N. Y. Stocks In Good Advance After Hitting Low For 1957

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market picked itself up from the 1957 floor last week and made a fairly good advance on average. In fact, it was the best weekly rise since the week ended July 13, and that was the week the market posted its last new high for this year.

The Associated Press average of 90 stocks was up $2.30 to $167.60.

Good as the recovery was, it only won back a bit more than half the loss suffered in the convulsive preceding week.

The main preoccupation of Wall Street remained the cloudy prospects for business and the economy and the continued concern about tight money.

Aircrafts and missile makers were hit hard by the U.S. government's announced policy of limiting monthly payments to contractors. President Eisenhower's subsequent statement that in trying for the $2,000,000,000 reduction in spending this year he would oppose further cuts in defense outlays was a firming influence, but only a temporary one far as the aircrafts were concerned. They still found themselves up against a new problem of financing.

The fickleness of the market place was seen in a drop of 10% for Lukens Steel. Although the company reported record sales and earnings so far this year, the investment community was disappointed that the net income was not come up to the tremendous expectations it had earlier.

Royal Dutch paralleled the performance of Standard Oil (New Jersey) the week before when the latter announced plans for a big stock issue, which caused a drop

Upsurge In Steel Demand Fails To Show

CLEVELAND (AP)—Steel production last week lagged behind the record rate of the first nine months of this year as an anticipated upsurge in steel demand by the automobile industry failed to develop, the magazine Steel says.

Production continued at 82 per cent of rated capacity. Production has continued in the low 80s since mid-August.

Production rates varied among plants and districts, the magazine says. The Buffalo, N.Y., district has been operating at 100 per cent of capacity for five consecutive weeks. The Birmingham, Ala., district declined half a point last week to 72 per cent.

About 5,000 employees have been made idle by production cutbacks in Birmingham iron and steel mills. Another 2,000 were laid off by the south's biggest producer, U.S. Steel Corp.'s Tennessee coal and iron division.

Scattered signs that consumers are starting to buy were noted by

LET'S TALK IT OVER

There Are Sights To Cheer But Also Sounds To Depress

If you see girls walking Summerville streets with one green and one white stocking, don't think the color layers of your ad. These are H-Y girls in the process of initiation. Teenagers get a lot of fun out of such high-jinks, to say nothing of the college crowd. In college town odd get-ups and odd stunts never cause the natives to raise an eyebrow in the months of September and October. In Toronto one fall we saw girls with mis-matched shoes and stockings trying to peddle trays of pin-fish.

We read recently of a town in the United States that declared war on noise. They passed laws prohibiting unnecessary noise, and were quite successful in enforcing them too, so that the town came to be known as a very peaceful spot to visit. As has already been suggested, the town of Summerville could do with a little less hornblaring especially on Sunday night. And say, have you ever tried to teach a class with a power mower going full blast on the lawn? If your lesson happens to be "The Charge of the Light Brigade" then this back ground music might be appropriate, but it is a bit overpowering if "Drink to Me Only with Thine Eyes" or some such poem is the lesson.

"The melancholy days are here." Summer is over—please don't ask: "What Summer?"—and as the poet said, "Each day looks backward at the days that went before." This may be true for a while yet, but not when the boys start saying "only umpteen days before Christmas". Then we start looking forward again. It was certainly a master stroke having Christmas as a beacon light at the end of a trail that gets steadily gloomier and gloomier. Winter days and particularly November days would be cheerless were it not for the fact that we begin to get stars in our eyes—The stars that top those Christmas trees.

Local Council Has Meeting

The regular meeting of the P.E.I. Deamery Anglican Young People's Association Local Council was held on Tuesday evening at the home of Miss Marie Birch, Port Hill, with 29 members present.

The president, Mr. Allison Gill called on the chaplain, Rev. G.R.F. Ebsary who opened the meeting with prayers.

The first item on the agenda was the financial report of the Deamery conference held on the Labor Day weekend. This was given by Allison Gill. Clayton Mill thanked Allison for his untiring efforts in taking care of the finances of the conference.

Discussion concerning an A.Y.P.A. Rally in the Port Hill Parish for the presentation of charters to two newly formed A.Y.P.A. groups, Ellerslie and Lot 11 followed. The president strongly urged all branches to send a list of their new officers to him as soon as possible after election so that a mailing list could be completed.

It was decided to revise the by laws and constitution of the Deamery at the next local council meeting. Carle Thomson B. R.F. convener, reported that the Bible reading Fellowship campaign was almost ready to begin. It was decided to look in-
