Dead Letter Office

Dear Editor:

The cartoon, "Get it Off Your Chest" (The Cadre November 2) depicting Jesus Christ carrying a cross with the caption 'Drop that cross once more and you're out of the parade,' was offensive. This from the former St. Dunston's University. I'm surprised UPEI would run a cartoon of this nature in its newspaper. It's a clear message of hatred of Christianity. I'm appalled at the editor's lack of judgement for publishing it. The cartoon is a sad reality of today's society. It's an ugly display of disrespect and an ugly form of racism. Frankly, I'm fed up with religious jokes, is there anything sacred today?

-Stella Shepard

Dear Stella:

Stella, listen, that cartoon was published in 1972, and the "get it off your chest" from around the same time so if you are appalled at the picture it paints of society you are appalled at the society in 1972. Now as for my hatred of Christianity, well, Stella, I was raised a catholic boy, and I'm offended by your hurry to judgement. By the way this is not UPEI's paper, it is the students'. (It's too bad you're tired of religious jokes, I know a great one about a priest, a rabbi, and a door to door salesman.)-Ed.

DEAR DLO:

I thought I would just write this note to tell you how much I like the Cadre. There have been too many negative letters and I thought a positive one might cheer you guys up! I don't know why people complain so much. You guys put so much time and effort into putting out a newspaper and then you just get crapped all over. I love the "Fact & Opinion" and I was rather disappointed that there wasn't one in last week's issue. I was also disappointed that you didn't have any UPEI-related news. And the pictures were all so dark. And "The Cinephile" used the word "cinephography" too much. Oh well, small matters... Keep up the good work!

-Caitlin Bree

Fact: Stephan got tired of writing Fact & Opinion but will be back next week with a special Christmas edition. Opinion: Stephan was arrested and gang probed by a flock of midgets.-Ed.

DEAR DLO:

Who writes those "Cool Love" articles? Are they real? I was just wondering because I used to think they were real until I recognized one of the names from last week's article as a character from one of Woody Allen's early films. Coincidence? I think not. I can't believe you people would stoop so low as to fabricate an advice column and trivialize people's problems. There is enough intolerance in the world without some third-rate hack-job of a student newspaper making up people who have real problems that real people have and then making fun of them. I personally know a young woman with facial hair and she has enough emotional problems as it is. Please stop this cruelty. Thank you.

-Helen Lacey

Dear Helen:

Cliches Helen, Jeez if you're going to take the time to write to a newspaper don't you think you ought have some original ideas? Third rate hackjob. I am ashamed that that's the best you could do. Try The Surveyor; it sounds like your kind of paper (it comes with a pillow) -Ed.
