A collection of 7,000 skins were well received by a crowded sales room which showed keen interest. Top bundle brought $175 from Tailored Woman. Earlier United Mink Breeders Association dark mink offering of top grades advanced 5 per cent. A breakdown showed 29,766 UMPA section sold 88 per cent. Top males were $66, females $32. Mr. Callbeck stated that silver fox was quite strong in the early months of this year and the Europeans purchased their requirements then. Later on large quantities of very old skins were put on the market on succeeding days in New York City. However, silver fox had sold well in sales prior to that in Europe, notably in Sweden, also fairly well in Norway and Finland. Mr. Callbeck stated that the stock of Canadian silver fox had been diminished by the sale of over 30,000 pelts this year and that the remaining quantities on hand have now been cut down to a reasonable size. He said that the garments made by the CNS, FEA and displayed in Europe had attracted great attention. They were stated to be the most glamorous garments that had ever been shown there. The preference of the Queen Mother and Queen Elizabeth has been helpful in publicizing fox in Great Britain and elsewhere. As the production in Canada and the Adams, Louis Webber, counsel of the Association, states there has been in a number of robberies of substantial quantities of furs in recent months without apprehension of the criminals. Publicity of these robberies in the newspapers can only give the impression that the fur market is easy pickings for the hold-up men. The wholesalers believe there is a serious need for the police department to increase its patrol force such as exists in the jewellery market.
