THE DAILY EXAMINER.

JANUARY 21, 1895.

LAWYERS AND DOCTORS

"A Farmer" gives expression to the popular opinion in respect to lawyers and doctors. We are all very apt to censure the professions in general and certain gentlemen who belong to them in particular. But when we have trouble or sickness we immediately proceed (if we are wise) to retain the services of the best lawyer or doctor, regardless of cost. In truth, the money consideration is very secondary in cases affecting the bodies and estates of men. What signifies a few dollars here or there, when a person's life or health, or title to his property is at stake? The main point is that men of skill and learning and high character shall be available. Rather ten dollars to the careful, learned lawyer, who is able to draw correctly the papers involving a title, than one dollar to a pettifogger who may overlook some important point and leave your right questionable; rather twenty dollars to the skilful physician, who knows how to assist nature in making the cure that is longed for, than a single cent to the charlatan in whose hands your life or health may be lost. Lawyers are the material out of which judges are necessarily made, and the judiciary is the fountain of justice. Those who appreciate a proper administration of the laws of the country, those who abhor lynch law and disorder, for which no amount of money can be compensation, will never object to the payment of good fees to good lawyers; for we cannot expect to have at the Bar and upon the Bench men of first-rate ability unless sufficient inducements are to be found in the profession. When our correspondent shall have shown that here the fees of our lawyers are at a higher rate than they are in other Provinces or at a higher rate than the members of a learned profession are entitled to receive, then he will have made out a case against the Law Society; but not till then. The case against the Medical Council derives its strength from the fact that men of undoubted skill in the treatment of certain diseases occasionally come from the ranks of the unlearned. Is it not wrong that those who have failed to obtain relief from the regular physicians should be unable to obtain the services of such men—men who have saved life and health in many cases, and are able and willing to do so again? It may be that the Medical Act ought to be amended in this regard. But it need not be pointed out that the Prosecutions of Jodeaux and Rossin have advertised them, awakened public sympathy for them and contributed rather to the increase of their practice than to the loss of their services by the sick.

THE TWO LIGHTS.

The two lights are burning at The Examiner office. A good many persons have seen them. Judging by the interest exhibited the sales of the Canadian oil will be larger in the future than they have been in the past. Certainly there seems to be no good reason why a Canadian should not prefer the Canadian oil at sixteen cents per gallon to the American at twenty-two. Both are clear and bright. We hope that they are in this respect typical of the two North American nations. Side by side may the two lights shine for the enlightenment of the world. They cannot of course shine forever in the "impartial atmosphere of The Examiner office." Both must, in the natural order, encounter blasts of misfortune. But it is not necessary, it is not expedient, that either should be put out, and we trust that as the centuries come and go, the oil of good fellowship may become purer and clearer and the two lights grow brighter.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

—The Montreal Gazette remarks that France is suffering from too much independence among her parliamentary representatives. A statesman with a hide-bound partizan majority at his back would be worth millions to her just now.

—The beautiful poem of Mr. A. M. Belding, of the St. John Sun staff, upon the death of Sir John Thompson, has been printed as a leaflet. The lines—

"A man who lived in honor, died in fame

are strictly true of Sir John Thompson—and they are equally as good as many of those of Pope. Indeed, the verses are highly poetical in spirit and in form.

—Perhaps the most outspoken annexation journal on the other side of the line is the New York Sun, and this is its latest comment on the political situation in Canada:

"Our friends, the Liberals of the Dominion of Canada, are justly encouraged by the patent fact that the death of Sir John Thompson has left the Conservatives without a leader competent to reconcile the conflicting demands and preoccupations of the various Provinces. We trust that events may justify Mr. Laurier in predicting that, should the present Canadian Government venture to appeal to the country, the Liberals would sweep Quebec and make so strong a demonstration in Ontario as to make sure of a majority in the Ottawa House of Commons. We should feel more certain of their success if the Canadian general election were postponed until after our Congress had repealed those clauses of the new tariff act which have gratuitously relieved Canadian products from a large part of the custom duties which formerly weighed upon them. We would warn, moreover, the Canadian advocates of close relations with this country, that while the plank of unrestricted reciprocity may be a good lever for impelling their countrymen part of the way toward the long-looked-for goal, it should be regarded strictly as a means and not an end; for the American people, now thoroughly alive to their own interests, will never give Canadian commodities free access to American markets, until the Canadian provinces are ready to accept, with the commercial privileges, the political responsibilities of our union."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

LAWYERS AND DOCTORS.

Sir,—The courts of justice in this Province have been occupied the past season by two cases of more than usual importance to every resident of the Island, inasmuch as they touch personal liberty in the most vital part. It is surprising that so little interest has been manifested by either the people or the press in the action taken by the P. E. Island Law Society to compel a barrister in Summerside to become a member of that secret society, the principal object of which is to compel its members to charge a uniform extravagant price for any law writing such as a deed, mortgage, or other business connected with law which their customers may require. The Summerside lawyer's faint objection to being one of the injurious band was that his patrons in Prince County were too poor and objected to paying such ruinous prices for his work.

Case no two requires a more extended description. Several years ago a person named Rossin came here, and in a short became known as an unusually skilful physician in a special class of diseases, so much so that many sufferers pronounced incurable by other physicians were restored to a state of health and strength by his skill.

But the jealousy of the Medical gents (who had been manufactured at the medical mills called colleges, after an actual attendance of eighteen months) became fierce. It seems that Rossin had the advantage of a much more valuable training, as he had been for many years assistant resident in the largest hospital in New York City, where he had experience with more cases in one month than P. E. Island doctors meet in their whole lives. The final result of the illwill of the licensed doctors was an action brought by the P. E. Island Medical Society against Rossin to prevent him from continuing to treat persons suffering from disease. Such was the nature of case No. two.

Now, I ask, how is it that these two societies have acquired the singular power to harrass the rest of the community, and levy tribute from the unfortunate. The answer is plain, for the members of those societies are a mere mite compared with the whole population, who are acting as willing dupes to these pretentious fellows, who claim an amount of wisdom in their calling, which observation proves they do not possess. The lawyers have themselves so well protected by their brethren on the bench that it is almost impossible for a suitor to push his own plea. A number of years ago a Charlottetown tailor named Found was courageous enough to get leave to be his own lawyer. His success was so great, although pitted against one of our keenest and best trained lawyers of that time, that his exploit is recorded in the Island Minstrel: "From the Needle erratic is Found at the Bar." That the medical profession is not the benefit claimed may be discovered by looking back to the time when doctors were twenty and thirty miles apart. Life was then at least as long. It is constantly talked of how the increase in population was then almost altogether in the care of skilful women, with a success which is now sadly and notoriously lacking. But the day of secret cliques and law-protected combinations is doomed to be of short duration in any part of Canada.

A Farmer.

A PROTEST.

Sir,—I note that a representative of the morning grit organ has been interviewing Mr. Samuel McLeod, formerly of this Province, but now a resident of Prince Albert, N. W. T. Mr. McLeod, who has been absent from the Island for fourteen years, reports many improvements noticeable in his native Province, particularly in farm buildings, but he is also reported as stating that these improvements were effected partially at the expense of young men who had left the Island, while a number of farms have been mortgaged to enable the owners to erect fine residences. Mr. McLeod may know all about the economic conditions of the people in the section of the Dominion whence he came, but on behalf of my brother farmers of this gem of the Canadian Confederation whom he libels, I protest against that gentleman posing as an authority on matters pertaining to the condition of the people of his native Province, on whose soil he has not set foot for fourteen years.

CRAPAUD NOTES.

Mr. P. Newsom, of the firm of Saunders & Newsom, Charlottetown, arrived here to-day in search of fat cattle. This firm purchases the best stock, at good prices, and their customers can always rely on getting a prime roast.

Auction sales are the order of the day here at present. Tryon, Crapaud and Cape Traverse are having their share of bargains, O. B. Wadman, the auctioneer, being kept busy all the time.

J. F. Covey, M. D., of Crapaud, delivered a lecture before the Epworth League at Summerside, on Tuesday evening, 14th inst. Notwithstanding many other attractions, we are informed the old Methodist Church was comfortably filled.

The funeral of the late Mrs. D. W. Palmer took place to-day to St. John's Church Cemetery. A large concourse of people followed the remains to the grave to show their last tribute of respect. The deceased was highly esteemed in the neighborhood. She died as she lived trusting in her Redeemer.

As times are dull at present a course of lectures would be a move in the right direction. I am quite sure Dr. Covey would give us another lecture this winter, and no doubt the principal of our school here, Mr. McFayden would favour the people. Let some of our young friends move in this matter at once.

Warning to Women.

Ladies who appreciate the high quality of Priestley's dress goods should make it a point to see that Priestley's name is stamped on every five yards. Instances are not unknown where Priestley's trade mark "The Varnished Board" has been used the second time with inferior goods wrapped upon it.

They say Justin McCarthy's income in literature has shrunk from about $15,000 to $3,000 a year since he has been so deeply absorbed in politics.

In Olden Times

People overlooked the importance of permanently beneficial effects and were satisfied with transient action; but now that it is generally known that Syrup of Figs, will permanently cure habitual constipation, well-informed people will not buy other laxatives, which act for a time, but finally injure the system.

Keep your blood pure and healthy and you will not have rheumatism. Hood's Sarsaparilla gives the blood vitality and richness.

GENERAL TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

London, Jan. 18.—A despatch from Hai Chung, under date of Jan. 17, says "General Nodzu reports that 34 battalions of Chinese under General Chang, Shoe and Ko are in the vicinity of King Kow. A Chinese force of 6,000 men has been observed advancing from southwest to Lung Sai, and other forces of the enemy of 2,000 and 4,000 respectively are near Hi Yo Chang. The first and second Japanese armies are working under mutual arrangement regarding operations against New Chwang and King Kow.

Paris, Jan. 18.—Despatches from Nassowah say French Lazarists or members of the missionary orders of St. Lazarus, have been expelled from Italian Abyssinia for inciting natives against the Italians.

Toronto, Jan. 18.—At the annual meeting of the Evangelical Alliance held in this city last night, a strong resolution was passed, denouncing the recent outrages on Christians in Armenia. A resolution will be forwarded to the alliance committee at London, to be used in connection with any action taken by that body on behalf of the oppressed in Armenia.

Berlin, Jan. 18.—Eight mass meetings of unemployed workmen were held to-day. A proposal that the authorities be asked to furnish employment was amended by the suggestion that the unemployed should parade the principal streets and take possession of anything they could cease to relieve their wants. The proposition was received with cheers.

Butte, Mont., Jan. 18.—The financial loss by the fire and explosions in the immediate vicinity of the recent disaster is $163,000. The list of known dead has reached a total of 53. There are four men in the hospitals who cannot recover. The list of injured has also increased. There are 55 in the hospitals and 30 have been reported from different parts of the city. Last night part of a body was found at Meaderville, two miles from the scene. The owners of the burned warehouse claim there was not over 100 pounds of giant powder in the buildings. The law limits the amount to be stored within a mile of the city at 150 pounds. The concussion shook houses in Belgrade, 84 miles east of Butte. The relief committee yesterday received subscriptions amounting to $70,000.

London, Jan. 18.—Owing to the masses of timber swept by the inrush of water into the Diglake mine, at Audley, Staffordshire, at noon on Monday last, endangering the lives of about two hundred and fifty miners, men and boys, all hope of reaching the ninety-two who did not succeed in escaping has been abandoned. From the time the disaster was first announced gangs of rescuers have been at work night and day in the efforts to reach the entombed men, but it is now recognized that all hope of rescuing them alive is gone.

Paris, Jan. 19.—The Socialists has issued a manifesto denouncing republicans as traitors to the country, and asserting that Faure was chosen merely as a shield for clerical and capitalist politicans. M. Faure will begin his duties by giving 20,000 francs to the poor of Paris.

Washington, Jan. 18.—Mr. Randall Cromer, liberal member of parliament for a London constituency, and editor of Arbitration, saw the president this afternoon and presented a memorial signed by 354 members of parliament representing all shades of political opinion in Great Britain, proposing that all differences between that country and the United States, which cannot be settled by the usual diplomatic methods, be submitted to arbitration. Mr. Cromer said the British government was favorable to the proposition. The memorial grew out of the sentiment voiced by the legislators of both countries, affirming in a general way the principle of arbitration, and is the direct result of Senator Allison's resolution introduced in the last session of congress, providing for an arbitration treaty between English speaking nations to last twenty years. It is claimed that the example set by Great Britain and the United States would be speedily adopted by other nations. In this way universal peace, and particularly the stability of Europe, might be assured.

Montreal, January 18.—All the missionaries in Japan who belong to the Canadian Methodist Church have resigned. This statement was rumored in Montreal this morning and is certified to by a prominent minister of that denomination. Dr. Rickman was seen and said that while the facts were as above no statement could be made until the mission board meets next week in Toronto. With the report of the resignation came the rumor that dissatisfaction with the methods of the mission board had been the cause.

Madrid, January 18.—Members of the chamber of deputies from Porto Rico have asked that Porto Rico be not included in the modus vivendi between Spain and the United States. This request is made upon the ground that Porto Rico sugar goes to Canada and not to the United States. Apart from this the opposition to the new commercial arrangements is not serious, although some deputies intend to attack the cabinet, accusing ministers of having yielded to the menaces of President Cleveland.

Glasgow, Jan. 18.—The construction of the new Valkyrie is proceeding in Henderson's shipyard. The length of her load water line will be 89 feet. Clyde yachtsmen express the belief that the new boat will not differ much from the Britannia, except that she will be improved where the Britannia is weak—in running and free reaching.

Moncton, Jan. 18.—The patron movement did not succeed at Point de Bute, Westmorland parish. The Liberal farmers there could not see any difference between the Liberal and patron platforms which would justify the abandonment of the Liberal for the patron party.

Paris, Jan. 18.—General Fevrier, grand chancellor of the legion of honor, gave M. Faure to-day the collar of the grand master of the order. It was learned at ten this evening that M. Bourgeois, after two hours conference with M. Faure, consented to try to form a cabinet. He will go to the Elysee to-morrow to report the result of negotiations. It is believed that M. Poincare will return to the ministry of finance and M. Laygues to the ministry of education. Paul Peytral, Louis Terrior and Eugene Godefrey Cavaignac would accept cabinet places under Bourgeois as premier.

New York, Jan. 18.—A San Salvador special says a general movement is on foot to have all Central American countries annul existing extradition treaties with the United States, but nothing will be done until the result of Castellano's mission to Washington is learned.

Paris, Jan. 18.—A report is in circulation here that a revolution has broken out in Greece.

The sale of the celebrated "Tyke" serge in this country has more than doubled during the last season. Every 2¼ yards of the genuine is stamped "Tyke."

A proposal has been submitted to the Council of the Empire to establish a Russian legation to the Vatican.

ASTOR'S TRIBUTE TO HIS WIFE.

The floral decorations for the funeral of the late wife of William Waldorf Astor, in New York, last week, cost $4,000. But in order that the body of his wife, perhaps long after it had gone back to the original handful of dust, might still be sorrounded with fragile, pure and odorous flowers, Mr. Astor made a contract with a Broadway florist to furnish each morning of the year to come a new blanket of lilies to put over the bed where she sleeps on, indifferent alike to its texture or the cold which even so costly a fabric cannot shut out. The entire mass requires between 3,500 and 4,000 lilies each day, with perhaps as many more violets, the clusters forming the tassels alone containing twelve bunches of double English violets. The cost of renewal each day is estimated at about $100, making the cost of the covering already contracted for in the neighborhood of $40,000.

NOT A SCOTT ACT TOWN.

The citizens of Plano, Ill., witnessed a remarkable sign on Sunday morning last. In the western sky they saw three distinct moons, surrounded by one large and one small circle. In the centre was a large cross, which extended diagonally across. This was followed an hour later by a blind snowstorm, which prevailed all day.

At Crown Point, Ind., three full-sized moons were seen in the west early the same morning. On either side was a great white tail resembling a meteor. At nine o'clock the weather became warmer and snow fell all day, and at intervals sand and dirt came down with the flakes, until the snow was covered with a (black coat a quarter of an inch deep.)

Admission of Newfoundland.

Ottawa, Jan. 21.

The reported views of Sir Mackenzie Bowell on the question of the union of Newfoundland and Canada are quite erroneous. While the Premier is a strong believer in the rounding off of the Dominion by bringing the "ancient colony" into confederation, yet he considers the present a very inopportune time to resume the negotiations, and thinks that Newfoundland should settle her internal affairs before asking Canada to assume heavy obligations.

WORK FOR DARKEST ENGLAND.

Bramwell Booth makes a report in regard to the "Darkest England" movement for 1894, which will be read with interest. The "Darkest England" scheme has 5,400 homeless men and women under its protection every night. During the last ten months the food depots of the Salvation Army have distributed two and one-half million meals. The farm colony has during the year been successful not only in giving employment to a large number out of work, but in securing a substantial profit in its agricultural operations. The report shows that the movement has practically sustained itself, and no one questions the honesty of General Booth. While the reports of the actual work of the Salvation army are encouraging, the facts in regard to London are nearly the same as they have been. The city contains 100,000 paupers, 30,000 abandoned women, 33,000 homeless adults, and 35,000 slum children. New criminals are added yearly to the number of 10,000. The facts show that the different kinds of works established by the Salvation Army are being carried on wisely, and the methods in use have secured the approval of Archdeacon Farrar and Mr. Labouchere, men who are widely apart in their points of view, but who see in this philanthropic work much to commend.

A Policy Not Fluctuating or Spasmodic.

This store grows day by day in its value to the shoppers of Charlottetown and vicinage for scores of miles around, because it is governed by a few tried and true principles to which we steadily adhere:—

1. The goods must be right to be permitted within our doors.
2. The goods must be here when advertised.
3. The goods must square in all respects with the advertisement.
4. Nothing must be said in any advertisement that is not true through and through.
5. The prices must be down to the bottom always.

It makes no difference what others say about goods or what others get for them—at this store the aim is straight for one point, viz., to get the best and give it at the right rate—as low as or lower than any other house in the city, and at ONE PRICE TO ALL.

TO-MORROW we will offer 500 yards 36-inch Heavy White Cotton at 7 cents per yard; 700 ends White Cotton at 8 cts., regular 12c. goods; 300 yards Heavy Twilled Cotton at 14 cents; Lonsdale, 16 cents; other qualities in Bleached Cotton at 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11 and 12 cents.
