Nfld. Fishermen Get Price Guarantee For Labrador Codfish

OTTAWA, Oct. 26 (CP) — The Federal Government will guarantee Newfoundland fishermen an initial payment of $7 per quintal for Labrador codfish of the 1950 catch. Fisheries Minister Mayhew announced tonight.

It was expected, he said, that the final sale of all fish "will be sufficient to provide for a later additional payment to the fishermen."

But in future years the problem of Labrador fish would "have to be made by the Newfoundland fishing industry itself." The Labrador type of fish had been difficult to sell and "every effort must be made to continuously adjust its production to meet market requirements."

A substantial reduction took place this year.

"As a result of this Government action, the industry will be starting the 1951 season with a clean slate," Mr. Mayhew said. "From then on it will be up to the Newfoundland fishing industry to decide how much of the Labrador fish it can sell on world markets and take the risks involved."

The decision to subsidize Labrador cod was taken by the Cabinet when it became apparent that "without help large stocks of fish would remain in the hands of fishermen." The Newfoundland fisheries entered the present season with a large carry-over of

Similar Action Said Possible In Canada

By Harold Morrison
WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (CP) — The United States Government today imposed a sweeping ban on all amusement construction to save materials for rearmament and Canada's Trade Minister, C. D. Howe, indicated that the Canadian Government would take similar action, if necessary.

The U. S. National Production Authority forbade, as of midnight tonight, the start of construction on 44 types of construction, ranging from football stadia to pool halls.

"We will follow," Howe told a reporter who asked him if Canada would also ban recreation construction.

"Do you mean you will follow the U. S. action?" the reporter asked.

Mr. Howe's reply was "yes."

Howe Qualifies

Later the Minister, who came to Washington to witness the signing of an agreement by which the two countries would pool their resources for defence, qualified this.

He told Canadian reporters, who pressed him for elaboration, that he had said previously that the U. S. action was necessary in order to obtain materials for defence production, the controls would be brought into force. However, the only controls required at the moment were those on nickel. These were on a voluntary basis directed by the industry in consultation with the War Department.

Reporters asked: How if the agreement, which provides for joint allocation and priority controls, means that Canada would soon follow the U. S., not only in banning recreation construction but also whether Canada would actively decide to do so.

The agreement could mean that, Howe said, but it does not necessarily mean that.

Baby Girl Burned To Death Yesterday In Fire At Alberton

Betty Ann Bartle, three-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Bartle of Alberton, lost her life yesterday afternoon as a result of a fire which broke out in the bedroom where she was sleeping in her carriage. The alarm was sent in by Mrs. Lloyd Oliver, Mrs. Oliver and Mr. Holson Coughlan, another neighbor, attempted to reach the child but were driven back by smoke. As soon as the firemen arrived a rescue was effected by W.C. Leavitt, J. C. Profit and Sandy Bennett. The carriage and bedding were badly burned. The little girl was rushed to the Western Hospital but died a few minutes after arrival there.

The cause of the fire remained a mystery last evening. No chimney or stove pipe went through the room nor were the children known to have been in the room previous to the outbreak of the fire. The blaze was extinguished with chemical. Fire damage was confined to this room but the whole house was filled with smoke.

It could not be learned last evening how much insurance was carried on the house but it is understood that it was at least partially insured.

Mr. and Mrs. Bartle suffered the loss of the home in Alberton by fire during January of this year and in the spring a new house was moved in from Mill River which they have occupied only three and a half months.

The mother and three other small children were at home at the time of the fire, two other children were at school and another daughter was at work. The ages of the children range from about two years to sixteen years. The father, in company with other men, had left home on Wednesday morning by car for Ontario to seek employment and last evening the R.C.M.P. were endeavoring to locate him as he was not aware of the tragedy at home.

Children's Aid Society Reorganization Meeting

A successful meeting of the Charlottetown Children's Aid Society was held in the City Council Chamber last night, when an organizing committee was named from the floor to make plans for the re-establishing of a Province-wide Children's Aid Society to replace the Societies now serving the Charlottetown and Summerside areas. Rev. G. Carlyle Webster, President of the Charlottetown Children's Aid Society, acted as chairman for the meeting.

In his introductory remarks Mr. Webster outlined the steps that have been taken since April, 1950, towards re-organizing the Charlottetown and Summerside Children's Aid Societies on a Province-wide basis. The chairman pointed out that in April Mr. Frank McKinnon, Chief Child Welfare Officer for the Province of Nova Scotia, came here at the request of the Charlottetown organization to make a survey of the work presently being done in the field of child welfare on P.E.I., and of the areas of need which are not covered by the existing child welfare services. The survey uncovered an urgent need for expanding the services of the two functioning Children's Aid Societies.

Mr. Webster then welcomed Mr. Glen Allen, Supervisor of Welfare Services for the Nova Scotia Regional office of Family Allowances, who was invited to P.E.I. to assist in re-organizing the Children's Aid Societies to satisfy the need for broader effort in the child welfare field.

Mr. Jack Trainor, Chief Welfare Officer for this Province, spoke briefly on the need for increased effort on the part of child welfare organizations. On behalf of the Provincial Government he extended to the meeting the guarantee of full and complete cooperation in any effort that it might undertake in the interests of child welfare.

Mr. Nicholson, Regional Director of Family Allowances, explained the policy of the Federal Government relating to private effort in the welfare field. He stressed that the role of government in a democracy is not to replace private effort but to supplement it, when and where necessary. The policy of the Dominion Government is to encourage and promote private effort in the welfare field. It was in line with that policy that Mr. Glen Allen was authorized by the Na-

Canada, U. S. Pool Skills, Resources In Defence Plan

By Harold Morrison
WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (CP) — Canada and the United States today formally pooled their resources and skills as a common defence against aggression.

In an historic signing ceremony, they agreed to six economic principles for joint defence production. These principles, when developed to the fullest, will virtually eliminate all barriers to the free flow of arms and equipment between the two countries.

W. Stuart Symington, chairman of the U. S. National Security Resources Board, who along with Trade Minister Howe of Canada participated in the signing ceremony, said the agreement should not be compared with the Schuman Plan for pooling the coal and steel resources of Western Europe.

"Our plan is continuing and developing something that has already been done," he said.

New British Commons Chamber Is Opened

LONDON, Oct. 26 (CP) — The Commonwealth held a family party today to celebrate the inductibility of parliamentary institutions.

From legislatures as far off as Gambia in West Africa and as close at hand as the Isle of Man, 28 Commonwealth representatives assembled with Britain's political leaders to mark the opening of a new House of Commons which took five years to build.

W. Ross Macdonald, Speaker of the Canadian Commons, described the inaugural scenes in Westminster Palace as "something I will never forget."

Royal pageantry blended with the banter of members of Parliament in ceremonies that were often, obviously sincere and seldom stuffy.

In high-ceilinged Westminster Hall, built by King Richard II nearly 550 years ago, the King described the new house as "a sign to the world" of the Commonwealth's faith in freedom.

Earlier, members met for the first time in the new chamber to welcome visiting Commonwealth representatives. Prime Minister Attlee and Conservative leader Winston Churchill joined in expressing thanks for "a profusion of gifts" from Commonwealth countries, including the Speaker's table donated by Canada.

In a playful rally keyed to the happy mood of the House, Churchill, who as wartime Prime Minister formerly sat on the Government side—professed to find fault with the present seating arrangements.

"Anyhow we are all here again, and if everything is not entirely to our liking we have at any rate to be thankful for," he said.

Churchill was the last to speak (Continued on Page 5 Col. 6)

New Reports Chinese Reds Invade Tibet

NEW DELHI, India, Oct. 26 (AP) — A Communist Chinese "liberation" army has crossed a disputed frontier zone and knifed into Tibet, dispatches from Calcutta and various Communist capitals said today.

(It was announced in Peking Tuesday that such an invasion had been ordered "to free the 3,000,000 inhabitants of Tibet, a primitive, priest-ruled land isolated by the Himalayas, and to strengthen the national western frontiers of China.")

The assignment was reported given the Second Chinese Field Army.

Though some military authorities have expressed skepticism because of wintry conditions setting in across the Tibetan highlands, the Calcutta newspaper Statesman said a Chinese vanguard was reliably reported well inside Tibet, only a day's march from Nalwatu (Riwoche) and about 50 miles northwest of Lhasa, the capital.

Canada To End State Of War With Germany

OTTAWA, Oct. 26 (CP) — Canada today declared her intention of ending the 11-year state of war with Germany.

The External Affairs Department announced that the Government has decided to take the "necessary action" to end the state of war "as soon as it is in a position to do so." This expectation here is that the decision will be taken early next year.

The announcement said the decision was taken with regard to the desirability of bringing the federal republic of Germany into closer association with the community of free nations.

This statement was in accord with a London dispatch today which quoted diplomatic officials as saying that Britain, the United States and France have asked all non-Communist members of the United Nations to end the state of war with Germany early in 1951.

The big Western Powers, who hope to take this action themselves sometime in January or February next, want the occasion to serve as a gesture of friendliness to the new German federal republic by the non-Communist world.

The announcement here made clear that the step would have no effect on war debts or claims against Germany.

The only other former enemy with which Canada still is technically at war is Japan. Peace treaties were concluded late in 1947 with Italy, Roumania, Hungary, and Finland.

The step will necessitate amendments to a number of Federal statutes adopted during the war and post-war periods which have functions and powers hinging on the state of war. Thus, the move undoubtedly will require some form of legislative action when Parliament opens its next session early in 1951.

It was not immediately clear whether Parliament would have to pass a specific bill ending the state of war, though it was Parliament which declared it in September, 1939.

Authoritative sources here said a new interpretation of international law, now generally accepted by the big powers, assumed that the war with Germany actually ended with Germany's unconditional surrender in 1945.

If that interpretation is accepted by Canada, these sources said, the Cabinet alone could end the state of war.
