

THE DAILY EXAMINER.

APRIL 2, 1895.

OUR PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

The Chief Superintendent's annual report on our public schools presents no unusual features. There was in the past year an increase of six school districts and four schools, while three school districts were vacant. Altogether there were 22,221 pupils enrolled, and the percentage of attendance was 58. The schools showing the highest percentage of attendance in the past year are: Bunbury, 92; Prince Street, Charlottetown, 87; Norway, 85; West Kent, Charlottetown, 84; Model School, 84; Queen Square School, Charlottetown, 83; Flat River, 82; York, 80; Annandale, 79; Maplewood, 79; St. Eleanor's, 78; Summersville, 78; Egmont Bay Road, 77; Bloomfield, 76; Colville, 76; Summerside schools, 76; Union Road, 75; Rosetack, 75; Linkletter Road, 75; Village Green, 75; St. Mary's 75; Margate, 75.

Table with 2 columns: Subject and Number of Pupils. Includes Arithmetic, Grammar, History, Geography, Orthography, Composition, Music, Book-keeping, Drawing, Agriculture, Scientific Temperance, Latin, Greek, French, Algebra, Geometry.

There is shown an important increase in the number of pupils under instruction in nearly all the subjects included in the common school course. It is worthy of note that this increase is most marked in some of the more useful and practical subjects. In the number of pupils studying composition, there is an increase of 791; in arithmetic an increase of 471. Last year the Superintendent reported a falling off in the number studying history. This year, however, he reports an increase of 224. Last year there was a decrease of 24 in the number receiving instruction in book-keeping; this year there is an increase of 107. The Superintendent reports very much pleasure in reporting an increase of nearly one hundred per cent. in the number of pupils receiving instruction in scientific temperance.

There is also exhibited a continued increase in the number of pupils studying in the high school course. In Latin there is an addition of 176; in French an addition of 288; in algebra an addition of 105; in geometry an addition of 150. There is also an increase in the cost of all. In 1893 the expenditure by the Government on account of public schools was $118,106.49; in 1894 it was $122,077.40—an increase of $3,970.91, due almost wholly to the larger statutory allowance drawn by teachers. The total expenditure for education in 1894, including the amounts paid by the school boards, was $159,931.58—an increase of $7,232.84, or $7.19 cents for each pupil enrolled.

BISMARCK'S BIRTHDAY. We are all more or less imbued with the spirit of hero-worship. In the old countries this spirit is apparently more active than in the new. The reason may be that the people have learned, by experience, to appreciate the inestimable value of great men. Intellectual men are not usually the most highly esteemed. The people can only judge of a great man by his great acts in arms or statesmanship, or in other positions in which power is displayed and apprehended. Bismarck was particularly fortunate in this respect. He was in a position to do great acts for his country, and he did them. His countrymen showed their appreciation yesterday upon the celebration of his eightieth birthday. The Emperor presented him with a golden sword. The aristocracy, the soldiery and the peasants alike paid him the tribute of respect and devotion. The Grand Old Man of the Fatherland was made happy.

NOTES AND COMMENTS. —There is a silver lining to the Newfoundland cloud. Two hundred thousand seals in sight is a good spring opening. —The honesty of the Grand Trunk Railway management has been completely vindicated by the report of the commissioner appointed by the shareholders in England to investigate its accounts.

—A slightly improved condition of trade in this Province within the last week or two is, judging by the reports of our exchanges, but a reflection of the improved conditions existing throughout Canada. —The last Canada Gazette contains a notice of the calling of a great man by his great acts in arms or statesmanship, or in other positions in which power is displayed and apprehended. Bismarck was particularly fortunate in this respect. He was in a position to do great acts for his country, and he did them. His countrymen showed their appreciation yesterday upon the celebration of his eightieth birthday. The Emperor presented him with a golden sword. The aristocracy, the soldiery and the peasants alike paid him the tribute of respect and devotion. The Grand Old Man of the Fatherland was made happy.

DIXON'S TAILORING ESTABLISHMENT. Messrs. G. A. Dixon & Co. will move on May 1st, to the store now occupied by S. B. Egan & Co. and later secured by the McKay Woolen Co. Their tailoring business will be carried on as in the past, with the finest grade of clothes of all kinds, and the best workmen and cutters. They will carry a full line of gents furnishings in all the leading styles. They have secured the services of D. L. Grant, of Halifax, who has been a successful cutter in the United States and Canada for a number of years and is a real artist in his line. Mr. G. A. Dixon leaves for Montreal about the latter end of the week on a business trip.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

THE SOUTHERN RAILWAY—A FORE-THOUGHTFUL LETTER.

Sir,—Now that the date of the Dominion election is postponed, there is danger that our representatives and the press may lose sight of the need of the people of Belfast and Murray Harbor of a branch railway. We of Belfast and Murray Harbor have slept on our rights for 24 years, and good-natured but there is a limit to patience, and the time has come, and now is for us to insist on our rights. We want simple justice and no more. Look at the facts. The Conservative Government of P. E. Island in 1871 passed an act for the construction of a railroad from Alberton to Georgetown. The act provided that after the construction of the main line, the road should be continued to Souris and Tignish. At an election held in Belfast shortly after the passing of this act, the Conservative Government was defeated. The people of Belfast were silly enough to be persuaded to vote out the Hon. James Duncan, who supported the railroad, and return his opponent, a professed opponent of the railroad. The Government passed into the hands of the Liberals. Of course they dropped the railroad? Not at all. At the very earliest moment they repealed the part of the act which provided for the building of the Tignish and Souris branches until after the completion of the main line, and enabled themselves by act of Assembly to enter into a contract for the immediate construction of the branch railway. The Belfast people found they were fooled—or rather had made fools of themselves; but they were assured they would be given an "equivalent." The "equivalent" was a plan which never materialized. If our representatives know anything of it, we do not. The railroad was, of course, built at the expense of the people—of all the people of P. E. Island—and was paid for by the whole Island, including Belfast and Murray Harbor. It would be a very singular thing if the representatives of Belfast and Murray Harbor in 1871 would burden their constituents with building branches to Tignish and Souris without considering the large and populous southern section which could not possibly be benefited by these lines. The result of 1871 did not maximize that "beauty is best plain set," had more than they could do to find room and seats for all. Mr. L. B. Beer presided. The programme, which upon the whole, was exceedingly well rendered, was appropriately opened by the beautiful overture to the Barber of Seville, exquisitely played by Mrs. W. A. Weeks, Jr. and Miss Mary Palmer. This was followed by a quartet from Haydn, by Mrs. J. A. Longworth, Miss Barrett, the Rev. Mr. Hamlyn and Mr. H. James Palmer, the parts of which were well taken, though the effect of the whole would have been heightened by orchestral accompaniment. Miss McLean's recitation of a poetic gem by Tennyson was, it is needless to say, almost faultlessly rendered, and the sublime to the ridiculous in the final administration of the said estate and in the decree of this Court herein.

At the first day of April, A. D. 1895. WILLIAM A. WEEKS, ap2—dy 51 Registrar.

CONCERT AT BEACONSFIELD.

The spacious drawing room and hall of Beaconsfeld were very kindly given up last evening, by Mr. and Miss Cundall, for the purpose of a concert in aid of the P. E. Island Hospital. Of course the audience was as large as possible, and the lady singers, illustrating by their singing the maxim that "beauty is best plain set," had more than they could do to find room and seats for all. Mr. L. B. Beer presided. The programme, which upon the whole, was exceedingly well rendered, was appropriately opened by the beautiful overture to the Barber of Seville, exquisitely played by Mrs. W. A. Weeks, Jr. and Miss Mary Palmer. This was followed by a quartet from Haydn, by Mrs. J. A. Longworth, Miss Barrett, the Rev. Mr. Hamlyn and Mr. H. the expenditure from Public Works, and then if justice is done to this Island in this respect, there is no lack of funds where-with to build this road; and yet when we waken up to a sense of our rights, we meet, if not with direct opposition, at least with apathy and a smirking laugh from persons upon whose help we thought we could rely with confidence. I am sorry to say that among the persons who do not seem disposed to exert themselves in our cause must include our own members both in the Local Legislature and in the House of Commons at Ottawa. We have seen that the Railway Act provides that the Railway shall be extended to such other places as shall be approved by the Legislature as by resolution entered in the minutes of the House of Commons. In justice to the Government, Mr. McDonald, Mr. McKinnon or Mr. Aitken, members for Belfast and Murray Harbor, ever propose such a resolution, or ask the Legislature to urge on the Dominion Government the justice of expending a portion of the money admittedly due in building the branch railway in question? Did Mr. Davies or Mr. Welsh or Mr. McDonald or Mr. McLean, our members at Ottawa, ever propose to Parliament that a part of the large sums voted by Parliament for public works should be spent in building the short, cheap, narrow gauge railway required by their constituents? In justice to these respected gentlemen, it must be admitted that their constituents have not hitherto been as active as we should have been in asserting our rights, and the apathy of our neighbors is partially accounted for on the principle of the saying, "Like never, like servant." At the present, however, the indications are that the servants are greater laggards than their masters, as the construction of the branch railway is of far greater importance to the people of Murray Harbor and Belfast than any other public question that can be submitted for their consideration. I must give space for the further discussion of the subject. W. S. S. Belfast, March 30th, 1895.
