Accused Is Committed For Trial At Georgetown

GEORGETOWN — Charged with possession of an offensive weapon, Ronald Joseph MacDonald, Cardigan, was committed to stand trial at the next special sitting of the Kings County Court, at the conclusion of a preliminary hearing before Kings County Magistrate James A. Johnston at Georgetown last night. J. Arthur McGuigan represented The Crown and the accused was represented by G. R. Foster, Q.C.

The accused is charged with possession of an offensive weapon for a purpose, injurious to the public, on April 24, at Cardigan. The crown put four witnesses on the stand, John Francis Quinn, Cardigan; Francis Shephard, Cardigan; Cpl. Douglas Hender and Cnst. Harry Burns, both of the Montague detachment of the RCMP.

The charge arose following the finding of a .22-calibre rifle in the porch of the home of Francis Shepard shortly after the accused had left the Shepard house. Earlier several disturbances had taken place following a dance at the Cardigan Legion Home.

Evidence showed that the accused although present had not taken part in either disturbance.

The .22-rifle in court had not been tested to show whether it was capable of being fired but it was in good working order in the opinion of Cpl. Hender. At the time it was found by Shepard it contained one round of ammunition.

Campers Throng Park

"The number of park visitors and campers so far this month is up from the same time last year," Eric Kipping national park superintendent said yesterday.

Mr. Kipping said that the camp areas have been filled to capacity and the overflow was being directed to provincial and private grounds by the park staff. "If this trend continues, and I have a feeling it will, then this month will be bigger than August of last year", Mr. Kipping noted. Last year a total of 350,865 campers and visitors made use of the park in August.

The superintendent said if good weather is experienced in August, the park may be busy right until the end of the month. "The people seem confident the sun will appear", he said.

The first student militia program ever conducted in this province will conclude this afternoon with approximately 40 students taking part in the passing out parade at Memorial Field at 2 o'clock.

Students on the course that began July 9, attended local high schools and will be presented prizes for proficiency in various categories of training.

The parade will be under the commanding officers and NCOs chosen from the ranks of the student militiamen. They are an integral part of the P.E.I. Regiment with which they will train in the autumn.

The salute will be taken by Lt.-Col. D. J. MacCormack, CD, officer commanding the regiment.

$300 Bonus Is Offered To Drivers

There's $300 waiting for the driver who can pilot a horse to a new track record at Charlottetown Driving Park.

Cecil J. Stewart, president of Charlottetown Driving Park and Provincial Exhibition Association, stated yesterday that the association which he heads has decided on the enticement for the drivers of free-for-all horses.

Track records fell at Halifax, Sydney, Saint John and Moncton this year, and many railbirds are predicting the CDP mark will topple during the big Old Home Week program.

SET IN 1959

The present record of 2.03:4 was set by Mighty Lee, with George Callbeck driving, on July 30, 1959. This was the afternoon that Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip watched from the centrefield platform.

That same year, Mighty Lee set a record at Sackville Downs of 2.04 which stood until Wednesday, August 1, 1962, when Dee's Boy steamed home in 2.03:1.

for Digby-Annapolis-Kings who has been in the Commons since 1958, got off to a flying start, parrying reporters' questions about the possibility of tax cuts by saying:

"No, no. I have no plans for cutting taxes at the moment."

"Oh, too bad, George," interjected his predecessor, Mr Fleming, "you'll never be a success as a finance minister."

Mr. Nowlan told reporters later he plans no basic changes in Canada's present financial policies and said the government's austerity program, including surcharges on foreign imports, will be lifted "as soon as possible." The dollar would remain pegged at 92½ cents in U.S. funds.

ANNOUNCE DATE SOON

Mr. Diefenbaker said he will announce the date of the opening of Parliament—expected in late September — in the next day or so and that he will name a number of Quebec MPs to $4,000 - a - year jobs as Parliament secretaries to cabinet ministers.

He also would make nominations for Commons and Senate speakers soon, he said. Roland Michener, last Commons speaker, was defeated in the June 18 election. Senator Mark Drouin now is Senate speaker

Mr. Fleming remarked to reporters that finance "is an exposed department." However, he was happy to be taking over justice from Mr. Fulton, 46, who had held it since 1957.

As justice minister and attorney - general, Mr. Fleming also will handle the duties of solicitor - general, Mr. Diefenbaker said. The solicitor - general reviews death sentences and makes recommendations to cabinet on carrying them out.

Mr. Diefenbaker proudly welcomed Mr. McCutcheon to the cabinet, describing the 56-year-old vice-president and managing director of Argus Corporation Limited as "one of the great men of this country on economics and business."

'RIGHT-HAND MAN'

Trade Minister Hees described Mr. McCutcheon as "very much the right-hand man of E. P. Taylor," the Toronto businessman who heads the commercial, financial and industrial enterprise of Argus Corporation.

Mr. McCutcheon will resign all his company directorships, Mr. Diefenbaker said. But when asked whether he also would sell his stock shares, the prime minister replied "that is quite a different matter."

Mr. Martineau — at 41 the youngest member of a cabinet which has an average age of 54.6—said he is looking forward to his new job as minister without portfolio although it would require some adjustment from the non-political role of deputy Commons speaker.

He noted that his northwestern Quebec constituency, for which he was first elected to Parliament in 1958, includes iron, lead, zinc and gold mining and adjoins other mining areas in northeastern Ontario and northern Quebec.

Cemetery Is Damaged At Brudenell

MONTAGUE — Vandals Tuesday night caused heavy damage to monuments in Brudenell cemetery. It was learned yesterday. Royal Canadian Mounted Police from Montague detachment are investigating.

A count shows 23 monuments were pushed over, and many of them broken. Most were of the thin slab type. It was said repairs were possible in most cases, but the memorials would never be the same.

The stones marked old graves in many cases. Five belonging to one family were among those damaged.

Observers said it took considerable strength to topple some of the stones and there was speculation the damage was caused by adults, or near adults rather than by boys.

Jamestown Park Organizer Tells Of Restoration Of Site

LEWIS MacMURRAN

If one of the early settlers to arrive in Jamestown, Virginia could have been able to view the scene in 1957, he would have seen a similar sight as was seen on his departure from there many, many years ago.

To him it would have appeared that time had stood still as he viewed the settlement and even the three ships that carried him, his family and friends to Jamestown on a certain day, that has now gone down in history.

What the visitor would not know however, was that the whole scene had been re-created by a committee of citizens who after many months of planning and hard work created Jamestown Park, which has on its grounds reproduction of the first settlement, the three ships, that carried the first settlers to the area. It also contains an exhibition building, that tells the story of the old world that was transmitted through James town to the new world from England.

The man that headed this citizens committee, Lewis MacMurran, is now visiting Prince Edward Island on his holidays. He is accompanied by his wife and two children, Edith, 7 and Lewis 8.

Mr. MacMurran told the story of the founding of Jamestown Park in an interview yesterday and points out that the exhibits are of a permanent nature and are visited by one-third million people each year.

Mr. MacMurran, who is the chairman of the Jamestown Festival Committee, said the committee was responsible for sponsoring the Jamestown Festival of 1957, which celebrated the 350th anniversary of the first successful English speaking permanent settlement overseas.

The Jamestown Festival is visited by 1,500,000 people each year, including a visit from Queen Elizabeth II.

Mr. MacMurran is also chairman of the Jamestown Corporation, producers of "Common Glory", an outdoor symphonic drama of the American Revolution. The drama is given at Williamsburg, Virginia, every summer and this year celebrates its 16th season.

that if Charlottetown deserved more representation all they had to do was "divide Charlottetown into two districts with two members to each district represented in parliament resulting in 32 members instead of 30.

"Why should we be penalized in Kings County? God knows we get little enough here. Why give it all to Charlottetown?

"While the Hillsboro bridge was out merchants said their trade decreased by 30 per cent because we couldn't get over. Now they want to take our representation away from us and have our trade at the same time. All we have left is our representation in parliament."

"Worst of all they never appointed a man from Kings County to the Commission. I want you to condemn the report and condemn the commission. God help them when they bring the report before parliament."

Mr. Hessian, who represents 5th Kings, said he has "always lived my life for the people and when anyone tramples on the rights of the people they will hear from me."

GIFT TO CHARLOTTETOWN

Liberal Leader A. W. Matheson stated that Charlottetown was getting a lot of help and that when he was going over the estimates a few days ago he found a special grant for $33,160 to the Charlottetown Driving Park for a new grandstand.

"This was a gift of your money to build something for a chosen few. There is no common sense in the present government. You think the situation is bad in Ottawa, it is just as bad in Charlottetown. The indirect debts of Charlottetown has risen 500 percent since we left office," he said.

Other speakers included John Mullally, E. D. Reid, president of the P.E.I. Liberal Association; Kenneth Jenkins, president of the P.E.I. Young Liberal Association, Mr. Kickham, Dr. M. L. Bonnell, MLA, 4th Kings; and George Ferguson, MLA, 5th Kings.

All oficers were re - elected. They include Major Reid, Rolle Bay, president; W. J. Harris, Murray Harbor, vice - president and Gordon Matheson, Heatherdale, secretary treasurer.

The projects, if approved by cabinet, will be carried out in the areas of the province where resources development councils are set up, after the federal - provincial ARDA agreement is signed.
