

8th Battery Reunion Tuesday

Approximately forty-five former members of the 8th Canadian Siege Battery are expected to participate in the reunion to be held tomorrow.

The celebration will take the form of an afternoon outing at Stanhope Lane, followed by a banquet at Sandy's restaurant in the early evening. Among those attending will be many former Islanders who now reside in other parts of Canada and in the United States. These will include Rev. J. S. Bonnell, New York; Rev. S. B. Proffitt, Beaverton, Ontario; Harry Boyce, Regina; Joseph Bell, Halifax; and Frank Ryan, Halifax.

Also attending from outside the province will be Dr. D. G. MacDonald, North Battleford, Sask.; S. J. Robinson, Halifax; Stanley Slocum, Saint John; Allen Gregg, Saint John; and Bill Stewart, Boston.

Death On Saturday Of Capt. J. W. Bell

The death occurred Saturday morning at the Prince Edward Island Hospital of Capt. John Wesley Bell in his 58th year.

The late Capt. Bell who was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Arthur F. Bell, had a successful business and military career. He entered the employ of the Canadian Bank of Commerce at an early age and served as teller in the Alberton branch of the bank for three years. At the outbreak of the First World War, he enlisted at Montreal with the 25th Victoria Rifles and when the war closed was a commissioned officer in the Royal Flying Corps. Returning to Charlottetown, he was placed in command of the Rena MacLean Memorial Hospital for disabled veterans and remained in that position until 1940 when he purchased the farm of George White at York Point.

Shortly afterwards, he was called back to military service and was placed second in command with the rank of Captain at Beech Grove Training Centre. He remained there until the end of the war when he returned to farming.

The late Captain Bell was survived by his wife, nee Helen White, sons, Richard and John, and a daughter, Sarah, Mrs. John Stollmeyer, Montreal. One son, John, was killed in Italy in 1944 during the Italian campaign.

Revisiting Island From Saskatchewan

Among the many visitors who are spending some months holidaying in this Province is Mrs. Rodolok Agar, of Strasbourg, Sask. Mrs. Agar, formerly Miss Myrtle Shaw of New Perth, after graduating with honors at Prince of Wales College, taught as principal in several schools in King's County before removing to Saskatchewan. After teaching for some years in the West she married Mr. Agar, who held a responsible position in the Department of Railways.

The heavy duties which devolved upon him during the war years proved too much for Mr. Agar's health. He was forced to retire on this account, and passed away shortly afterwards.

Mrs. Agar is spending the summer here, visiting relatives and old friends, and making many new acquaintances. She notes many improvements, especially in the rural parts, since her last visit. Although always retaining affection for her native Island, she also speaks in high terms of the Province of her adoption.

Steel Supply Seen Adequate

CLEVELAND, Aug. 13—(AP)—Steel supply probably will be adequate for all normal civilian needs in the months immediately ahead, the magazine Steel says today.

A relatively small amount of military business is being booked, and any flood of military and related orders is not expected until late this year at the earliest, Steel said in its weekly review of the industry.

"Until emergency demands are better known and a system of allocations is worked out and approved by Washington," Steel added, "it looks as though the steelmakers will move slowly in accepting new business."

Last week, with the national rate holding at 99.5 per cent of capacity, steel ingot output in the United States totalled about 1,926,000 net tons—only 14,600 under the all-time weekly high for the industry set last May.

Return From Petawawa Camp

"One of the best training camps we've ever attended," was the comment of Lt.-Col. A. W. Rogers, E.D., last night following the return of his unit, the Prince Edward Island Regiment (17th Recce) from Petawawa.

The troops, 120 all ranks, made the trip to and from the Ontario training centre by air. Four aircraft from the Maritime Central Airways transported the unit on the historic and record-making flight.

The Island unit was the largest to participate in the intensive seven day training. Major-General Chris Vokes, Camp Commandant, complimented the unit on its fine showing and was pleased with the high standard of training the unit evinced. A very high percentage of the personnel were successful in passing trades tests.

There was great activity at the camp and the first recruits of Canada's Special Forces were undergoing their initial training.

Twenty-two Recce officers in all, including Major J. A. MacDonald, Cardigan, second-in-command, attended the camp.

early Monday said "heavy pressure" was being applied by Communist units concentrated along a 20-mile front in the Waegwan area. Waegwan is 13 miles northwest of Taegu.

The "most serious threat," headquarters said in the Changnyong area, 23 miles south of Taegu. It was in this vicinity that the Reds launched six attacks Sunday as they inched forward on the American (east) side of the winding Nakdong River.

MacArthur's summary said three under-strength enemy regiments had breached the river line.

Elsewhere along the 140-mile front, official sources and field dispatches gave this situation report as of early Monday:

East coast: U.S. air force evacuated Pohang airfield, some 63 miles north of Pusan, but tank-supported ground units held firm as Red guerrillas approached within half a mile of the airstrip. There were no reports on South Korean fighting to contain a North Korean drive south of Yongdok, which is about 20 miles north of Pohang.

Northwest: Enemy quiet. Communist strength reported "thinning" apparently to build strength in other sectors.

Southern front: Task force Kean, composed of American infantry and marines, consolidated their positions on high ground just east of Chinju. The resistance of North Koreans caught inside an American armored trap stiffened, and the danger remained of infiltration of American supply positions and supply lines. About 1,800 Reds were estimated inside the lines.
