Propose Tourist Bureau Day And Night At Albany

His Department is planning to establish a Tourist Information Bureau at Albany, states the Hon. B. Earle MacDonald, Provincial Secretary and Provincial Treasurer, adding that the proposal will be laid before the next Government meeting for approval.

Subject to such approval plans are being called for and a site has been selected at the intersection of the Trans-Canada Highway and the road to Summerside at Albany. The intention is to have an information bureau manned 24 hours a day; that is there would be a travel Bureau officer on immediate call. Tourists, noted Mr. MacDonald, are often in greatest need of information and advice in the middle of the night.

AT AULAC

Llewellyn Is Acquitted Of Murder Charge

LUNENBURG, N. S. (CP)—The murder of a 76-year-old Italy Cross farmer remains unsolved with the acquittal Saturday of Leroy James Llewellyn.

Llewellyn, 44-year-old father of nine, had been charged with murder following the brutal slaying of William Cross on April 17. A Supreme Court petit jury deliberated five hours and 20 minutes before acquitting Llewellyn.

Mr. Justice L. D. Currie of the Nova Scotia Supreme Court, in dismissing the woodsman, said: "The jury was not asked to tell us how they reached that verdict and I am not going to ask them."

"But you know what I know. That is all I'm going to say to you. NO DEFENCE WITNESSES

The verdict was reached despite the fact that counsel for defence had not called a witness.

Crown prosecutor E. Fowke paraded 26 witnesses in four days including Mrs. Cross, widow of the victim, who was also beaten but recovered.

Defence counsel Archibald Burke of Lunenburg referred to a chain of circumstantial evidence as presented by the crown. He pointed out the lack of fingerprints, and the 1 of bloodstains on the clothing of the accused when found.

Mrs. Cross, he said, had alleged the man who came to visit her husband on the night of April 17 was at least a foot taller than her husband and the victim were about the same height.

AMALGAMATED DAIRIES LIMITED

TO OUR PATRONS:

We regret to advise that due to the lateness of a number of patron-farmers in returning their group insurance application cards, there was not enough time before June 1st, 1956, to carefully check the application cards received to ensure that all the necessary information was given.

As a consequence we now find it necessary to advance the effective date of this group insurance to June 15th, instead of June 1st, as originally planned.

In the meantime we would ask that all patron-farmers who have not as yet returned their group application card do so immediately and thus avoid further delay.

Your co-operation will be appreciated.
Yours sincerely,
JOHN S. WRIGHT, Manager.

PIPELINE ISSUE

In the true traditions of British institutions and to carry on its work effectively.

"This would not be achieved by the adoption of this kind of a (censure) motion, and it is not apt to be achieved by the repudiation of this kind of a motion, no matter what the majority opposed to it."

The censure motion was presented Friday by Mr. Drew after a day of turmoil and violent displays of Opposition anger against the speaker unmarked in Parliament's history.

Conservative and CCF members stormed in front of the speaker to protest his refusal to hear them. The background on Thursday and Friday of that rebellion was traced in Monday's debate.

DEBATE BACKGROUND
Briefly, it is this
On Thursday, Prime Minister St. Laurent moved closure on the committee stage of the pipeline bill. After long Opposition argument against its validity, the motion was upheld by chairman E. T. Applewhaite. His ruling was appealed and submitted to Speaker Beaudoin for a vote.

The vote was delayed through the rest of Thursday's sitting by further Opposition points of order, two motions to adjourn and finally a motion by Colin Cameron (CCF-Nanaimo) to censure two letters to the editor printed by The Ottawa Journal.

On Friday, Speaker Beaudoin ruled Mr. Cameron's motion out of order, without allowing further debate or points of order. Then he put to another immediate vote a proposal in which he said he had made "a serious mistake" Thursday in not having an immediate vote on the appeal of Mr. Applewhaite's ruling. The proposal would return the status of House proceedings to the point Thursday where the chairman's ruling should have been put to a vote.

That proposal was carried Friday, and then chairman Applewhaite's ruling was put to another immediate vote and sustained.

Mr. Drew said Monday the government can't divorce itself from
