Opening lead—two of spades. This hand occurred in a team match. Declarer slipped, and went down in three trump, losing an opportunity to make a fine play.

A spade was led. East won the queen and returned a spade, the jack losing to the ace. Declarer led a club to the king and West made a good defensive move by ducking. West also refused the queen, but took the ace when another club was led.

After cashing the spade king, on which South discarded a diamond, West led the seven of diamonds and declarer won with the queen.

By this time South was down to five hearts and the ace of diamonds. It was here that declarer missed his cue. He cashed the A-K-Q of hearts, hoping for a favorable break, but when West showed up with five hearts, South had to lose two tricks to the J-9 and went down one.

Declarer had a much better line of play available. After leading the A-K of hearts, he should have cashed the ace of diamonds. It was fairly obvious from the prior plays that West had started with either one of two diamonds.

In the actual hand, West would have shown out on the ace of diamonds and discarded a spade. A play sure to succeed would then have become available to South.

West is known to have started with exactly four spades, one diamond and three clubs. Hence, to fill his complement of 13 cards, he must have started with precisely five hearts. His last three cards are therefore known to be the J-9-8 of hearts. So declarer, holding the Q-10-3 of hearts, would lead the three and force a heart return into the Q-10 to produce his ninth trick. Also, if it had turned out that West started with two diamonds, thus placing him with four hearts originally, the hand was again sure to make. In such case, the queen and another heart would be led. When West won with the jack he would be forced to return his losing spade to dummy's ten.

Singer Stoned, Called Stoolie

NEW YORK (AP)—Singer Don Anthony, who has told authorities about disc jockey "payola," said Wednesday his home has been attacked by rock-throwing ruffians yelling "stoolie, we'll get you!"

He said he also has received threatening telephone calls and has been subjected to derision from "kids in bebop hats" yelling "rock 'n' roll, isn't going to die; you'll die first."

Police assigned a detective to the premises to guard Anthony, his wife and their 19-month-old son.

Anthony, 31, said the rock-throwing obviously was the outgrowth of his charge that disc jockeys bled him of $5,000 in payola — payments for plugging his records on the air.

German Pilots Are Expelled

PRAGUE (Reuters) — Czechoslovakia Wednesday night expelled two West German Air Force pilots who crashed in this country Oct. 29.

Czech authorities handed over the two pilots to West German frontier police in no-man's-land near Waidhaus.

The pilots, Rolf Hofmann and Helmut Kraus, crashed during a training flight in jet fighter planes.
