COMMISSION RECOMMENDATION

Adequate User Charges Urged For All Transport

By ROBERT RICE

OTTAWA (CP) — All modes of transport — railways, trucks, buses, cars, planes, ships and pipelines — should pay adequate user charges for facilities provided by the state.

The MacPherson royal commission on transportation has put the idea forward without ruling on the adequacy of present user charges — such as gasoline taxes, licence fees for road transport, navigation and airport landing charges for planes, wharfage fees for ships and so on.

This question, it said, can only be answered by a special research study by the proposed transportation advisory council.

The investigation would show the extent of public help in providing transport facilities, such as roads, canals, docks, airports, weather services and so on.

"An adequate assessment of user charges for all modes of transport using public facilities is very much in the interests of efficiency of total transport resources," said the eport, issued last week.

LOOKS INTO PATTERNS

The commission looked deeply into the different investment patterns of railways and truck lines to find out how they affect the competitive abilities of rail versus truck.

It found that the root of the railways' competitive problem lies largely in the huge investment in roadbed and rolling stock. In comparison, trucks have relatively light investment and escape the high costs of providing their own roadbed.

While equality may never be achieved, the commission said the solution lies not in federal subsidies of rail investment, but in making sure that other modes of transport bear their true social and economic costs.

"The solution of the problem of securing an optimum allocation of resources in each mode of transport will be achieved, not by lifting the burden of roadbed investment over which railways must perforce have exclusive jurisdiction, but by levying appropriate charges, including return on investment, on all other modes of transport for roadway, navigation or terminal facilities provided, sufficient to assure that each bears its appropriate costs of operation."

SHOULD MAKE REVIEW

The commission said licensing authorities at all levels of government should constantly review policy to ensure that user charges "reflect the economic and social costs of providing transportation facilities to private automobiles, trucks, planes and ships."

Highway licensing, it said, often does not take adequate account of the expenses of controlling traffic, nor of the social costs of accidents or the inconvenience caused by traffic density, speed and so on. The same factors apply to other modes of transport, particularly by water and air.

"These costs, even though arrived at partially by estimate, are nevertheless real costs, and a failure to charge for them is to render the favored mode artificially cheap and will distort the optimum allocation of resources between all modes of transport."

SHOULD BEAR COSTS

In essence, the conclusion is that all forms of transport should bear their true costs, not more, not less, and compete on that basis.

"No amount of artificial juggling with public assistance can place the various modes on an identically competitive plateau," the report said.

"Efficiency demands that public policy should recognize the disparate nature of the various modes and shape itself to allow them to compete where they can in terms of service and prices which reflect their competitive differences."

To co-ordinate public investment in transport facilities, the commission recommended establishment of a national transportation advisory council.

One of the council's major jobs would be to consult with all levels of governments to find out what they plan in the way of new roads or other transport facilities. It would then recommend priorities as well as test the allocation of investment funds in the light of the pattern of user charges.

"There is little evidence of any large measure of co-ordination in the decisions respecting public investment in the various modes of transport," the commission said. The proposed advisory council would fill this role.

Investment Plans Difficult In Face Of Inflation Spiral

By FORBES RHUDE

Canadian Press Business Editor

Inflation, so far as individuals are concerned, bears most heavily upon those with fixed incomes, a class made up largely of pensioners, widows and children.

They are especially hard hit when inflation occurs in fast bursts, such as occurred during the early post-war years.

On most counts we may by now have pretty well adjusted to the inflation of the past, but in at least one respect it calls for revision of ideas concerning the amount of money needed by a family when it loses its income earner.

Ernest T. Godwin, general manager of Crown Trust Company, speaking at the company's annual meeting, said that $250,000 is required to provide a family with the same standard of living as $100,000 would have provided 25 years ago

DUE TO PURCHASING

This is largely due to decrease in the purchasing power of the dollar by more than one-half, but taxes also are a factor.

Many believe they can beat the inflation penalty by investing in common stocks because the tendency is for stocks to go

Mr. Godwin commented that this is not at all a sure thing. With inflation, he stated, stock market prices should go higher, but their course would depend in part on corporate earnings. He added:

"If companies are taxed beyond reasonable levels and wages 'spiral,' then owners of stocks will receive a lower proportion of earnings and stock prices may not keep pace with the cost of living."

For today's estate of $250,000 he suggested division equally between stocks and bonds, but said constant changes and uncertainties that lie ahead indicate there is no single clear-cut answer as to the basic investment pattern that hould be followed.

ISSUE BOOKLET

British Information Services in Canada has issued a 23-page booklet entitled Towards European Integration, which deals with the Common Market situation and its background.

G. L. Mansour, vice-president, Consumer Products Division, RCA Victor, says more and more homes are replacing old television sets with new ones. This replacement market, plus first- or second set buyers, indicates, he stated, that 1961 industry sales of about 385,000 will easily be exceeded this year.

Fleetwood Corporation, manufacturers of television sets, high fidelity units and radios, says its 1961 sales increased about 25 per cent over the $11,400,000 of 1960. In line with previously-announced plans to enter the United States market, it says the first shipment will be made shortly.

Japanese manufacturers are displaying about 500 products at the Japan Technical Equipment Show now being held at the Japan Trade Centre, Toronto, Jan. 24-Feb. 9. Included are such products as machinery, instrumentation, electronic and precision equipment.

Trust Co. Shows Profit

Montreal Trust Company had a net profit of $1,398,437 in 1961, equivalent to $3.22 per share on 434,870 shares outstanding as compared with $2.92 per share on 407,075 shares outstanding in 1960, according to the Annual Financial Statement.

Capital and guaranteed trust accounts increased by $26,318,759 and at the year end amounted to $169,139,124. Profits for the year, before provision for income taxes amounting to $1,289,000, were $2,687,437.

The regular quarterly dividend of 40 cents per share and an extra dividend of 35 cents in respect of 1961 operations have been declared and will be paid on April 16 to shareholders of record at the close of business on March 31, 1962.

N.Y. Stocks Rally, Regain Early Losses

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market rallied vigorously last week, recovering a substantial part of the huge losses it has taken in 1962.

Volume expanded to 18,716,130 shares from 17,819,640 the week before. It was the biggest total since 21,990,435 shares were traded in the week ended Dec. 16.

The Dow Jones industrial average made an impressive advance of 14.36 to close the week at 706.55.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks last week advanced 5.50 to 258.10, making its largest gain since the week ended Oct. 26 when it rose 6.20.

There was some bad news.

U.S. Steel reported that 1961 profits were the lowest since 1952 and that fourth-quarter earnings were below those for the third quarter. "Big steel" stock touched a new low.

On the other hand, financial reports from some top companies made good reading. General Electric reported that sales last year reached a record and that profits rose 21 per cent. Standard Oil (New Jersey) declared a higher dividend.

Jersey Standard rose 4⅛ as the volume leader of the whole market.

Aircrafts ran into cross-currents, some rising, some falling as a result of a narrowing down of the field for companies to design a new tactical plane.

January volume on the big board totalled 80,883,432 shares compared with 89,108,085 for the bullish January of 1961.

The five most active issues last week on the New York Stock Exchange were:

Standard Oil (New Jersey), up 4⅛ at 55¼ on 303,300 shares; Brunswick, off ⅜ at 39⅛; General Dynamics, up 2⅛ at 36⅛; San Diego Imperial, up 1 at 14½; and General Motors, up 1⅛ at 57.

The five most active issues last week on the American Stock Exchange were:

Webb and Knapp, up ⅛ at 2⅜ on 563,000 shares; Great Basins Petroleum, up ⅛ at 3⅛; National Petroleum, up ⅛ at 2⅞; Canaveral International, up ⅝ at 23⅝; and Ogden Corp., up ⅛ at 11⅛.
