I. O. D. E. MEETING—At the regular meeting of the Abegweit Chapter I. O. D. E. a fine paper on Cecil Rhodes, written by Mrs. Howard Smith of the Royal Edward Chapter of Charlottetown was read by the Secretary, Mrs. J. S. Perry. The paper was greatly appreciated by all present. It showed from its contents that Mrs. Smith had read conscientiously on Rhodes and her manner of presenting the facts was comprehensive. Other business included a moving picture, "The Lives of a Bengal Lancer," to be shown at the Capitol Theatre June 1st and 2nd and the Red Cross campaign in Summerside the week beginning June 8th.

First Amateur Night Contest Meets With Huge Success Before Large Audience

Program Sponsored by Musical Committee Of Board Of Trade Unearths Galaxy Of Talent. New Summerside Band Makes Debut.

An over capacity house witnessed the opening night of the amateur contest held in Summerside last evening. Crowds were to be seen on every street leading to the school an hour before the curtain was scheduled to rise and many had to be turned away. The fine programme was sponsored by the Music Committee of the Summerside Board of Trade and they are to be highly commended on their enterprise in putting on the programme and also on the success with which it was received. The newly organized Summerside band was in attendance directed by Mr. Berton Robinson and it played the opening selection "O Canada".

Rev. Walter McCleary acted very efficiently as Major Bowes of the evening and in his opening remarks gave special mention to the band of which he stated he was very proud and knew that the audience would be too after hearing their initial performance. He took the opportunity of again expressing thanks to Senator MacArthur who so kindly donated the instruments to the band.

The first selection on the programme was the "Corinthian Overture" by the combined orchestras of Stan Jamieson and Harold Gaudet and the band. Rev. Mr. McCleary then explained the method of balloting and the hope that every one would hand in a conscientious ballot as the 11 best would be chosen to compete in the final the next evening and also that the eventual winners would be given an interview with a representative from the Canadian Radio Commission next week.

Mr. McCleary as Major Bowes then sent the wheel of fortune spinning and the amateur night took over and a fine opening number was presented by Miss Mary Lou Welsh. Time and space will not permit enumerating each individual performance although each was of a calibre much higher than the ordinary. However, the writer felt that considering Miss Welsh's youth, her song and tap dance number is worthy of special mention. She was tendered a tremendous ovation. Miss Audine Arsenault rendered the Spanish dance, Bolero, in a very acceptable manner. Comedy and talent were both in evidence as the little tot Miss Ruth MacFarlane gave a vocal solo. Miss Dorothy Dumont and Miss Nora Downe very capably performed a difficult Spanish dance.

The next entrant gave the fans the experience of seeing what they have so often heard over the air the "Gong" and the "Bouncer" Mr. Hazen MacDonald gently escorted the unfortunate actor from the stage. Jean Gordon and Helen Davies blended their voices in a very well rendered duet as the 9th item on the programme. As no 10th Entrant Gallant's step dancing, accompanied by Leslie Clow on the guitar was very popular with the audience. Following the 10th number there was a brief intermission during which entertainment was provided by Stan Jamieson's popular dance orchestra.

As No. 13 on the programme Miss Lorena Sempel, the first adult vocalist of the evening, very pleasingly rendered two numbers. Miss Marie Davis gave an excellent performance of toe dancing as No. 14 on the programme and certainly looked like Hollywood material in the making. Next on the programme was an outstanding piano dance orchestra.

CELEBRATE 50TH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Popular Bedeque Couple, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Dawson, Receive Felicitations.

The charming residence of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Dawson was the scene of a very happy event yesterday when this popular couple celebrated the 50th anniversary of their wedding.

From quite early in the afternoon until late in the evening friends from far and near called to extend their congratulations.

Mr. and Mrs. Dawson are natives of Tryon, but have resided in Central Bedeque for about 23 years and they and their family have endeared themselves to the community through their charming hospitality and untiring interest in the affairs of the community.

Mr. and Mrs. Dawson received many lovely gifts from friends, besides addresses and presentations from the pastor and deacons of the Baptist Church, of which Mr. Dawson was the senior deacon; also from the Women's Institute and community.

Afternoon Reception
Over eighty guests, many from Charlottetown and distant parts of the province, attended the reception in the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Dawson received their guests in the drawing room which was charmingly arranged with spring flowers and potted plants.

They were assisted in receiving by Mrs. Dawson, wife of Col. U. G. Dawson.

Mrs. A. E. Wright presided over the tea cups. Assisting in serving were Mrs. Ivan Dawson and Mrs. S. Sherren.

Evening Reception
The spacious house of the Dawsons was inadequate to hold the large number of friends and neighbors who attended the evening celebrations. Dr. Carl Dawson and Col. U. G. Dawson were joint Masters of Ceremonies and introduced the guests.

Addresses and Presentations
About 8:30 when the guests had been regaled with refreshments. Mrs. Sterling Tucker was called upon to make the first speech of the evening on behalf of the Women's Institute of Central Bedeque, of which she is the president, to Mrs. Dawson, one of their oldest members.

After the address, little Miss Peggy Sherren presented the Bride with a beautifully decorated wedding cake.

Next on the program was an address and presentation from the pastor of Central Bedeque Baptist Church and Deacons; followed by one from the community. Afterwards Dr. Carl Dawson on behalf of the Dawson and Wood families extended congratulations and presented his parents with some very tangible expressions of their love and affection for them and the old home.

Following are the addresses:

Dear Mrs. Dawson:
It gives us the greatest pleasure, heartiest congratulations to extend, on this, your golden wedding day. To you, our valued friend. These fifty years you've lived with Pa, and shared life's sorrows and joys, and sent into this hard pressed world your family of sturdy boys. Your love for each other grows younger. As the days roll swiftly away Your good deeds crown you with joy. And may you live with us here for aye. When you celebrate your diamond jubilee.

We'll have another cake of fruit To present Mr. and Mrs. Dawson, With best wishes from the Institute.

Central Bedeque, May 29, 1936.

Address and Presentation from Pastor and Deacons of Baptist Church
Rev. A. G. Crowe spoke briefly on behalf of the Deacons and expressed his great pleasure at being privileged to be present on this happy occasion with your children and grandchildren.

He was happy to say that Mr. Dawson stood high in the estimation of the deacons and congregation for his services to the church and he had vivid recollections of the many occasions in which Mr. Dawson had assisted in the social life of the church.

Rev. Mr. Crowe concluded by saying, our relationship has been one of happy fellowship together and on behalf of your pastor, my wife and deacons and their wives, please accept this Bible as a token of appreciation and affection and may you turn to its pages and read something of real delight for your soul and may you enjoy many more years of happiness with your children and their families.

Address and Presentation from Community
Mr. Thomas Moyle was called upon to address the bride and groom on behalf of the community. In a happy speech he expressed pleasure in being able to congratulate two of their most esteemed citizens on the occasion of their Golden Wedding. He was sure he and friends that the hand of time had dealt kindly with them and that they had prospects of many more years of usefulness in the community.

Their sojourn in Bedeque was marked with a lively interest in industry, church and social affairs and in appreciation of their services to the community they were presenting them with a small gift.

Mr. C. M. Johnson then came forward and presented Mr. and Mrs. Dawson with a handsome floor lamp and end table.

Family Presentations
Dr. Carl Dawson, the eldest son then spoke on behalf of the Dawson family and the Wood family. In feeling terms he referred to the happy boyhood days that he and his brothers had spent together in the old home and the love and affection in which they had been reared. The courage and fortitude of their parents had been an inspiration and challenge to them that they might be worthy of such parents as it was their good fortune to still have with them and trusted would have for many years to come.

Mr. Dawson Replies
In replying to the speeches on behalf of his partner and himself, Mr. Dawson spoke very feelingly of the happy years they had spent in Bedeque and fully appreciated the kindness and affection that had been showered upon them. He was very thankful to say there had been no break in the family and his only regret was that one of his sons and some of the grandchildren could not be with them.

The ceremony closed with that very popular song, "Put on Your Old Gray Bonnet," which was heartily sung by the large gathering.

Members of the Dawson family present were Dr. Carl A. Dawson of Montreal and daughter, Miss Helen; Mr. Elmer Dawson, Augustine Cove; Col. Urie Dawson and family, Charlottetown; Ivan B. Dawson, Central Bedeque; One son, Hadron S. Dawson of Grove City, Penn., was not able to be present. Also, Gordon M. Dawson, Summerside; Edwin Dawson, Augustine Cove; Mrs. Margaret Driscoll, Summerside; Mrs. Jennie Dodge, Summerside; Mrs. Mae Sullivan, Summerside; Miss Ida Dawson, Summerside; Mrs. Dawson's family: Geo. Wood, Crapaud; Howard Wood, Patton, Me.; Mrs. Ada Lyman, Tryon.

AVERAGE
same moment the pressure of all fire apparatus was tested from the bridge. It was one of those daily precautions for safety of which the average passenger is unaware.

On the sun deck the crew were testing the great motor lifeboats, each of which accommodates more passengers than the total complement of the first Cunard liner-ship, the Britannia.

The Queen Mary's second day on the Atlantic was one of fair seas and unclouded skies. Little difficulties due to the over-whelming demands of the maiden voyage are smoothing out. The radio is catching up with long delays.

Never was a ship so deluged with wireless greetings. Never had a ship so many messages to send. Even the Queen Mary's most modern equipment found to be inadequate. Newspaper correspondents bewailed delays running to 22 hours. Touching descriptions of life at sea seemed to disappear into a great void. Wireless operators struggled manfully to stem the tide. Correspondents agreed to limit their messages. Now finally even the Queen Mary's radio is emerging from the flood.

The Queen Mary has already broken the record for the number of telephone calls from a ship at sea. On her first day out 50 calls were put through from passengers' cabins to various parts of the world. An additional 12 since either have been conceded or are waiting.

There were two perfect conversations today with South Africa. One lady passenger had a nine-minute talk direct from her cabin with a friend in Vienna.

The more enthusiastic of the passengers sport the Queen Mary tie. It is sold only to passengers in the shop of this city sea seafaring. It is blend of the Cunard colors with a strip of royal purple on a black silk background.

A second stowaway, who said he sought a job in the United States as a laborer, was found on board. He was Frank Gardner, 41. He was put to work in the pantry. (A woman stowaway was found between Southampton and Cherbourg and taken off the ship at the French port).

The Queen Mary's officers still declined to disclose whether they were seeking a speed record for the course from the end of the Cherbourg breakwater to Ambrose light-ship off the New York coast. One of the factors to be determined, they indicated, is the weather for the remainder of the trip.

TOO WARM FOR COMFORT
EDMONTON, May 29—(C. P.)—It was hot as sinners in conference. At last Rev. Dr. Thomas Powell rose from the presidential chair and said: "Brethren it's hot. If you wish, follow my example." They did. Off came the coats.

escaped, unshelled, and the guns stopped booming after 15 minutes when the Zaeringer's wireless apparatus refused to function properly.

Veterans of the battle of Jutland and members of the National Socialist Marine Association journeyed here from all over the Reich for the manoeuvres. Tomorrow is the 20th anniversary of the battle, the outstanding sea clash of the war. It is known to Germany as the "Skagerrak victory." The British navy bottled up the German fleet for the remainder of the war. Hitler and the other Nazi leaders will dedicate a large memorial shaft tomorrow at Laboe in memory of the German sailors killed during the war. The monument was erected by the Marine Association.

O'Leary And Vicinity
Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Rose Strong on the arrival of a bouncing baby boy on Monday, May 18th.

Mr. Mucken, Presbyterian student, who was in charge of the O'Leary, West Point and Coleman circuit last year, has resumed his duties again. He held his first church service in the Oddfellows Hall Sunday morning, May 24th. There was a large congregation.

A very large crowd attended the Massey Harris Show held here on Friday night. It was a good picture and was very much appreciated by all who had the pleasure of attending.

The three act play, "Too Many Bosses," was presented by the Brae Dramatic Club in the O'Leary Hall on Thursday, May 21st. The play was full of interest and fun from beginning to end and was enjoyed by a good attendance of people. The actors very ably took their parts.

Her many friends are sorry to learn of the illness of Mrs. Benjamin Moreshead which necessitated her entering the Prince County Hospital.

The funeral of Mr. Stephen Gallant, Locke Road, was held from his late residence to Lot 7 on Monday, May 25th. Much sympathy is extended to the family.

The young people of the Alberton Presbyterian Church intend presenting the play, "Bashful Mr. Dobbie," in O'Leary some time in the near future. They are going to divide the proceeds with the O'Leary Boy Scouts, which in our mind is a worthy cause and deserves everybody's support.

Miss Alfretha Wallace, Alberton, spent May 24th in O'Leary, O.

RIO DE JANEIRO, May 29—(A. P.)—The zeppelin Hindenburg, completing her South Atlantic crossing, arrived here today.

TIMELY NOTES ON TOPICS CONNECTED WITH Silver Fox Farming
heavily, they find much better to reduce materially or cut out altogether after the pup is fairly well grown or around August 1st. In Digby County, N. S., I found very large pups last year where they feed large amounts of fish the first of the season. After several years of feeding fish, they find better to cut the amounts used, down almost to none at all after Aug. 1st, with exceptions on late pups, perhaps.

I enclose itinerary of our meetings, and you will notice I am having a busy spring and summer even since April 1st.

Very truly yours,
LOWELL W. HANCOCK

Should not be used we find in experiments to exceed 15 per cent dry weight of the ration at any time of the year, and during fall months, not at all.

Another point might be mentioned that the amount of fish to be used depends some on the combination of the other ingredients used. Fish with some combinations will cause scouring if used to excess. The amount to be used of fresh fish where ground in the mixture is variable therefore, depending on the availability of other materials.

We would also point out that sections where fish are used the first part of the growing period
