teruach. It has a special Diet for its local affairs, and used to furnish three members to the plenum of the German Confederation. The number of the contingent it was bound to supply to the Federal army was 3,721 men and 8 guns; and its revenue does not exceed the sum of £120,000. It is limited on the north and west by Belgium, on the south by France, and on the east by Prussia. The country is rich in coal, iron and copper mines. Hemp is the principal production. Its manufactures consist of cloth, woollen goods and leather. It would be a poor set-off for the aggrandisement of Prussia, but strategically would fortify the French frontier, and give France an advantageous place d'armes in the event of a war with Germany, a consideration which would fully account for Prussia's retaining it, and for the desire of France to "revendicate" it.

ITALY.

ANTI-CLERICAL DEMONSTRATION AT UDINE.

A somewhat important anti-clerical demonstration has taken place at Udine. The previous day had been Victor Emmanuel's birthday, and the Archbishop of the town, Monsignor Casasola, had forbidden the clergy to read the prayer "Oremus pro rege" on the occasion. This created great excitement among the population, who assembled in front of the archiepiscopal palace, and, after giving vent to their discontent in a series of groans, smashed all the windows, and then, breaking into the building with cries of "Down with Casasola! Down with the priests! Long live the King!" destroyed every article of furniture they could find. Fortunately the Archbishop was so securely concealed that the search for him was fruitless. At length a detachment of gendarmes arrived and dispersed the crowd.

SPAIN.

DANGEROUS STATE OF AFFAIRS.

The dangerous condition of affairs in Spain is shown by the following letter from Madrid:—"It is a significant circumstance that the press, in spite of the terrors with which it is threatened, does not hesitate to speak of the dethronement of the Sovereign, and to hint that a revolution will quickly satisfy the desires of the country, if they are not at once met by a voluntary abdication. This is, in effect, the meaning of a very plain-spoken article in the Relampago, a clandestine journal with a large circulation. The same journal vituperates the army in general, and calls the Ministers lackeys of the Bourbons. It says that Spain is disgusted and tired by being governed by military adventurers, who are never satisfied until they are gorged with blood and gold. It is easy to conjecture how all this will end. The crisis is at hand. Each day some new arrests occur, some new deposit of hidden arms is discovered; the prisons teem with captives, commerce is completely paralysed, every one from the highest noble of the land to the simple artisan suffers from the state of affairs; every one is dissatisfied, every one murmurs. The Queen affects to go out generally without an escort, but the promenades are full of policemen disguised in different manners, who are always on the qui vive. In certain circles it is whispered that O'Donnell is on the point of returning to Madrid. In one word, everything here is gloomy, and danger is imminent."

THE RECENT FENIAN RISING.—The Roman Catholic Archbishop of Cashel has issued a pastoral strongly condemning the recent rising. After pointing out the folly of attempting to cope with the power of England, he continues:—

"I declare that the unhappy movement which is now disturbing the peace of the country is most sinful in itself, and condemned by the church under the heaviest censures. I further call upon all owning me for their pastor who have been drawn into this movement at once to abandon an enterprise as criminal as it is foolish, before they involve themselves and their families and their country in the direst calamity. The God-speed of the wise and the good does not follow them, the blessing of the church is not with them, the favour of Heaven they cannot hope for—how can they but lose heart! Moreover, the informer is on their track, a determined soldiery in their front; and if they escape from them with their lives they cannot promise themselves to escape from the condign punishment of the law of the land. To have engaged in this business was the extreme of folly; to persevere in it any longer would be the height of madness. Let all give it up at once. Patriotism, pity for family and friends, self-preservation, religion—all call upon them to do so. In the name of all, in the name of the living God, I call upon those of my flock who are implicated to do so. If we have grievances to complain of—and we have—let us as good Christians bear with them for a time, so long as it may please Providence that we shall have to bear with them. Let us seek a redress of our grievances, not by an appeal to arms with the battle sure to go against us, not by convulsive efforts, which only serve to exhaust what little of strength remains to us, and to make the power we struggled against tighten its grasp the more—not by such means let us seek the redress of grievances, but by the peaceable constitutional means which all good men can approve, and which deserve the benison of heaven Then, with the blessing of that God who rules the destinies of nations, and relying on the strength of a righteous cause, we may trust that the growing liberality of the statesmen of England, and the sense of justice, as well as the sympathies of the English people, will atone to Ireland for centuries of wrong, and remove the ill-effects of long continued neglect. If our people are the worst clothed, the worst fed, and the worst housed of all the peoples of Europe, let us all in our respective spheres endeavour to the utmost of our power to ameliorate their condition by encouraging every effort of agricultural, manufacturing, commercial, or other enterprises calculated to develop the resources of the country. If the friends of the people of Ireland deplore the unnatural emigration which is draining away the lifeblood of the nation, having cost us three millions of our population in a few years, let us employ whatever we possess of intelligence in devising for our people remunerative employment, so as to keep them at home—let everyone that can do it put forth a hand to stop the hæmorrhage which threatens the very life of the nation. Be it the ambition of everyone who wishes well to Ireland to regenerate her by these peaceful means."

SUMMARY OF CITY COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

MARCH 23, 1867.—Councillor Morris presiding, who, in his place, submitted to the Board the Audited Accounts of the City for the past year. Ordered that said accounts be published.

The Clerk read an account of Sales from A. McNeill, Auctioneer, of the rental of Stalls and Cellars in the Market House, let at Public Auction under agreement from 1st February to 31st December, 1867. On motion it was ordered that a copy of said account be furnished the Market Clerk for his guidance in collecting rent for said Stalls, &c., agreeably to the terms of Sale.

His honor the Recorder Presented a Draft By-Law, authorizing the formation and Government of the Union Protection Company.

The propriety of adopting some steps with the view of causing the removal of the old building, occupied and known as the City Hall, from Queen Square, was made a subject of discussion.

Several Members of the Council Board spoke in favor of procuring a piece of ground in the vicinity of the Square to which the Building might be removed, and thereby improving very materially the appearance of the Queen Square. The desirability of removing the Building from its present position in order to enlarge the facilities of the public around the New Market House, received the hearty concurrence of the Board, and a Resolution to the following effect, submitted by A. H. Yates, Esq., was unanimously adopted, viz:—

Resolved, That an address be presented to the Executive Government, requesting permission to remove the old building, known as the City Hall and Post Office, from off Queen Square to some convenient place in the immediate vicinity of said Square, the City Council to provide a piece of ground for said Building. Ordered that a Committee be appointed to ascertain a desirable site to which said building might be removed, and to report thereon to the next meeting of Council.

Councillors Yates, Mitchell, and DesBrisay were appointed said Committee.

Ordered that specifications be immediately prepared for finishing the Upper Room of the New Market House in accordance with the original plan of said building, and that the Market Committee be authorized to contract for the said work, and also for the enclosing of the Market Grounds.

Councillor Mitchell gave notice that at next meeting of Council he would submit a scheme for altering the present mode of levying and collecting the City Taxes with the view of applying to the Legislature for enlarged powers.

The Clerk read minutes of proceedings of the Board of Fire Department, recommending the re-appointment of Thomas Alley, Esq., to the office of Chief Engineer of that Department. Ordered that Mr. Alley be appointed accordingly.

A number of City Expenditure Accounts were then submitted by the Chairman of City Accounts, and having been severally read, were ordered to be paid

MARCH 30—Councillor Morris presiding. Councillor Mitchell represented to the Board that the City Collector had declined to make a return of the names of all persons in arrears for payment of City assessment for past year. On motion, it was resolved that the conduct of City Collector in neglecting to produce a Return of said defaulters, was unjustifiable and reprehensible, and that he be required forthwith to submit said Return.

Ordered that in future the City Accounts shall be audited semi-annually, agreeably to the 29th section of the Act of Incorporation.

APRIL 6.—Councillor G. R. Beer presiding. An application from P. McKenna, of Richmond Street, for a Tavern Licence was read, and on motion said Licence was ordered to be granted subject to the production of the necessary papers.

On motion it was resolved that the sum of Fifteen Pounds be granted to C. L. Strickland, Esq., Captain of Steam Fire Engine Company, for the purpose of assisting towards providing suitable clothing for said Company.

The Clerk then read a communication from Artemas Lord, Esq., requesting the City Council to grant him permission to repair, at his own expense, the Breastwork immediately in front of that gentleman's residence, on the east side of Pownal Street, adjoining Pownal Whart. On motion it was ordered that said communication be deferred for the consideration of a subsequent meeting of the Board.

APRIL 8.—Presiding Councillor G. R. Beer laid on Clerk's table the Returns of City Collector, containing a list of the names of persons in arrears for City Taxes.

For want of a quorum the meeting adjourned.

A. MCNEILL, Reporter.

April 9, 1867.

The meeting held on Monday night in the Temperance Hall to consider the case of J. B. Pollard, Esq., late Major of Volunteers, was very numerously attended. The spacious Hall was crowded to overflowing, many being unable to gain admittance. P. W. Hyndman, Esq., occupied the chair, and the speakers were Messrs. George Alley, A. McNeill, J. Williams and E. Reilly, all of whom were cheered to the echo. A resolution was passed expressing disapproval of the treatment which Major Pollard had received, and an address was also agreed to, complimenting him on his skill and efficiency as a volunteer officer, as well as sympathising with him on acount of his sudden dismissal from office by the Commander-in-Chief. We have not seen a programme of the proceedings, but we understand that a committee was appointed to wait upon Mr Pollard with the address. After the meeting dispersed the committee, we learn, attended to this duty, when Mr. Pollard, with his usual suavity, gave an appropriate reply.—Pat.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE EXAMINER.

Dear Sir,—I was somewhat surprised to see by your last number, that an attempt was made to have me nominated as a candidate for the representation of the third district of Queen's County. Now, Sir, I want to know by what authority those parties made such unwarrantable use of my name at that meeting? I was called upon the day before that meeting took place to know if I would attend it and contest the district against the Hon. Col. Secretary. I refused most positively. And yet an attempt was made to nominate me in opposition to Mr. Coles! I wish to know by what authority?

Yours, in haste,
J. H. FLETCHER.

Orwell Mills, 13th April, 1867.

[Herald, please copy.]

VOLUNTEERS;

Having learned that much dissatisfaction prevails among you, owing to my recent dismissal from the military service of the Colony, I feel it to be my duty to advise you to submit to the constituted authorities, and cheerfully discharge such duties as may be required of you by your officers.

With feelings of deep gratitude for your active sympathy in my behalf, I beg you not to allow any disaffection to break up your ranks. After your long connection with the Volunteer service, and your proficiency in drill, &c., the want of your services would, indeed, prove a serious loss to the whole Volunteer movement.

His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief may be justified in my dismissal, but I am yet at a loss to understand what "breach of all military usages" I have committed, nor do I know where are the "orders" that I have not "implicitly obeyed."

However, should my country at any future time require my services, I would readily join your ranks in the defence of our hearths and homes.

I remain, Volunteers,
Your sincere friend,
J. B. POLLARD.

London and Lancashire Office,

P. E. Island, April 9, 1867.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE EXAMINER.

Sir:—You will oblige by publishing in your next issue the subjoined letter, addressed to me, in October last, and which I would not have inserted in the newspaper, had it not been necessary for the interests of the Company I represent.

That Company commenced its Agency in this Island, through me, in November, 1863. Since that time I have issued a very large number of Policys, and have paid for losses the enormous sum of six thousand two hundred and twenty-five pounds, currency (£6225), and which far exceeds the amount of premiums received here.

The Company has a paid-up capital, in the Fire Department, of £1,000,000 sterling, and in the Life Department of £100,000 sterling. In the year 1865, the fire premiums alone amounted, at the Home Office, and throughout the different Agencys, to the sum of one hundred and twenty-two thousand four hundred and sixteen pounds, sterling, (£122,416), and last year there was a large increase.

I have no hesitation in recommending this Company to the Insuring public as a first class office, being most generous and punctual in the payment of losses, where neither neglect nor fraud can be detected.

I am your obedient servant,
CHARLES YOUNG.

CHARLOTTETOWN, Oct. 15, 1866.

Dear Sir:—We, the undersigned Insurers, in the London and Lancashire Fire Insurance Company of London, England, beg leave to return to you, as the indefatigable Agent of that Company, our sincere thanks for the prompt and liberal manner in which you have paid our claims for losses, occasioned by the recent calamitous fires in this city. We also take this opportunity of expressing our undiminished confidence in the Company, and of cordially recommending the same to our fellow-citizens who may desire to insure their property against fire.

We are sincerely yours,

The pillory and the whipping-post, once so common, have almost entirely disappeared, consumed in the blaze of a more enlightened and humane civilization. In many of our older States they were formerly recognized among the necessary institutions of well regulated society, but one by one the several States, as they fell into disrepute, abolished them by law. We had supposed that these relics of barbarism had been entirely banished from the land, except as preserved in some parts of the South for the chastisement of negroes, but we were mistaken. It seems from a late number of the Wilmington (Delaware) Commercial that in that State—sometimes called the 'The Blue Hen'—these vestiges of savageism are not only tolerated by law but by usage! In New Castle, some 25 miles from Philadelphia, and in Georgetown, within sight of the residence of Senator Saulsbury, the spectacle of men and women, both black and white, tied to a post and whipped for petty offences may still be seen. Even at Dover, the capital, the pillory and the whipping-post are occasionally brought into use.

From the sickening details given by the Commercial of the recent laceration and shrieks of an unfortunate white woman, who had been found guilty of petti larceny, it appears that the public sentiment of Delaware is shockingly behind the times, in this regard, at least.

SYMPATHY IN CONGRESS WITH FOREIGN REBELLION.—In the House of Representatives at Washington—

Mr. Banks reported a joint resolution declaring that the people of the United States cannot regard the proposed confederation of the Provinces of the Northern frontier of this country without extreme solicitude; that a confederation of States on this continent, extending from ocean to ocean, established without consulting the people of the Provinces, and founded on the monarchial principles of Government, endanger most important interests, and tend to increase and perpetuate the embarrassments already existing between the two Governments.

After some discussion the resolution was passed without a division.

Mr. Banks also, from the same committee, reported a resolution declaring that this House extend its sympathy to the people of Ireland and Candia in all their just efforts to maintain the independence of States, to elevate the people and to extend and perpetuate the principles of liberty.

Some members said that the Fenian efforts must prove abortive, and do only mischief, and an amendment to that effect was moved, but lost by a vote of 102 to 10.

Holloway's Pills.—The changeable weather of this climate strains the nerves of the feeble and decrepit, and this state eventuates in disease unless some restorative, such as these purifying Pills, be found to correct the disordering tendency. Holloway's medicine gives tone to the nervous system, which is the source of all vital movements, and presides over every action which maintains the growth and well-being of the body. No one, therefore, can over-estimate the necessity of keeping the nerves well strung, and the ease with which these Pills accomplish that end. They are the most unfailing antidotes to indigestion, irregular circulation, palpitation, sick-headache, and costiveness, that were ever invented, and in consequence have attained the largest sale and highest reputation.

GEORGE LEWIS, Market Clerk.

TO THE MARTYRS OF LIVER COMPLAINT.—Among the wonderful medicinal properties which have rendered HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS pre-eminent among the health restoring preparations of the age, its anti-bilious virtues are not the least remarkable. No words can do justice to its marvellous effect upon the diseased liver. Perhaps the simple words of a convalescent sufferer, who describes it as "going right to the spot," tell the story as clearly as may be. It does go right to the spot. It operates directly upon the disordered organ, and whether unduly active or in a state of paralysis, restores it to a condition of health. The sickness of the stomach, pains between the shoulders and in the right side, yellow suffusion of the skin, costiveness, drowsiness and langour, dimness of sight, colic, palpitation of the heart, dry cough, low fever, and other symptoms which indicate the various phases of acute and chronic liver complaint, are one and all promptly relieved, and finally removed, by the action of this famous preparation, which is at once the best of correctives, the gentlest and most genial of aperients, an infallible regulator, and a powerful restorative. Persons of a bilious habit, who use the Bitters as a protective medicine, will never suffer the pains and penalties of liver disease or bilious remittent fever. This the proprietors guarantee. NOTICE.

THE well-known thorough bred Entire Horse, SIR DANDIE, seven years old, of a gray chestnut color, which is none of your half or quarter breed, but is the real thorough Canadian, imported direct from Canada, is of a graceful symmetry, stands fifteen and a half hands high, weighs twelve hundred and odd pounds, and is one of the fastest horses our Island can produce, and that without a doubt; and has been allowed by the best judges of horse stock to be the most serviceable animal that has ever stood on the streets of Charlottetown. The 'Sir Dandie' will leave the owner's stable, Lot 49, on Wednesday the 1st day of May, 1567, and will proceed to Charlottetown, to Mr. Samuel Worth's stable, where he will remain till noon, 4th May; and then return home to the owner's stable, and there remain till nine o'clock, on Monday the 6th; thence proceed to Mr. George Jenkin's, Seal River, and remain there from 12 till 2; thence proceed to Mr. Wm. A CARD.

VOLUNTEERS, as Companions in Arms, farewell. His Excellency has been most graciously pleased to inform me that my services are dispensed with. Twenty-five (25) years I have devoted to the Military services of the Colony,—first, as a Gunner of Artillery; then Private of Infantry; two years as Sergeant of a Rifle Company; three years Captain of Artillery, and five years as Major. The only charge against me is in having too faithfully performed my duty—my only reward INGRATITUDE.

LOST,

ON Monday evening last, 1st April, on the Hillsborough River, a large Account Book. Whoever will find it and leave it at this Office will be handsomely rewarded.

To the Free and Independent Electors of the Third District of Queen's County.

GENTLEMEN—

A new Government, based upon liberal principles, having been formed, and I having been honoured by being placed in any former position as President of the Executive Council and Colonial Secretary, my seat in the House of Assembly becomes vacant according to law. In returning to you for re-election, I have the fullest confidence that you will give the new Government a fair trial, and when its policy is fully developed—for which, of course, a little time should be allowed—I trust you will find it such as to be worthy of your warmest approval.

I have the honor to be,
Gentlemen,
Your obedient Servant,
GEORGE COLES.
