cents to 27 cents per pound alive. "We all agree we are taking a licking on our beef cattle here," he said.

Nelson Matheson said there's no doubt "the farmer is being robbed." He had tried the Halifax Abattoir with two really good animals but was most displeased at the price he received, Mr. Matheson said.

Recalling the campaign for a marketing yard here several years ago, Mr. Jorgensen said that the price for beef cattle was much higher at that time. It was never more than one cent per pound below the Montreal price, he said. It's usually three cents below now, he said.

Recalling the campaign for a marketing yard here several years ago, Mr. Jorgensen said that the price for beef cattle was much higher at that time. It was never more than one cent per pound below the Montreal price, he said. It's usually three cents below now, he said.

Recalling the campaign for a marketing yard here several years ago, Mr. Jorgensen said that the price for beef cattle was much higher at that time. It was never more than one cent per pound below the Montreal price, he said. It's usually three cents below now, he said.

Recalling the campaign for a marketing yard here several years ago, Mr. Jorgensen said that the price for beef cattle was much higher at that time. It was never more than one cent per pound below the Montreal price, he said. It's usually three cents below now, he said.

Recalling the campaign for a marketing yard here several years ago, Mr. Jorgensen said that the price for beef cattle was much higher at that time. It was never more than one cent per pound below the Montreal price, he said. It's usually three cents below now, he said.

Recalling the campaign for a marketing yard here several years ago, Mr. Jorgensen said that the price for beef cattle was much higher at that time. It was never more than one cent per pound below the Montreal price, he said. It's usually three cents below now, he said.

Recalling the campaign for a marketing yard here several years ago, Mr. Jorgensen said that the price for beef cattle was much higher at that time. It was never more than one cent per pound below the Montreal price, he said. It's usually three cents below now, he said.

Recalling the campaign for a marketing yard here several years ago, Mr. Jorgensen said that the price for beef cattle was much higher at that time. It was never more than one cent per pound below the Montreal price, he said. It's usually three cents below now, he said.

Recalling the campaign for a marketing yard here several years ago, Mr. Jorgensen said that the price for beef cattle was much higher at that time. It was never more than one cent per pound below the Montreal price, he said. It's usually three cents below now, he said.

Recalling the campaign for a marketing yard here several years ago, Mr. Jorgensen said that the price for beef cattle was much higher at that time. It was never more than one cent per pound below the Montreal price, he said. It's usually three cents below now, he said.

Recalling the campaign for a marketing yard here several years ago, Mr. Jorgensen said that the price for beef cattle was much higher at that time. It was never more than one cent per pound below the Montreal price, he said. It's usually three cents below now, he said.

Recalling the campaign for a marketing yard here several years ago, Mr. Jorgensen said that the price for beef cattle was much higher at that time. It was never more than one cent per pound below the Montreal price, he said. It's usually three cents below now, he said.

Recalling the campaign for a marketing yard here several years ago, Mr. Jorgensen said that the price for beef cattle was much higher at that time. It was never more than one cent per pound below the Montreal price, he said. It's usually three cents below now, he said.

Recalling the campaign for a marketing yard here several years ago, Mr. Jorgensen said that the price for beef cattle was much higher at that time. It was never more than one cent per pound below the Montreal price, he said. It's usually three cents below now, he said.

LARGELY ATTENDED MEETING

Knud Jorgensen, SECOND FROM LEFT, president Saturday night at a largely attended meeting of agriculturists at Breadalbane, Rudi Dallenbach, Helen Dunbar; second, Mrs. D. Farmer and Mrs. Hilda Greene; third, Mrs. Grace King, Ron Murphy; second, Mrs. J.W. Wilsack; Mrs. Marie Carragher, Kirby and Jim Kirby; third, Mary Duffy and Mae Himes.

Second season winners on North South are as follows: first Jack Cutcliffe; third, B. Ellis and Tom Cauty.

Following are the results of the two-session event.
North - South: first, Mr. and Mrs. J. Cutcliffe, second; Mrs. Mae-MacMillan and Mrs. L.L. Duffy; third, Mrs. Hilda Green and Mrs. D. Farmer, Mrs. H.

Recalling the campaign for a marketing yard here several years ago, Mr. Jorgensen said that the price for beef cattle was much higher at that time. It was never more than one cent per pound below the Montreal price, he said. It's usually three cents below now, he said.

Mr. Dallenbach was greatly surprised by the large meeting of farmers I have seen in the more than one and one-half years I've been in the province," he said.

Mr. Jorgensen said that he had visited the stockyards in Montreal recently, and steers were selling there for 23 cents to 27 cents per pound alive. "We all agree we are taking a licking on our beef cattle here," he said.

Nelson Matheson said there's no doubt "the farmer is being robbed." He had tried the Halifax Abattoir with two really good animals but was most displeased at the price he received, Mr. Matheson said.

Recalling the campaign for a marketing yard here several years ago, Mr. Jorgensen said that the price for beef cattle was much higher at that time. It was never more than one cent per pound below the Montreal price, he said. It's usually three cents below now, he said.

Recalling the campaign for a marketing yard here several years ago, Mr. Jorgensen said that the price for beef cattle was much higher at that time. It was never more than one cent per pound below the Montreal price, he said. It's usually three cents below now, he said.

Recalling the campaign for a marketing yard here several years ago, Mr. Jorgensen said that the price for beef cattle was much higher at that time. It was never more than one cent per pound below the Montreal price, he said. It's usually three cents below now, he said.

Recalling the campaign for a marketing yard here several years ago, Mr. Jorgensen said that the price for beef cattle was much higher at that time. It was never more than one cent per pound below the Montreal price, he said. It's usually three cents below now, he said.

Recalling the campaign for a marketing yard here several years ago, Mr. Jorgensen said that the price for beef cattle was much higher at that time. It was never more than one cent per pound below the Montreal price, he said. It's usually three cents below now, he said.

Recalling the campaign for a marketing yard here several years ago, Mr. Jorgensen said that the price for beef cattle was much higher at that time. It was never more than one cent per pound below the Montreal price, he said. It's usually three cents below now, he said.

Recalling the campaign for a marketing yard here several years ago, Mr. Jorgensen said that the price for beef cattle was much higher at that time. It was never more than one cent per pound below the Montreal price, he said. It's usually three cents below now, he said.

Recalling the campaign for a marketing yard here several years ago, Mr. Jorgensen said that the price for beef cattle was much higher at that time. It was never more than one cent per pound below the Montreal price, he said. It's usually three cents below now, he said.

Recalling the campaign for a marketing yard here several years ago, Mr. Jorgensen said that the price for beef cattle was much higher at that time. It was never more than one cent per pound below the Montreal price, he said. It's usually three cents below now, he said.

Recalling the campaign for a marketing yard here several years ago, Mr. Jorgensen said that the price for beef