GOOD ENOUGH TO EAT

The gleam in the eyes of this young miss would seem to indicate that she is anticipating a chance to test these first prize-winning cookies for herself. Decorated with a Centennial design, the cookies were entered in the Women's Institute competition at the Provincial Exhibition by Mrs. Jackie Aitken of Bay Fortune. The lucky lass is Heather Chandler, eight-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Chandler, North Milton.

CAPITAL BUREAU OF THE GUARDIAN

OTTAWA — Ralph Ford of Northam has been awarded a contract for the construction of a new wharf at Baglole's Shore, Southwest, Lot 16, Solicitor General J. Watson MacNaught announced here Wednesday.

The wharf will be solid block 40 feet by 24 feet and will have creosoted piles and reinforced concrete deck. The approach will be 455 feet long and 15 feet wide and will be gravelled and protected on each side by riprap.

Mr. MacNaught said the new wharf has been sought for some time and will be of great benefit to the fishermen and others in the area.

The Solicitor General also announced that the breakwater at Robinsons Island is to be repaired as it was damaged by storms last winter. The bed will be reconstructed and a beach protection 352 feet long will also be built.

The repairs to the breakwater will have two rows of close piling tied together and there will be new ballast between the piles. Rows of spruce trees will be set out for further protection.

JUDGE POSES WITH LASSIES

Shorthorn Judge William Black, Mofatt, Ont., is understandably happy as he poses with two lovely young ladies in the show ring in the Colliseum on the Provincial Exhibition Grounds here. On the right is Shorthorn Lassie Queen Lorraine Jewell, East Wiltshire. The other young lady is Stella Boswall, Marshfield who is the Lassie Princess.

Mary's Parish Hall, far exceeding the quota of 200 set by the Royal Canadian Legion.

The clinic was sponsored by the Legion, with Marcus Moody as committee chairman.

Marshfield Man Has Top Winning Jerseys

Albert J. Boswell Marshfield was one of the more consistent winners in the Jersey ring Wednesday forenoon as the judging was completed in this breed. He had the senior and grand champion in his Patsy's Betty and he had the top cow in all three of the mature cow sections.

J. S. Vickerson and Son, North River showed the reserve senior and reserve grand cow in Warran M. Grove Maid's Fancy.

Mr. Boswall took the Premier Exhibitor's shield for the man who won the most prizes in the show. The premier breeder's banner goes to J. S. Vickerson and Sons, for winning the most money with animals bred on their farm.

A feature of the Jersey show this year was the presentation of the Edison B. Mutch Memorial trophy to the breeder who showed the grand championship bull. Purchased by the P.E.I. Jersey Club, the trophy was made available in honor of Mr. Mutch's memory. It was presented by Mrs. E. B. Mutch to Turner Glydon and Sons, Kensington, and George MacMillan, Cornwall who are listed as joint owners.

The late Mr. Mutch had made Island history by winning the grand championship for Jersey Bulls at the Royal Winter Fair, Toronto on two successive occasions.

Oliver Evans, Chilliwack, B.C. who judged the class was enthusiastic in his praise. "There are outstanding animals in every class I face", he said.

KEEP PARADE

for senior citizens, amputees or others similarly handicapped, where they may watch from parked cars.

Much of the route will be roped off, but where ropes have not been provided, the public is asked to stay behind the curb. The reason for this rule and the roped off areas is the necessity that judges on the Archibald stand see the parade for the length of at least a block.

Parents are asked to see that their children do not stray beyond the curb or ropes, and not to allow them to ride bicycles along the route. Dog owners are asked to keep their animals off the streets, as they are apt to scare horses in the parade.

Cars are allowed to proceed across the route, but not along it.

The police department is asking for cooperation of the public with cadets, Boy Scouts and citizens recruited to aid in policing the parade. All persons interested in taking part in this duty are to attend a meeting in the city hall parking lot on Kent Street at 7 p.m. today.

Parade participants are reminded that they are to park in the area provided for them near the Prince Edward Island Hospital at Brighton and North River Roads.

Because of the many difficulties in getting a parade of this size underway and moving smoothly, City Police are making a special request to residents of the Brighton area to please use Kirkwood Drive and Edinburgh Drive if they are motoring into the city. This will enable free use of the section of North River Road where the countless units will be mobilized.

The units of the parade will be gathered on North River Road between Belvedere and McGill Avenues and will move off at 10 o'clock.

Full parade route is as follows: North River Road to McGill Avenue, to Ambrose Street, Highland Avenue to North River Road and south to Brighton Road. From there it will travel east on Euston to Great George, south to Kent and along to Prince and down to Grafton Street.

Turning west on Grafton the parade will go to Queen, south to Water Street, west to Haviland and along Rochford Street to Kent. At the latter corner the parade will turn west to Victoria Park where it will dismiss.

Toronto Rehearsals Continue For Wayne And Shuster Here

Centennial Artistic Director Mavor Moore took time off from his duties here to go to Toronto and direct Wayne and Shuster's Charlottetown show, coming to Confederation Centre Theatre next Monday for a two-week run.

And now Sir Arthur Currie Memorial Hall in Ontario's metropolis is rocking as the company goes through rehearsals for "Wayne and Shuster in Charlottetown," formal name for the rollicking show.

Canada's top comedy team got that way through many years in the public eye of North America — up to nine years ago on the stage but since then on Canadian and American television, especially the Ed Sullivan Show.

Johnny Wayne and Frank Shuster are backed up by a 27-member cast, including many of the favorite performers in the Spring Thaw production which proved popular in Charlcttetown earlier this summer —Jack Duffy, Shirley Milliner, Diane Stapley, Carlu Carter, Corinne Conley, Marilyn Stuart, Jack Northmore, Don Gillies, Tom Harvey, Paul Kligman, Drew Thompson, Robert Ainslie, and more . . .

A special performance of the show, including all the topical and old favorite skits distinctively W and S, will be presented for Canada's premiers when they are here September 1 for the Centennial of the meeting of the Fathers of Confederation.

Threat Made On Life Of Goldwater

WASHINGTON (AP) — Because of a threat on the life of Senator Barry Goldwater, a plane carrying the Republican presidential nominee was diverted Wednesday from National Airport to Dulles International Airport outside Washington.

A waiting limousine took Goldwater, back from giving a speech in Springfield, Ill., away from Dulles airport 28 miles from Washington.

Goldwater's press secretary, Paul Wagner, said the senator's Lockheed Electra got orders in the air to switch from National, just outside Washington, and land at Dulles.

Wagner said word of the threat came from the Federal Bureau of Investigation in Chicago.

The nature of the threat was not immediately disclosed.

Goldwater himself said he understood it was a bomb threat.

Truant Officer Appointment Suggested

GEORGETOWN — "Why were family allowance benefits not suspended in the case of various pupils who let their attendance average fall below the requirements?" was the question discussed by the Georgetown Industrial Development Group recently.

The group felt that too much leniency was shown, and it names submitted by teachers were initialed by trustees, local supervisors could recommend the suspension of allowances in these cases.

A number of reasons were advanced for the relatively small percentage of suspensions. Past attendance records were considered, as were home conditions and other related circumstances.

Appointment of a truant officer to correct attendance problems seemed to be the reaction of the group to the difficulty.

Also discussed were necessary qualifications for trades and vocational training.

The group appointed six members to investicate the housing situation in the town and area, with a view to assist in the finding of housing for personnel in new industries locating here.

1st Meeting Held On G'town Plan

The first of a series of meetings to discuss the Georgetown development was held yesterday between the P.E.I. Industrial Establishment Board and representatives of Gulf Garden Foods Limited and Bathurst Marine Industries, the firms locating in Georgetown.

Board chairman Hon. Leo Rossiter said an immediate start is to be made on construction of Gulf Garden Foods Limited's fish processing plant.

Other principals present for the board at yesterday's meeting were Agriculture Minister Andrew MacRae and Provincial Secretary J. David Stewart.
