

Queen's County Fish, Game Ass'n Meets

A number of questions of interest to sportsmen were discussed last night at a meeting of the Queen's County branch of the Fish and Game Association.

One of the questions which led to considerable discussion was to propose that the government be asked to change the trout fishing season from the present dates to May 1-Aug. 30.

The meeting was held in the Vocational School. Among those taking part in discussion were Messrs. Stewart Jones, Spurgeon Jenkins, Earl Ings, Thomas Benson.

Other matters discussed included a suggestion that guides be licensed, and another that hunting parties be kept small.

The heavy loss to Hungarian partridge and pheasants from hay mowing machines was discussed. The possibility of having the Department of Industry and Natural Resources aid in supplying flushing bars was discussed.

Another suggestion was that the present time during which a bounty is paid on skunks should be extended.

Appreciative Letter From Chief Flora MacLeod In Skye

The following is a letter received by Councillor W. H. Beaton, President of the Caledonian Club, from Mrs. Flora MacLeod of the Isle of Skye, chief of Clan MacLeod, in which she expresses her thanks to all who contributed to the enjoyment of her visit here in August.

"Dear Mr. Beaton: "I have long been meaning to write to thank you for your part in making our visit to Prince Edward Island such a delightful one. We remember the beauty and gaiety and the lovely warm welcome both at the Airport, City Hall, and banquet, with happiest memories. "When would you like the box of heather dispatched so as to be sure to be in time for St. Andrew's night? I fear the bloom will be long over-past, indeed, it is fading now, but it is evergreen and will carry the romance and greetings of Skye with it. If you will let me know how many MacLeods by name and connection will be present I will send notices about the Clan Society and Magazine, for I should be very sorry to lose touch with the friends I made last month. "We returned to all the excitement of the Gathering of the Clans at Murrayfield, and then to a large house-party and ball here—the one gay week of the Skye year—except for Skye Week, May 23 to 31, God willing. It would be splendid to welcome a P. E. I. contingent. "With all good wishes to you and our friends at Charlottetown, and many renewed thanks for our sojourn among you. Yours sincerely, "Flora MacLeod of MacLeod."

Cites Experiments In Maritime Planning

Two experiments in Maritime planning—one in Newfoundland and one in Prince Edward Island—were cited by Mr. J. Watson MacNaught, M.P., parliamentary advisor to the Minister of Fisheries, in addressing the regional meeting of the Community Planning Association in Charlottetown yesterday.

Both these experiments in planning, Mr. MacNaught said, had been launched in recent months in the fishing industry. In each Province a Fisheries Development Committee has been set up, which there are senior representatives from the Federal and Provincial Governments, from the fishermen and from the fish trade, each headed by the Chief Justice of the Province.

In each instance the committee is charged with the formulation of a development program for the local fisheries. The experiment is aimed at outlining on the one side what the Federal and Provincial Governments can do towards providing a good framework for the industry, and on the other what the industry itself can do towards working out the detailed industrial programs within that framework.

"Both these development committees are still working on their reports," and if successful their example may quite well form a pattern for the laying down of future programs in other industries—programs that require the coordinated and integrated efforts of various responsible parties," Mr. MacNaught said.

In his address Mr. MacNaught dealt in general with the Atlantic Provinces in relation to planning. Much of the Maritime production, he pointed out, comes from small producers who are either not ready, or indeed not able, to make the industrial innovations that modern markets and modern fastidiousness seem to require. If so, these smaller producers may need encouragement, for the spirit of enterprise is the essential one for material progress.

"But basically the initiative must remain with the industries themselves and their problems at each special ones, special in each local area," Mr. MacNaught added. "Thus we get back to the fact that the solutions have to be many—that industry, government, both Federal and Provincial, and Associations like this one, have to work on many fronts, sometimes singly but usually collectively." It was in connection with the efforts to find a coordinated approach to certain industrial problems that the speaker cited the Fisheries Development Committee and stressed their importance.

No Hunting In National Park

The Superintendent of the National Park reminded gunners yesterday that there is a year-round close season on all birds and animals in the National Park area. He said he hoped that gunners would not disregard the regulations, as any found doing so would have their guns confiscated and in addition be liable to a fine up to $500 or six months imprisonment.

The centenary of the arrival in Toronto of the first sisters will be celebrated Oct. 6 to 8 at St. Joseph's Convent. Cardinal McGuigan will celebrate the Pontifical High Mass at the opening of the centenary.

The story of the growth of the order's activities in Toronto is one of hard work and courage. The sisters now operate 14 institutions in the city and teach in more than 30 parochial schools.

In 1852 they began teaching school in an old building on what is now Lombard Street in downtown Toronto. In 1854 they opened a mother house nearby and began a boarding and day school for girls. Two years later they opened their present "House of Providence" and began to care for orphans and old people there.

Canada Prepared To Build Seaway; Truman Approves

OTTAWA, Sept. 28 — (CP)—President Truman's qualified approval of a Canadian-built seaway was seen here today as giving that project an okay in principle but at the same time putting a squeeze on congress for fast action on a joint Canada-U.S. scheme.

In effect, some official circles here speculated, the President told congress to get moving—after more than 10 years of inaction—or he would give Canada the green light. Another facet of a joint statement issued in Washington today by Mr. Truman and Prime Minister St. Laurent, after a flying trip there by the Prime Minister, was that it made public officially for the first time the Canadian Government's willingness to go ahead without U.S. government participation.

There have been unofficial reports to this effect, but today's statement said Prime Minister St. Laurent "indicated the Canadian Government would be willing to construct a seaway as a Canadian project if it is not possible to have the joint development undertaken on the basis of the 1941 agreement."

St. Joseph Nuns Mark Centenary Of Toronto Work

TORONTO, Sept. 28—(CP)—One hundred years ago four sisters of St. Joseph came to Toronto from Philadelphia to take charge of a newly-established orphanage. It was the beginning of a century of activity for the sisters in mothering orphans, teaching, nursing the sick and caring for the aged. Today about 2,000 members of the order are engaged in this work throughout Canada. About 500 are in Toronto.

The centenary of the arrival in Toronto of the first sisters will be celebrated Oct. 6 to 8 at St. Joseph's Convent. Cardinal McGuigan will celebrate the Pontifical High Mass at the opening of the centenary.

Island Odds And Ends

Scores of Charlottetown anglers have had a look at Willard Jordan's by-pass trout pond at Bristol, Lot 40, and quite a few have fished there. All have been impressed by this method of luring sea trout into the refuge of deep water, thereby cutting down the manoeuvring of netters and jiggers.

So successful has the plan been, that other groups of Charlottetown men have gone and did likewise, and now have by-pass ponds of their own. At Loyalist, at the head of Milton Mr. Harry Sears and Mr. W. R. Jenkins have duplicated the Bristol experiment, and the Opposition leader Mr. R. R. Bell has followed the same line of thought at a pond at the head of Clyde River.

So the idea has caught on quickly and with many other folks preparing to carry out similar projects in various places, trout fishing facilities should advance rapidly in the next few years.

Besides the ponds named above, the Provincial Government has built at least two in Prince County, and will install a by-pass at Acorn's old mill in Pown.
