Sport Echoes From Prince County

Congratulations, R. C. A. F. Royals! After several years of filling the disappointing role of "also-rans" you have finally achieved the proud title of Island Intermediate baseball champs. You turned the trick in a hard-fought series against another great team. In the final game you fought an up-hill battle such as is fought only by teams that have a real, fighting heart. Practically all the fans watching that game figured you were licked, but you refused to quit. You packed power at the plate, finesse in the field, but those things alone wouldn't have pulled you through. You packed also that "Get up off the floor and hit him again" quality which has more to do than anything else with the making of champions.

Congratulations, Ross Burns! Much of the success of the Royals team this year is, we think, due to the fine coaching job which Ross Burns has done. Cool-headed, yet with enough fire to spur his charges on to greater efforts, Burns also had the knack of knowing just when his pitcher was through. He didn't fool around too long when his hurler showed signs of not being able to cope with the opposing hitters. We saw Ross blow his top once and get thrown out of a game, but usually he accepted the bad breaks with equanimity. Also, he could hit that long ball occasionally.

Congratulations, Don MacKenzie! Don delivered the knockout punch to a gallant, hard-fighting M.C.A. team and his play throughout the series was of a very high calibre. We picked him for all All-Star second basemen early in the summer, and although he had an off day when the blue chips were down, in spite of this it will have to be admitted that Dave did more than any other player to bring the Royals their first championship.

Congratulations, Stan Richard! Three years ago, Stan started out like a ball of fire, but didn't look so good in 1950 and '51. Fans said he couldn't hit a curve ball. We heard one or two say he wasn't in there when the chips were down. Stan, by his playing this year has thrown all those comments right back in the fans' teeth. He's been sensational in the field around second in that final series, and his bat helped a lot too.

Congratulations, Gunner Cox! Always a good ballplayer, Gunner just needed a few more like him on the ball club to start rolling. He's been around these parts quite a while, and nobody has ever seen Cox ruffled the least bit by a bad call from an umpire. A real contender, and an all-round good guy.

Congratulations, Taylor! While Dave laid all the ground work for the Island championship, it was the little fellow with the mustache that wrapped it up, and by as cool a job of pitching as we have seen this year. Dave and Ashe, both tried performers, had been shelled out, and not too many fans believed that Taylor, Burns' last ditch choice, could stop the powerful bats of M.C.A. But Taylor did it, and also helped very considerably in the difficult job of cutting the piano-playing Munroe down to size.

Congratulations, Green, Pratt, Wanless, Todd, Petty, MacKinnon, St. John, Pittman and Elson! They all played important parts in a great victory.

Ocean Lullaby

Sleep, little Baby, While twilight is weaving Shadowy coverlets, sprinkled with stars; Moonbeams are stealing their silvery fingers Over your pillow in sweet lullaby: "Sleep, little Baby." The pale moon is crooning— "Sleep, little Baby" ... The seas softly sigh! Sleep, little Dreamer Till moonlight is fading, Sleep ... till the dawn dances over the sea— Soon she will wake you with golden-warm kisses, Bidding your dream-fairies whisper "Goodbye": "Sleep, little Baby." The old moon is crooning— "Sleep, little Baby" ... The seas softly sigh!
