

THE DAILY EXAMINER.

JULY 30, 1896.

MR. DAVIES' RE-ELECTION.

To-day was nomination day in West Queen's, the representation in which became vacant by the acceptance of office by Mr. Davies. In 1878, upon the appointment of Hon. J. C. Pope to a similar position by Sir John Macdonald, the Liberals of Queen's did not offer opposition to Mr. Pope when he sought re-election, but allowed him to be returned by acclamation, and to-day the Liberal Conservatives of West Queen's adopted a similar course towards their political opponents, and Mr. Davies was returned without opposition. Mr. Davies, as a member of the Laurier-Tarte administration, can now do much for the interests of the Province in general and the people of Charlottetown in particular. The Government of Sir Charles Tupper promised four thousand dollars towards the building of the Park Roadway, and in pursuance of that promise placed that amount in the supplementary estimates, but owing to the obstruction of the Opposition, of which Mr. Davies was a leading spirit, this amount failed to pass the House of Commons. Recently a delegation, headed by Mayor Dawson, waited upon Mr. Davies in reference to the reinstatement of this sum in the estimates, and we learn that the honorable gentleman assured the delegation that he would use his best endeavors to obtain the grant which, largely through his opposition, was lost last spring. This, therefore, should be one of the first things for Mr. Davies to attend to, and thus rectify the wrong which he assisted in perpetrating. Mr. Davies has it now, also, in his power to carry out the policy of the late Government in respect to the branch railways in this province. We admit that he has promised to build the branch to Belfast, but the others branches contemplated by the Minister of Railways are also important, and Mr. Davies will do well to attend to them. There are other matters to which we might direct Mr. Davies' attention, but we will reserve them for another time. For the last four years Mr. Davies has represented Queen's County in the House of Commons, and during all that period he has not done anything to forward the interests of his constituency or the Island. His sole excuse has been that he was in opposition and had not the power. That excuse is now gone and he can now do something if he so desires. It remains to be seen whether he will or not.

LAURIER AND TARTE.

In order to find a seat in the Commons for his friend Mr. Tarte, Premier Laurier deemed it in the interests of the party to elevate Mr. Bechard, the member-elect for St. Johns and Ierville, in the Province of Quebec, to a seat in the Senate. Having done this, the Premier deemed it expedient to proceed to St. Johns and explain to the people of that constituency how it came about that Mr. Bechard had been transferred to the Senate. This is how he is reported to have spoken: "When I arrived at Ottawa I found that the senatorship for DeLoraine had been rendered vacant, not because our adversaries had so desired, but for a cause which we will not discuss here to-day but which we shall have the occasion of discussing before the House ere long. Accordingly, my first impulse was to give it to my old friend, Mr. Bechard, who has represented the county of Ierville for many years, and by whose side I have been sitting since 1874. I had often promised myself that if I ever found a seat in the Senate I would give it to my old friend Bechard, and I was happy to do so, and that without consulting him." This explanation made, Mr. Laurier went on to beseech the electors to return Mr. Tarte as their representative in the Commons. He told them that if there was one man more than another whom he wished for a colleague that man was Mr. Tarte, and he seemed to be of the opinion that a Liberal Government without him would be very incomplete. All the time Mr. Laurier was indulging in his faltering laudation of Mr. Tarte, the Minister of Public Works was drinking in his words. Mr. Tarte's thoughts can be better imagined than described, for, as we pointed out a few days ago, it is not so very long since he stated that Mr. Laurier "possessed a certain ability in concealing his principles that is not far removed from hypocrisy." If Mr. Tarte were to give expression to his thoughts as he listened to the speech of the Premier he would probably have intimated that his old estimate of Mr. Laurier was correct, and that the expression "not far removed from hypocrisy" was but a laudable description of his remarks.

THE SITUATION HIT OFF.

That truly good gift newspaper, the St. John Telegraph, rises to remark: "Now that Canada has got rid of a corrupt Tory Government and the long-expected Mr. Foster, there is good reason to hope that this province will again resume its prosperous career, which was interrupted by the blight of the National Policy." The Sun points out by way of reply: "But Mr. Laurier is going about the country promising not to be hasty and thorough in the removal of the blight. He even promises to come and to mitigate the disease by a slow and gradual process. To eradicate the evil completely would not be fair to the blight microbes, with whom Mr. Laurier promises to have a friendly consultation." The Sun hits off the situation very nicely. "The St. John Telegraph thinks that with Eugene DeLoraine, Mr. Foster and the rest of them, taking the stump for Populists, the returns ought to show an appreciable increase in the army of cranks during the next few months."

STILL SEEKING SEATS.

The late report regarding the placing of Hon. Mr. Blair, Minister of Railways, is that having failed to find a constituency in New Brunswick he will be called to the Senate. Hon. Mr. Paterson has not yet found a resting place. North Grey, rendered vacant by the death of Mr. Clarke, the Liberal member, was formerly Conservative, and the Conservatives will endeavor to reelect it, and as the adverse majority at last election was only 32 they expect to be successful. Mr. Paterson does not desire another defeat, and will, if possible, endeavor to obtain a "grit live," which he does not consider North Grey to be.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

—Advices from Fredericton state that the monument to Sir Leonard Tilley is taking definite form. It will be a statue of the deceased statesman, and will be erected in one of the squares. —Washington advices of Tuesday state that on that day the Boston banks again came forward with an offer of a million dollars in gold coins to the treasury, and Philadelphia also offered $500,000. —By the way, what has become of Mr. Forbes, the Grit member of Parliament who was recently appointed Sub-Collector of Customs at Grand River. Has he reported for duty yet? If not, why not? —A large business in shipping flour from Canada to Australia is one of the developments of the closer trade relations between these two parts of the empire. On the Australian steamship line all the "space" available for this class of freight has been contracted for from now until October. —The Conservatives have high hopes of redeeming North Grey. The late Liberal member, whose death is announced, had only 32 majority. It is claimed that scores of Conservative voters in the riding went back on their party on the 22nd of June, will be delighted to have occasion to set themselves right. —St. John Sun: Mr. Davies is reported to have said that it is impossible to find a Tory with a fine tooth comb in Prince Edward Island since the election. The trouble with Mr. Davies is that he goes the wrong way about the search. He will find all the Tories he wants before he is much older, and what is more, they will find him.

—Montreal Gazette: Mr. Laurier told the people at St. Johns on Saturday that if he had been in their section of the country in 1837 he would have been a rebel. In 1855 he told the people of Montreal that if he had been on the banks of the Saskatchewan in that year he would have shouldered a rifle's musket, too. Mr. Laurier owes much to Providence. He was born too late to get into trouble in one direction, and has kept too far away to mix himself up in another.

A TERRIBLE EXPERIENCE.

Narrow Escape from Drowning of a Man and Woman. Toronto, July 27.—Added to the terrible experience of Wednesday night, the storm, is the adventure of a portion of the family of Wm. Galbraith, teller in the Union Bank of this city. The family are summering at Strawberry Island, Lake Simcoe. While the nurse and two children, one a boy of seven and the other an 18-month old baby, were playing about the shore, one of the employes in the hotel named Duffy, came in by a rowlock and invited them to come out for a row. All the while the nurse and the child were some distance out into the lake. Suddenly a "quall" came from the north. A stiff wind lashed the waters into a fury. The boat was tossed around, and the man found himself utterly unable to control it. It went under the waves, and was quickly out of sight. An American gentleman from St. Louis, who owns a steam launch, quickly set off in search of the boat with a party of rescuers. Mrs. Galbraith, in company with her young daughter, is stated on joining the party. They searched all night without avail, and the mother was desperate. Still they did not give up hope, and about seven in the morning the boat was discovered on the shore, at Beaverton, fifteen miles to the south of Strawberry Island. The yacht had put about and was starting for home with her heartbroken women, when a pocket handkerchief was discovered floating under the wharf at Beaverton. On coming up the lost ones were discovered under the wharf, half dead with fright. The man was standing up to his breast in water with the little boy on his shoulders, and the nurse girl was in the water up to her neck, holding the baby aloft. A light through the night the man and girl had stood thus under the dark reaches of the wharf, not knowing where they were, and afraid to move for fear of getting into deeper water. Their limbs were growing more and more numb, and their arms were cramped from holding the little ones up. When they were taken into the launch, neither of them was able to walk, and they had to be carried up to the hotel at Beaverton. The rescue was miraculous. The wind had hurried them off through the darkness, they knew not whither. The man gave up the use of his oars and held the boy in his arms in fear of an upset. Suddenly in the darkness the boat was driven under the wharf. The oars were wrenched away and the boat finally upset against one of the piles it was driven on by the storm, but the man and the girl were left struggling in the water with the children in their arms. It was pitch dark and they could not tell where they were. They managed to regain their footing and keep the children safe, and stood like statues waiting for the morning.

THE CHAIRS COMING VISITS.

It is Likely That He Will Before Long Visit Vienna, Berlin and Paris. BERLIN, July 29.—The dates of the Chair's proposed visits to the principal continental capitals, if, indeed, they have been fixed, are being kept very dark. Recent announcements have been uncertain daily, and nihilism seems to be the spectre which is stalking the Emperor's way. All that is now known of his intentions is that it is his purpose to visit Vienna and Berlin, and probably Paris, but when the visits will take place it is impossible to say. The Emperor's visit to Nijni-Novgorod which he made on Saturday, was accompanied by the usual precautions so far as railway travel was concerned. He was guarded by troops throughout, but when his majesty was within the limits of the city of Nijni-Novgorod the usual lines of soldiers and police gazing the streets through which he passed were dispensed with. The Mayor of the city issued a manifesto ordering the people to remain in their own homes and to keep the streets clear of crowds. The Mayor's confidence that the citizens would preserve order was not misplaced, as there was no trouble whatever.

NEWS NOTES.

Cardinal Taschereau is very low. The pope has received a present of an elaborate typewriter, inlaid in ivory and silver, with the Papal arms upon it. Drought has produced a severe water famine in the east end of London and prolonged rains are needed to avert serious consequences. The will of ex-governor Wm. E. Russell leaves all his property to his wife and appoints her executrix. The will is dated Dec. 18, 1893. The Ancient Order of Hibernians have succeeded in raising the $50,000 for the endowment of the chair of Celtic literature in the Catholic University. The Hon. A. S. Dunn has been declared elected by acclamation as premier general in the New Brunswick administration under Premier Mitchell. Truro proposes spending $14,000 in improving its waterworks system, and offers a 4 per cent. debenture for that sum, which will have twenty years to run. Frank Pierson, in a fit of insanity, cut the throat of his father and mother and then stabbed his own neck at their home in Iowa Falls, Iowa, on Monday. The Lucania, on which steamer Sir M. Kenzie Bowen returned from England, had a narrow escape from collision during a heavy fog with an unknown vessel. Captain General Weyler has issued a decree promising to the captains of vessels $24,000 for each fifth tiering steamer and $1,000 for each filibustering sailing vessel by sea. Excise Commissioner Lyman, of New York, expects that his department will be reduced to the extent of $11,000,000, during the present year under the operation of the Payne's law. During recent skirmishes in the provinces of Pinar del Rio and Santa Clara the Cuban insurgents left 18 killed on the field among the dead being an Amazon, and retired with their wounded. A terrible windstorm struck the village of Home Mich., on Monday evening. The roofs were lifted, houses partly blown away, barns toppled over and over half the maple trees about the town were blown over. The striking tailors in New York have given up all hopes of coming to terms with the contractors as a body. It has been decided to throw over the association and treat with the contractors as individuals. So far this season 100,000 people are said to have visited the shrine of Ste. Anne de Beaupre. The feast of Ste. Anne was observed on Sunday last, when thousands of people were present at the masses in the Basilica. There was also a procession. Miss Kimball, an eye-witness of the massacre at Van in June, estimates the number of killed at five hundred. Ten thousand persons rendered homeless and destitute were furnished protection at the American mission. Fifteen thousand took refuge under the British flag. The United Trades and Labour Council of Halifax has decided that Immigration Inspector O'Brien is not doing his duty at Niagara Falls, as between six and seven hundred Canadians cross the border every morning to work on the United States side, and return to their homes in Canada at night. A party of one hundred and thirty Americans are en route for the colony of their compatriots, near Edmonton, N. Man. The colony was established a year ago and is said to be doing well. At present it numbers three hundred people. The new comers possess a fair amount of money for the purchase of stock and implements. For a long time past it has been a case of private complaint—where it was not hailed with delight—that dancing was going out of fashion in London. The assertion is now officially confirmed by the fact that the British Association of Teachers of Dancing has caused a special conference for the 31st inst., to consider how best to secure the business from the total collapse which threatens it. Arsenic has been discovered in certain brands of cigarettes in England. The drug is not present in the tobacco, but is used in the manufacture of the colored wrappers of the cigarettes, and minute particles reach the smoker's fingers, and sometimes the smoker's fingers. Arsenic, even when inhaled in small quantities, produces chronic cough, loss of flesh, and other symptoms associated with the early stages of consumption. There is a well defined rumor about Lincoln, that Nebraska will present another candidate for President, J. Sterling Morton, Secretary of the Interior, has been in Nebraska for a week or more. It has already been reported that he is there to pave the way to a Presidential nomination. The gold standard delegates will meet in conference in Lincoln some day this week to fix a date of a state convention. Collector Milne, of Victoria, B. C., has forwarded his report on the season's operations of the Canadian sealing fleet in Japanese waters. The catch on the whole is slightly better than that secured last year, amounting to 643 skins to each of the 25 schooners engaged in the industry, totaling 16,075 skins. In addition there were the catch of eight American schooners, seven other sealers and the reported catch of four other American craft, making a great total of 25,254. Mr. James O'Connor, anti-Parliament member for West Wicklow, asked in the House of Commons last week that Mr. A. J. Balfour, First Lord of the Treasury, the Irish prisoners undergoing imprisonment for treason upon the occasion of the 60th anniversary of her accession to the throne, which would occur June 20, 1897. Mr. Balfour replied that the time had not yet arrived for consideration of what ought to be done upon the 60th anniversary of the beginning of the Queen's reign. Myriads of grasshoppers, in clouds so dense as to almost obscure the sun, passed over Lincoln, Nebraska, on Sunday afternoon. Their appearance caused apprehension among farmers, but few alighted. Their course was from west to east. The last grasshopper scourge in Nebraska was in 1874, and as they usually make their appearance much earlier in the season it is thought the present visitation does not promise any serious damage to crops in that locality.
