WE would again remind our readers of Dr. Moore's entertainments at the Y. M. C. A. Hall, this and to-morrow evenings. The most interesting and important public buildings, places, monuments, etc., of Washington and London, are to be reproduced with photographic accuracy and with calcium light. The monument in Hyde Park to the memory of Prince Albert—Consort of our beloved Queen—with its three to four hundred human figures in marble and bronze, ought to secure a full house. To-morrow evening, Jerusalem and the Holy Land, given last night in lecture room of St. Pauls Church, to a delighted audience, will close the Dr's. lectures.

WE are indebted to Charles Haszard, Esq., of Belle View for a basket of since last Exhibition day. They are of the early rose variety and the seed from which they were grown was planted about the 25th May last. Some idea of their size may be formed when we state that nine of them weighed upwards of a pound each. Boiled they are delicious—having none of the coarseness which usually characterizes large potatoes, and being as dry and mealy as any one can desire. It is well known that early roses command the highest prices in the Boston and New York markets; and it is a pity that more of them are not raised by our farmers. Our thanks are due to Mr. Haszard for the gift.

Quebec.

THE LANDING OF THE GOVERNOR GENERAL AND THE PRINCESS.

(From the St. John Sun.)

QUEBEC, Thursday.—For the moment the labor troubles have quietly effervesced into a thin, yet highly inflammable vapor, ready at a future day, and that most probably not far off, to burst like a thundercloud upon the head of this short-sighted community, with a violence little contemplated, even though past experience might teach what results should be expected. But sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof. For the present—"Sounds are but sounds." With five war ships lying in the harbor below, we rest secure.

This morning, like Quebec, "royal weather" was anything but pleasant, and it promised in the early part of the day to be very disagreeable; but towards afternoon it cleared off, and by seven o'clock was everything that could be desired. Long before that hour a crowd of sight seers lined the Terrace, and many curious eyes were strained in the direction of the Island of Orleans, watching for the first appearance of the ships that carried so precious a freight as a Governor General and Royal Princess. About the above-named hour the "Bellerophon" was sighted, closely followed by the "Tourmaline," and when within a mile of the city she announced her arrival by a salute of twenty-one guns. This was almost immediately answered by the French frigate "La Gallionnerie," and then the guns on the Citadel bellowed out their welcome, as they have often times done before. Slowly the armor clads came on, decked in flags, and passing completely round the Frenchman, brought up at anchor close to the wharves, having been caught up to by this time by the "Griffin," who had put on all speed for the purpose. Hardly had they come to a stand still when, simultaneously, they sent forth another royal salute, the sailors manning the yards and bands playing. This was so gallantly answered by our French brothers-in-arms, who are never backward when compliments are to be paid.

The Marquis and Princess were received by a guard of honor furnished by the volunteers, Colonel Turnbull's troop of Huzzars acting as escort, and the Quebec garrison field battery firing a salute from their field guns off the terrace, their Excellencies being once more welcomed into the Citadel by B Battery, who were formed up as another guard of honor inside the walls of the fortress. Our Honor, His Excellency's piper, whose occupation has been gone for the past few weeks, was all in readiness, and seemed to play the "Campbell's are Coming" with special delight. So far, everything has gone off as of old, and society is looking forward with delight to the next few weeks, great gaieties being expected, as the Princess is going to give a dance, and the frigates are sure to follow the example.

After a storm comes a calm. Let us hope it may continue.

NEWS BY TELEGRAPH.

LONDON, Aug. 24.

The Times despatches from Newcastle, South Africa, August 3rd, brunt that one tribe of Zulul, who yet feel the smart of the war, are massing towards Selobanee. A detachment of a corps of British troops, which were under orders to return home, are being hurried against them.

ROME, Aug. 24.

Four Cardinals will be created at the Consistory next week. Mgr. Massella is expected at the Vatican Monday with an autograph letter from the King of Bavaria and important documents concerning the relations between Germany and the Vatican and the position of the Old Catholics, and it is understood that its representatives in this respect have been favorably entertained.

JAPAN NEWS.

YOKOHAMA, July 29. via LONDON, Aug. 23.

Great excitement has been caused by the breaking of quarantine by the German merchant ship Hesbert, acting under orders from the German Minister and Consul, as before recorded. An epidemic is raging in the southern ports, which the majority of physicians pronounce Asiatic cholera, though one or two regard it differently; of the fatal results no one doubts. Quarantine has been imposed at Yokohama, which only the United States Envoy fully respects. The British envoy was over-ruled and substitutes a process of his own invention, notwithstanding remonstrances and protests of the Government. The German envoy utterly disregards it, brings in a German ship protected by a man-of-war boat. Diplomatic complications are anticipated, but Japan's lack of firmness is apparent in measures thus far taken.

TORONTO, Aug. 23.

The Globe this morning contains the following cable from London, dated August 22nd:—

"Mr. Childers resigned yesterday, rendering an amalgamation of the Grand Trunk and Great Western Railways probable. Both stocks show a jumping rise. The Times says that the resignation of Mr. Childers from the directorship of the Great Western Railway of Canada seems to be taken as a proof that something will be done, and that the amalgamation of the Great Western and Grand Trunk Railways will take place."

QUEBEC, Aug. 22.

The troops were disbanded to-day. Hon. W. Bagot, who accompanied the Vice-Regal party to P. E. Island, has now become an A. D. C. to His Excellency. Mrs. Rusk, an inmate of the Ladies' Protestant Home, walked, early yesterday morning, in a somnambulist fit, through a window, sustaining such severe injuries that she died in the afternoon from their effects.

UNITED STATES.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 23.

Rev. Isaac Kallach, workman's candidate for Mayor, was shot and dangerously wounded by Chas. DeYoung, editor of the Chronicle. Kallach, last night at a mass meeting, in retaliation for assault by the DeYoungs upon his moral character, and also resenting the restrictions upon his dead father, denounced the DeYoung brothers as bastards. Charles DeYoung sent word that he would shoot Kallach on sight. This morning DeYoung rode in a carriage to Kallach's office, and sent a boy to tell him a gentleman wanted to see him. On Kallach's appearance he fired twice, shooting him in the left lung and in the back. A mob immediately gathered and tore De Young from the carriage, and but for a large force of police would undoubtedly have killed him. Intense excitement reigns. The mob expresses a determination to lynch the murderer. A full force of police and military are guarding jail where DeYoung, with his brother, is now incarcerated. The Chronicle office is also guarded. Kearney, who was telegraphed for, arrived and counselled the mob not to resort to violence. He thought, he said, DeYoung must be hung. He advised workmen to preserve a good name and disperse. This quieted matters, and less indications of violence were shown, though deep feelings of excitement exist. Troops and police are on hand to prevent further violations of law.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.

The meeting of the National Workingmen's Party was held to-day. The president denounced the shooting of Mr. Kallach as a foul assassination, and predicted it would arouse the workingmen, who would look on him as a martyr. He said it was the first life offered up to free the white slaves, and in four years they would be free. A committee was appointed to arrange a great mass meeting to denounce the assassination.
