LITTLE SPORT

PAGE SIX THE GUARDIAN, CHARLOTTETOWN MAY 12, 1952

Junior baseball came creeping back into the news over the week-end without causing too much commotion but judging from the initial reports of events we feel willing to wager that there are going to be some great dogfights before the summer has run its course. Memorial Field, a bleak looking spot since football ended last fall with the backstop leaning up against the seats being rested for some heavy duels this summer, was the scene of a mild commotion yesterday morning. At approximately eleven o'clock, about 25 hopefuls for the 1952 edition of the junior Abbies met with coach E.V. MacNeil and Danny MacCormack, chairman of the Abbies baseball committee to talk over matters regarding the coming season.

At just about the same time we heard a report out of Springhill, Nova Scotia that brought back old memories and gave us a premature vision of what might be taking place before fall. The news report read to the effect that Springhill was firing senior baseball with its high paid imports out the window and instead the people were going to concentrate on a junior team. Last year, it will be remembered that Springhill won the Maritime junior championship with a smart club but only after they had played a couple of very hard series, one against a New Brunswick team that went to seven games and the final one against the Abbies.

That success on the part of Springhill no doubt is encouraging the fans to build an even better squad this year. It is quite possible that they could be back here again this year playing either a Charlottetown or Summerside team. Curran and Briggs had a good junior club last year and it they can retain all their players they will be better this season. And speaking of Curran and Briggs we heard a report that young Billy Purcell might be moving down to Summerside to work for the summer. In case anyone forgets Purcell batted an even 500 in the City league last year and can possibly give a good long ride. Billy needs to polish up his fielding but that will come with work and experience. If Curran and Briggs had had the benefit of his batting in the playoffs with the Abbies last year, Summerside might have been entertaining the Springhill Tankers.

Getting back to the Junior Abbies their biggest headache this year may be in lining up enough pitchers. Righthander Phil Murphy is over-age and will move up to the intermediate bracket if he plays at all. Phil was life guard out at Cavendish last summer and we understand he plans to return there this year. Benny Carson will probably be in Edmundston, New Brunswick pitching for the Brooklyn Dodgers farm club. That leaves Donnie MacLean, Junior MacLeod and Cliff Ready to form the nucleus of the firing corps. These hurlers and probably a number of others will commence workouts on Tuesday evening.

So much for the young fellows. There's another group of ball players around this City who usually have to make a lot more sacrifices to get out to the ball diamond than the juniors. These are the intermediates, most of whom we have seen arriving at

Cleveland Boosts Lead In AL To Two Games In Twin Victory Sunday

By The Associated Press

Half of Cleveland's vaunted "big four" pitching staff came through again Sunday as the Indians polished off the St. Louis Browns, 1-0 and 3-1 to increase their American League lead to two games.

Bob Lemon limited the Browns to two hits in the first game and big Mike Garcia scattered eight in the second. The quartet of Lemon, Garcia, Bob Feller and Early Wynn have accounted for 14 of Cleveland's 17 victories.

The Indians picked up ground as the Boston Red Sox, seventh in the Philadelphia Athletics, 5-2, in 11 innings in the opener of a doubleheader. The second game was rained out after two innings. Lemon had no bed of roses in the opener at Cleveland. Little Ned Garver of the Browns blanked the Indians on one hit until the ninth when he wilted and permitted three more. Dale Mitchell singled with the bases loaded and two out to break up the game.

Ledy Bob Cain, who shut out the Indians on one hit the last time he faced them, went down to his first defeat in the nightcap. Garcia was in hot water throughout but stranded 12 Brownies.

Allie Reynolds also came up with a two-hitter in beating the Red Sox in the first game, 2-0. Reynolds yielded two singles in the first inning and then retired the next 23 batters in order. Irv Noren singled home Hank Bauer with two out in the fifth inning for the lone run.

Reynolds, who hurled an 8-0 no-hitter against Boston last fall, fanned eight and didn't walk a batter in besting Mel Parnell. Parnell, victim of Reynolds' no-hitter, also issued no passes.

The Red Sox played the game under protest from the second inning on. Umpire Jim Honochick called the Yankees' Gil McDougald safe on a play at first. The Red Sox claimed first baseman Hank Goodman had tagged McDougald before he reached the base.

Washington capitalized on a fielding lapse to beat the A's. With two out and the bases loaded in the 11th Eddie Yost lifted a pop foul that righthandier Elmer Valo and second baseman Skeeter Kell let fall between them.

Yost hit the next pitch for a woun single and Jim Busby followed with another one-bagger to sew it up.

The Chicago White Sox missed a chance to tie the Browns and the Yanks for fourth place by dividing a doubleheader with the Detroit Tigers.

Chicago took the opener, 6-5, but the ball field just after completing a day's work. We can still see Joe LeClair arriving at the field one evening two years ago with his dinner pail under his arm and then watched him play a heads-up game. It takes a good body to work all day and then play hardball in the evening but his fellows like these who are achieving the end for which amateur sport was intended. They are playing it for recreation.

And most of the time they play it to win. They will provide you with the long hits, the spectacular fielding and the hidden ball tricks. They will also provide you with a lot of the best ball games. This evening they will commence their 1952 season by meeting at the Armouries. Coach Tommy MacFarlane and Danny MacCormack want all intermediate players who are interested in playing baseball this season to meet at the Armouries at seven o'clock this evening.

U.S. Steel Report

CLEVELAND, May 11—(AP)—One million automobiles could have been built with the steel lost through recent strikes in the industry, the magazine Steel says today.

It estimates that about 2,300,000 net tons of raw steel—about eight days output—were lost. The industry had been operating at 102 per cent capacity.

Steel says by last week it was fractions at 83 per cent as compared with 83 per cent the previous week.

Steel says sales executives in the industry are surprised that there are enough orders to keep three-quarter order books filled.

With respect to current business, the magazine said the hard-to-get items are the larger size hot-rolled and cold-finished carbon bars. Next in tight supply is heavy and wide plate.

The magazine adds that hot-rolled and cold-rolled carbon steel sheets are easier to buy.

"Nevertheless, the regular price producers of sheet are booked through the third quarter or for as much of that period as they wish to commit.

"Drop in appliance production and the resultant decline in demand for small electric motors has cut the demand for the motor grades of allicon sheet and strip."

DEEP HOLLOW ROAD, N. S., May 9—(CP)—Injured when she was struck by a car as she was coming home from school, 7-year-old Gladys Schnare died in hospital at nearby Kentville early today.

Dr. F. S. Cochrane told an inquest, adjourned for one week, that death was caused by multiple head injuries and shock. Driver of the car was Paul Murphy, New Minas.

An older and more experienced basketball team handed the Charlottetown Interscholastic All Stars a 49-20 defeat in an exhibition hoop game at the local Y on Saturday night.

The Moncton girls, runner-up in the New Brunswick Senior Ladies competition this year were ahead of the local team all the way. The City team made its best showing in the last quarter as they matched basket for basket with the victors.

Connie Martin of Moncton was high point getter with 15 followed by Barbara Jones and June Smith with nine each. Raymond of the victors had eight.

Peggy Campbell scored three last half baskets to lead the City girls attack with six points. Lucy Smith and S. Campbell each added four points to the All Stars total.

The victors led 25-11 at the end of the first half. In the third quarter the teams played according to girls' rules, using six players and in this quarter Moncton outscored the Nell Young coached All Stars 11-1.

The game was capably handled by Tommy Scantlebury and Angus MacLaren. The time keeper was John Ross and the scorer was Beely Taylor, regular forward with the senior Y.M.C.A. team.
