How to Make Money.

Mr. L. P. Tibbals, of 820 Broadway, is pretty generally known by a great many children in Mew York. He has sold toys and taught Sunday-school a good many years, and he is still a vigorous young man, full of good work. Mr. Tibbals has formulated a very ingenious rule, showing the profit a family may derive from a single whisky-drinking member, as follows:

One gallon of whisky costs about $3, and contains on the average 65 ten cent drinks. Now, if you must drink whisky, by a gallon and make your wife the barkeeper; then when you are dry, give her ten cents for a drink. When the whisky is gone, she will have, after paying for it, $3 50 left, and every gallon thereafter will yield the same profit. This money she should put away in the savings bank, so that when you have become an inebriate, unable, to support yourself, and shunned and despised by every respectable person, your wife may have money enough to keep you until your time comes to fill a drunkard's grave.

Table for the Use of Nails.

The National Builder gives the following table for the use of nails:

For 1,000 shingles allow 3½ to 5 pounds fourpenny nails; or 3 to 3½ to 5 pounds threepenny nails.

For 1,000 laths allow about 6 pounds threepenny fine nails.

For 1,000 feet clapboards about 18 pounds sixpenny nails.

For 1,000 feet boarding-boards 20 pounds eightpenny common.

For 1000 feet boarding-boards 25 pounds tenpenny common.

For 1,000 feet top-floors, square edge, 38 pounds tenpenny floor.

For 1,000 feet top floor, square edge, 41 pounds twelvepenny floor.

For 1,000 feet top floor, matched, blind nailed, 35 pounds tenpenny floor.

For 1,000 feet top floors, matched, blind nailed 42 pounds twelvepenny floor.

For 1,000 feet furring, 1x3, 45 pounds tenpenny common.

For 1,000 feet furring, 1x2, 65 pounds tenpenny common.

For 1,000 feet pine finish, about 30 pounds eightpenny finish.

Umbrellas.

The Chinese and Japanese, long, long ago had their queer parasols, and in Burmah a man's rank is known by the number of umbrellas he is allowed to carry, the king limiting himself to 24. Jonas Hanway introduced the umbrella into England more than a hundred years ago. The people all made fun of him, but may be it was because they hadn't sense enough to get out of the wet when it rained. There are more than 7,000,000 umbrellas made every year in the United States. If they were placed open in a row, allowing three feet of a space for each, they would make a procession more that 3,000 miles long.

Apes as Workers.

It was reported by telegraph the other day that Mr. Parkes, a farmer in Kingston, in Kentucky, had succeeded in training several large monkeys or apes to work in his hemp fields, and to break and prepare the hemp for market. Mr. Parkes, according to the dispatch, has found that they do the work more rapidly and better than the negroes, and at one-quarter the cost. The apes, it is said, were sent to him by a brother in Africa, who had seen them put to similar uses there, and Mr. Parker is so well satisfied with the result of his experiment that he has ordered ten more of the animals.
