B.O.A.C. Out of Red First Time Since Organized

LONDON, Sept. 25—(Reuters)—B. O. A. C. announced Monday it made a gross profit of £1,233,722 for the financial year ending last March. This marked the first financial year since the nationalized overseas air service was organized in April, 1946, that it did not lose taxpayers' money. After paying off interest on capital, the corporation showed a net profit of £274,999. Corporation chairman Sir Miles Thomas hailed the financial report as a dramatic change from the deficit of nearly £8,000,000 in operations two years ago and half that amount last year. Figures do not include profit from the new Comet jetliners which have gone into operation on world routes since March. In the fiscal year ending last March, B. O. A. C. carried 250,173 passengers, nearly 50,000 more than in the previous year, in 72 operational aircraft. B. O. A. C.'s strato-cruisers earned nearly 50 per cent more revenue than the previous year on the North Atlantic route, the most competitive one, but still showed a loss for flights there. Main improvement in the financial picture came from Eastern and African routes. Discussing future operations, Thomas told a press conference that the corporation hopes to use an improved Comet for North Atlantic flights with a stop on the westward flight at Gander, Nfld. The return trip, he said, would be non-stop. Thomas said corporation plans for two round-world services were going ahead. One route, he said, would be a high-speed, cannon ball pluck service by Comet.

Canada Rolls Up Big World Trading Credit

OTTAWA, Sept. 25—(CP)—Canada rolled up her biggest monthly world trading credit of the year in July and put herself $197,000,000 in the black for the first seven months of 1952. The favorable position, the Bureau of Statistics said Monday, was a complete reversal of the picture at the end of July last year. At that time Canada's surplus of imports over exports left her $331,900,000 in the red. For the complete year of 1951 she had a world trading deficit of $121,000,000. The bureau reported Canadian exports outstripped imports by $32,600,000 in July for a credit record in every month but May when the deficit was $700,000. In July 1951 there was a $7,900,000 favorable balance. In trade with the United States, however, Canada had an import surplus in July of $54,500,000, compared with $29,800,000 a year earlier. Her cumulative trading deficit with the U.S. for the seven months was $380,200,000, compared with $374,000,000 a year ago. Export surplus in trade with Britain rose in July to $35,300,000 from $30,800,000 in the corresponding month last year, the cumulative seven-month total being $370,104,000. This was sharply above last year's $60,400,000. With a small gain of 1.7 per cent in volume and a drop of 2.5 per cent in prices, Canada's domestic exports to all countries dropped slightly in total value in July to $371,000,000 from $374,500,000 in the corresponding month last year. Foreign exports—goods processed then reshipped from this country—were up slightly to $4,700,000 from $4,100,000. In contrast, the volume of imports rose 10.7 per cent, but prices dropped 16.6 per cent and the over-all value declined 7.5 per cent to $343,200,000 from $370,600,000. In the first seven months of the year domestic exports to all countries rose in value to $2,460,700,000 from $2,114,700,000 in the similar period of 1951. Foreign exports advanced to $29,800,000 from $26,400,000. Imports on the other hand, dropped in value to $2,293,500,000 from $2,473,000,000. MANCHESTER, England—(CP)—A. E. Legg, a commercial traveler, stopped at a local garage to investigate a squeak in his automobile. Mechanics soon located the squeak—a kitten in the toolbox.
