

What is Scott's Emulsion?

It is the best cod-liver oil, partly digested, and combined with the hypophosphites and glycerine. What will it do? It will make the poor blood of the anæmic rich and red.

It will give nervous energy to the overworked brain and nerves. It will add flesh to the thin form of a child, wasted from fat-starvation. It is everywhere acknowledged as The Standard of the World.

Learning to Use the Lariat.

Many of you know, from circuses at least, how skillfully a Mexican can throw a lasso. But do you know how they became so proficient? Almost before he learns to speak the Mexican child is given a small rawhide. This he is taught to use by lassoing the pigs and chickens on his father's grounds and sometimes on some one else's ground. As the little Mexican grows older, larger and more active animals fall victims to his skill, until at last from the long years of practice comes his wonderful dexterity with the lasso, or, as it is known in Mexico, the riata, a word, by the bye, which has given us our word lariat, the Mexican name being la riata.—New York Herald.

A Playhouse.

A family of children, most of them girls, have adopted the following plan, which may interest many schoolgirl readers and be helpful to mothers in finding employment for the holiday time:

They have elaborately decorated a small playhouse that was originally a tumble down shed or summer house. They are interested in pretty much everything in this world, but dolls still hold a warm place in their hearts, and to their little house they carry all the small families and their wardrobes, furniture and games. They have taken a number of useful lessons in house-keeping, incidentally, and the little place is always neat and dainty and ready for visitors.—Ex.

When Trees Go to Sleep.

Trees and plants have their regular times for going to sleep, as well as boys and girls. They need the same chance to rest from the work of growing and to repair and oil the machinery of life. Some plants do all their sleeping in the winter while the ground is frozen and the limbs are bare of leaves. In tropical countries where the snow never falls and it is always growing weather, the trees repose during the rainy season or during periods of drought. They always choose the most unfavorable working time for doing their sleeping, just as mankind chooses the night, when he cannot see to work. In connection with this interesting fact a Norwegian observer has made some interesting experiments, in which he has found that the fumes of this anaesthetic, or sleep giver, has a marked effect on the plant, making it sleep harder and grow faster when it wakes up.

Weeds

Uncle Tom in his department in the Farmers Advocate says: You will probably think "weeds" a rather commonplace and uninteresting subject, yet it is about them that I wish to chat with you to-day. But what is a weed? A definition I once heard was, "A weed is a flower growing out of its sphere," and I thought it very appropriate. When we find some thrifty plants of clover in our flower beds we call them, in common with other undesirable plants, "weeds," yet in another case we would not dream of bestowing on them such an appellation. Again, the same title would be unhesitatingly bestowed upon some of our garden favorites if found by the careful farmer growing among his grain. Then many plants that have become so troublesome in this country are in other places carefully cultivated as valuable additions to floriculture. The common mullen that infests our pastures and highways is quite an aristocrat in England, where it rejoices in the name of American Velvet Plant. On the other hand, the beautiful flowering cacti that adorn our windows and green houses grow wild in many parts of the States, where they attain an enormous size, and with their dreadful thorns prove very troublesome. In the Scandinavian Peninsula our much-loved pansies revel in freedom o'er hill and dale, and are not highly valued, while we have to work a little to procure them. Thus we see the truth of the definition above quoted. There are, unfortunately, more weeds in the world than those that take root in the earth—weeds of an infinitely more dangerous character—human weeds, creatures whose low sense of honor and lack of moral principles do not justify us in placing them in any other class. With these we do not mean to deal, although, to carry the plant simile further, might not even these be improved if given such care and cultivation as a skillful florist bestows upon his seedlings? Perhaps, too, we designate as "weeds" many who deserve a better name, the fault being in our failure to appreciate their worth.

A Challenge.

Drop your dainty heads awhile,
Flower rich and rare,
Ere you meet my lady's smile
And find you are not fair.

Fly away, you little birds,
Tuneful throats of spring,
Lest you hear my lady's words
And learn you cannot sing.

Call, the clouds to cover you,
Faroff summer skies.
Or you'll see a deeper blue
Within my lady's eyes.

Things below and things above,
All things ev'rywhere,
Challenge not my ladylove
Or perish in despair.

Nerves...

Wasted and Shattered by Worry or Overwork are Revitalized by Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food

"Nerves"—what a world of meaning this word has to scores of thousands of women who, through the strains of social life and the worry of home cares, are fast approaching the grave. Nervous headaches, dyspepsia, irritability by day, restlessness and sleeplessness by night. Pains and aches in the body, derangements of the organs peculiarly feminine, loss of energy and ambition, despondency and despair. These are some of the symptoms known to the woman of exhausted nerves. These are symptoms which entirely disappear when Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food is used. By creating new, rich blood and nerve tissue this great food of Dr. A. W. Chase restores and revitalizes the wasted nerve cells, puts new vigor and vitality into the system and frees woman of many ills which are due to exhausted nerves. Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food cures by the building-up process, which makes the body round and plump, and restores the glow of health to the pale, sallow cheek.
