

IN MEMORIAM

MRS. MARGARET KOUGHAN

After a long and well filled span of life, the christian soul of Mrs. Margaret Koughan passed peacefully to its eternal reward at the home of her daughter Mrs. Joseph Holland, Tarantum on August 21st at the age of ninety-five years.

The late Mrs. Koughan was a daughter of the union of the late Owen Beagan and Ann Trainor of Donagh where she was born and spent the earlier part of her life. In 1887, she became the bride of the late Martin Koughan of Donagh, a union which lasted for thirty seven years, and which was blessed by seven children.

The deceased always enjoyed the best of health up until six weeks previous to her death, when the pains and discomforts of advancing years became quite evident and which necessitated her removal from the Sacred Heart Home, to the home of her only surviving daughter, Laura, who tenderly cared for her from then until her death.

She was a woman of many sterling qualities possessing a personality that was at all times pleasant. She was well and favourably known and made friends with both young and old. She will be deeply missed by the members of her immediate family whose welfare always was her first concern.

The late Mrs. Koughan was a devoted member of the Roman Catholic Church, and was frequently visited during her illness, by her pastor, Rev. T. F. Butler, who administered to her the last Sacred Rites prior to her death.

There are left to cherish her memory and mourn her passing one daughter and one son, Laura, Mrs. Joseph Holland, Tarantum, Francis of Donagh. One sister, Mrs. Catherine McEachern and one brother, Francis Beagan of Boston also survives. Two sons, William and Matthias and three daughters, Agatha, Catherine and Lena predeceased her.

The funeral which was largely attended and under the direction of the Hennessy Funeral Service, Charlottetown, was held from the residence of her son, Francis on August 24th, at St. Patrick's Church, Fort Augustus, where a Requiem High Mass was celebrated by the pastor, Rev. T. F. Butler. Rev. A. J. McLeod was present in the sanctuary.

Interment took place in the Church Cemetery with the rituals at the grave conducted by Rev. T. F. Butler where all that was mortal of a kind and loving mother was tenderly laid to rest. The pallbearers were six grandsons of the deceased. Norman and Victor Koughan, Canisius and Elmer Koughan, Walter White and Daniel Holland.

May Her Soul rest in Peace.

Honorary Degree For Duchess Of Kent From McGill

By JOE MacSWEEN (Canadian Press Staff Writer) MONTREAL (CP) — The pride of Montreal's educational institutions were opened to the Duchess of Kent and Princess Alexandra today in the final stages of their Canadian visit.

The duchess received an honorary doctorate in law from McGill University after a visit to the University of Montreal where she was welcomed by Paul-Emile Cardinal Leger.

It was a perfect autumn day as the royal visitors arrived at the University of Montreal which is designed to blend with and add to the beauty of Mount Royal.

Several thousand students and faculty as well as townsfolk were on hand to welcome the duchess and princess. There was the usual presentation of flowers and later the duchess unveiled a plaque to the university's war dead.

PRaises HEALTH WORK In a brief address, she mentioned as she had done in earlier speeches her interest and work in Britain's health associations and expressed interest in similar Canadian institutions she had visited.

The duchess mentioned in particular the University of Montreal work in micro-biology and mental hygiene.

McGill's welcome was enthusiastic and a background of collegiate yells from students during the more subdued greetings of Chancellor B. C. Gardner and Principal F. Cyril James.

The duchess and princess visited various parts of the university, notably the Redpath library, before luncheon with the board of governors.

Monday night, the royal visitors attended an evening of French-Canadian gaiety in which the duchess told of her "discovery" of Canada.

All Mixed Up

BY TRACY ADRIAN

These are really dizzy—and just what the teen-agers ordered. Designed to be about as colorful as shoes can get these wearable styles are favorites with the high school set. No two in a pair are alike. The left shoe mixes up several bright shades; the right mixes up still other colors. Even eyelets, stitching and trim come in brilliant variety. The result is a mad rainbow of color that is as intriguing as it is unusual. But besides — the walkers are sturdy, comfortable and washable.

IN MEMORIAM

Wendell Alexander Gorveatt

Fairview and surrounding districts were saddened to learn of the passing on Aug 23 at the Massachusetts General Hospital, Boston, Mass., of Wendell Alexander Gorveatt. He was the son of Herbert Gorveatt and Sarah Ann MacDougall.

He was born at New Dominion in 1917. He later moved to Rocky Point where he lived until his marriage in 1951 to Jessie Smith. They then moved to Fairview, where he took up farming. The late Mr. Gorveatt was also a faithful mail courier for eight years, and his generosity and kindness won him a host of friends.

Although in failing health for a number of years, he was never known to complain, but was always ready to lend a helping hand to anyone in need, and always able to carry on his duties until this spring. When all medical care administered here proved unsuccessful, he went to Massachusetts General Hospital where specialists attended him. However, God willed otherwise.

He saw the road was getting rough, And the hills were hard to climb. So he closed his weary eye lids, And whispered "peace be thine".

He leaves to mourn his passing, besides his wife, his father and mother, four brothers and one sister. His remains were transferred from Boston, Mass., to his late residence from where the funeral took place on Aug 27. A short service was held at the home, thence to New Dominion United Church where service was conducted by Rev. Donald Nicholson and Rev. A. S. Weir, who spoke words of comfort to the bereaved family.

Hymns sung were "The Lord is My Shepherd" and "Forever With The Lord". During the service Rev. Donald Nicholson sang "The Pearly White City". The pallbearers were: Messrs. Spurgeon Currie, Melvin Currie, Howard Smith, Alle McIsaac, James Gorveatt and John MacLeod.

The remains were laid to rest in the Church Cemetery. The silent tokens of sympathy were many and beautiful, testifying to the esteem of the departed.

IN MEMORIAM

HUNTLY GORDON LEITCH

On August 17 friends and relatives were shocked to learn of the untimely death of Mr. Gordon Leitch at the Prince Edward Island Hospital in his 59th year. A little more than a year ago, the late Mr. Leitch was stricken with a heart attack, and although, for a time he seemed to respond to medical treatment, he failed to rally, and in June he entered the Prince Edward Island Hospital for treatment. Despite good nursing care, he gradually grew weaker until his gentle spirit winged its flight.

The deceased was an only son of the late Bruce and Annie (Campbell) Leitch of Stanhope, P.E.I.

When a young man he came to Charlottetown and learned the tailoring business with the late John T. MacKenzie and Company with whom he worked for many years. For the past 13 years he was employed by the Associated Shippers, serving as supervisor of shipping and subsequently came in contact with people from all over the province. He was very popular with his fellow workers as he was with all privileged to have made his acquaintance. He was a member of Zion Presbyterian Church and was a faithful worker on the trustee board for several years.

Gordon was public spirited, always having taken a great interest in civic and provincial affairs. He was associated with the Odd Fellows for many years and held office in both the St. Lawrence No. 8 Lodge, Charlottetown, and the Port La Jolie Encampment, and was president of the I.O.O.F. Hall, Company for some years.

Because of his association with the Odd Fellows and his faithful service with this organization, he was well known and highly respected in the Maritime provinces. He leaves to mourn the loss of a loving husband and father, his devoted wife, namely Jennie MacMillan Holmes of East Royalty, P.E.I., and one son, Bruce, and a daughter, Barbara also one sister (Minto) Mrs. D. W. Symons of Victoria, B.C.

His funeral, which was largely attended, was held from Zion Church on August 19 and was conducted by the Rev. Donald Campbell of Montague, P.E.I. Two favorite hymns, "The Lord is My Shepherd" and "Sun of My Soul," were sung. The Odd Fellows attended the service in a body and conducted their service at the grave. There were many beautiful floral tributes and he was tenderly laid to rest in the People's Cemetery. The pall bearers were Messrs. L. A. Stewart, A. O. F. Gill, Bois Andrew, Menton, Whitlock, J. A. MacNeil and Harold Partridge.

Among the many floral tributes were: Pillow, Wife; Wreath, Minpah Lodge A.F.A.M.; officers and Crew C. G. S. Brant, Catherine and Andrew; Sprays, Margaret, Norman and family, Annie and Colin, Lorraine, Bertie and Al, Bill and Ola, Nellie, Daniel and family, Eddie and Joe Finn, The Morrison's, Ellen and Jack Webster, Marion and Jack Poyer, George and Elaine, Alf and Margaret, Cut Flowers, Christie Stewart and family, J. H. and Nan Hill, Eldon Women's Institute, Boyce, Danny and Roy, Dan, Eva, Alvin and Thelma.

Floral tributes were as follows: Gates Air — Family Wreath, Eliza, Toff, Sid and David; MacIntosh family; Mt. Pleasant, W. I.; Presbyterian Ladies Aid; Gaudet's Grocery, Miscouche; Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Essey and Vernon; Spray — Alfred, Annie and Adam, Toronto; Grandchildren; Harriet and Ross and family of Halifax; Marion, Bill and family; Myrtle, Bill and Charles; Mrs. Robinson; Helen and Stirling; Edith, Kenneth, Florence and Johnnie; Helen and Stirling and Jack; Crescent — C. E. Section, R.C.A.F.; Wreath — Boys from Heavy Equipment, R. C.A.F.; Spray — Havelock, Annie, Roland and family; Sheaf — Daisy and Leaman; Cut Flowers — Nisbet family; Kay and Horace.

There is no flock howsoever tended But on dead lamb is there; There is one fireside so well defended Still there is one vacant chair.

Card Of Thanks

The family of the late Mrs. Mary C. Ballum, Mount Pleasant, wish to thank all their friends and neighbours, who assisted in any way during the illness and death of their mother.

IN MEMORIAM

DUGALD McCOLL

The death occurred of Dugald McColl at his home Eldon, Belfast, P. E. I. on Tuesday, September 14.

He was a retired Marine Engineer coming to Canada from Scotland in 1911, entering the service of the Department of Marine and Fisheries where he served continuously from 1912-1949 when he retired.

Of a quiet and unassuming nature, he was well known throughout the Maritimes and had many friends. Surviving are his wife, Euphemia Williamson, one son Colin at home; also two daughters, Christine, (Mrs. S. McWilliams, Eldon) and Margaret, (Mrs. N. Birt, Charlottetown), also several grandchildren and two brothers, David in London, England, and Colin in Glasgow, Scotland.

The funeral was held from his late residence at Eldon on Thursday afternoon. Services at the home and graves were conducted by the Rev. Jas. Heathwood, M.A., members of the Masonic Lodge attended and their service was conducted by J. J. Larabee and Rev. J. Heathwood. Pallbearers were, Messrs. Douglass Stewart, L. Morrison, Sam Carmon, Dan McPherson, David Ross and Russell Gillis. Interment was in the Belfast Cemetery.

How To Clean Leather

By ELEANOR ROSS

A CUSTOMER in a big store was admiring the decorative uses of leather in one of the store's model room displays. "And what kind of wax do you recommend for keeping leather furnishings in good condition?" she asked.

The salesman's eyebrows shot up in horror. "Madame," he said, would you wax a cow?"

The incident serves to answer the question homemakers invariably ask when they see the new wall hangings of luscious platinum-toned leather, the aqua or pink leather table tops, the raspberry leather upholstery, the lemon yellow leather chairs, the floors made of leather blocks.

Easily Cleaned

Does leather in home decorating mean difficult, expensive upkeep — fancy polishes and waxes? No. The best possible care for the leather furnishings that are becoming so increasingly popular, is to wash them off with lukewarm soap and water. One reason decorators have so wholeheartedly adopted leather for use in the home is that it is so easy and inexpensive to maintain in fine condition. The palest or the brightest colors respond to the same simple treatment. First, the leather is dusted with a clean, dry cloth. Next it is gone over with soapsuds and a minimum of water, then with a damp rinse cloth, and finally polished with a soft, dry cloth.

No Staining

That's all there is to it. Alcohol spills, the bane of the hostess, come off with a dry cloth, followed by a soap and water rub to remove the odor. If the spot is acid, a cloth dipped in a mixture of one teaspoon soda to a glass of water, then a wash with suds; will do the trick. The luxurious look of leather, combined with its durability and easy cleaning qualities, makes
