

EVERY MOTHER SHOULD
Have it in the House
To cure the common ailments that may occur in every family as long as life has woes.

JOHNSON'S ANODYNE LINIMENT
has been used and endorsed since 1810, to relieve or cure every form of Pain and Inflammation. It is Safe, Soothing, Sure. Otherwise it could not have existed for almost a Century.

JOHNSON'S ANODYNE LINIMENT
Is strictly a family remedy for Internal as much as External use To cure Colds, Croup, Coughs, Catarrh Cramps and Colic it acts promptly.

ORIGINATED BY AN OLD FAMILY PHYSICIAN.

There is not a medicine in use which possesses the confidence of the public to a greater extent than Johnson's Anodyne Liniment. For almost a century it has stood upon its own merits, while generations after generations have used it. The evidence of its virtue is the fact that in the state where it originated there is steadily increasing. You can safely trust what time has endorsed.

Johnson, fifty years ago this month, your father, Dr. Johnson, left me some of his Anodyne Liniment. I have sold it ever since. I can most truly say that it has retained its high standard and popularity from that time to the present.

Lord Dufferin's Son.

BURGHERSDORP, Cape Colony, Dec. 27.—Colonel Grenfell continues in touch with Krutzinger's command of 700 men, who are carrying off the British prisoners. Krutzinger has abandoned his Maxim and carts. An attempt of the Ninth Lancers to turn Krutzinger's flank at Plaisterheuvel, Dec. 24, resulted in eight casualties among the Lancers, including Lord Frederick Blackwood, who was wounded.

Lord Frederick Temple Blackwood, reported to be in the Burghersdorp despatch as having been wounded, is the fourth son of the Marquis of Dufferin and Ava, who was formerly governor-general of Canada. Lord Frederick Blackwood is a lieutenant in the Ninth Lancers, which regiment he joined October 9, 1899. Lord Ava, the eldest son of the Marquis of Dufferin, died of wounds received in battle at Ladysmith in January last.

Royal Commission.

TORONTO, Dec. 30.—The royal commission will meet on January 2, at Uxbridge for the hearing of evidence in the North Ontario election case. The only one as yet brought before the commission. The charge is that of tampering with ballot boxes in the election of 1897.

The South American War.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—United States Charge Beaupre at Bogota has cabled the state department that he has been informed by the Columbian government that the invading troops were overtaken by the government forces at Rosario; also that their leader, Gen. Urbide, was defeated at Gorazel, in the province of Bolivar. He was retreating with a few remaining followers through the department of Magdalena toward the Venezuelan line. The war is said to be progressing favorably for the Columbian government.

Constipated Bowels.

Constipation, or inactivity of the bowels, is probably the cause of more distress and suffering than any other organic derangement. Once the bowels are constipated, the kidneys become clogged, the liver torpid, and the stomach and whole digestive system completely interfered with. The head aches, there is dizziness, weakness and dimness of vision, pain in the back, sides and limbs, the accumulation of wind and gas on the stomach, pains and fullness in the region of the stomach, and depression and despondency of spirits. Constipation can never be cured by the use of salts and similar weakening and debilitating purgatives. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills not only cause the natural action of the bowels but so strengthen and invigorate them as to enable them to regularly perform their functions without the aid of medicines. One pill a dose, 2 cents a box, at all dealers.

TO LET.

That centrally situated one tenement house on Prince St., next to the late Thos. Alley's, containing eight large rooms, with stable and coach house, at present occupied by Rev. H. B. Morris, who is removing from the Island. Possession given the 23rd inst. Apply to THOMAS McQUAID, Lower Queen Street.

OBITUARY.

On the 24th inst. there passed away to his eternal reward, Eddie, the eldest child of John and Eliza Griffin, in the 18th year of his age. Deceased was a very bright and promising young man who, in September last, entered Prince of Wales College, which institution he was attending when he contracted pneumonia and was obliged to return home; but the disease had made too much headway, and despite the best medical skill his peaceful spirit passed away.

The very large concourse of people who followed his remains to St. Andrew's Church on the 26th testified to the esteem in which he was held by all who knew him. The services were conducted by Rev. A. P. McLellan, after which all that was mortal of poor Eddie were consigned to mother earth, there to await the final resurrection.

To his grief-stricken parents and relatives we tender our heartfelt sympathy in this sad hour of their affliction.

He is not dead, the child of our affection,
But gone with that school
Where he no longer needs protection,
And Christ Himself doth rule."

The Greeks of Today in Athens.

The Athenians are not so jazy as they would appear to be from their habit of the noon-day rest. The old-fashioned Greek gentlemen, for instance, rises very early in summer, often at four o'clock, in the glorious time of the day. He goes to market and sends home the provisions for the 12 o'clock breakfast and the late dinner, with minute directions to the cook; he takes a cigarette and a cup of black Turkish coffee on the sidewalk in front of his favorite cafe, and he then devotes himself to business and politics until noon-time. After breakfast he sleeps till four, when he usually takes a sweetmeat at home or at a pastry shop, and then he is ready for work again until dinner-time.

The Athenians dine late the year round, and, whenever the weather will permit in the open air. As the heated season advances, the dinner hour is set later and later, until in August half past nine or ten becomes the common thing. Fancy going to the theatre after that! Yet the open-air performances are liberally patronized, and they do not begin, of course, till after dinner. The legend "curtain rises promptly at nine," is a snare and a delusion, as many a foreigner has found to his extreme annoyance.

The out-of-door dining and the sky-roofed theatres are so typically Greek that they serve as a link between modern and classical times. The old Greek, as everybody knows, was an out-door man, his house serving as little more than a sleeping-place and storeroom. The Athenian of to-day dines in a garden, on his terrace or in a park. If he is too poor to possess any of these accessories, he sets his table upon the sidewalk. Many of the cheap restaurants appropriate the walks for dining-rooms. One is often compelled, when taking an evening stroll, to dodge in and out among dozens of tables covered with reasonably clean linen and lighted by means of candles, whose flames are protected from the winds by means of glass globes.—From "Modern Athens," by George Horton, in the January Scribner's.

Pope Leo XIII was in good health and vigorous for his age when he performed the ceremony of closing the Holy Door, on the 24th inst. He is now in his 91st year and has sat upon the Pontifical throne for 22 years.
