Kinsmen Juniors Edge Out Vics 1-0 In Close Southpaw Pitching Battle

In the closest southpaw pitching battle seen in the Junior League in many years, the Kinsmen Juniors, under Tom MacFarlane, eked out a close 1-0 win over the Vics to move closer to the league's top rung.

It was the best pitched Junior game played this year and was a thriller all the way. A fair sized crowd of fans saw the duel played on Memorial Field diamond.

Benny Carson making his fourth start and this third in a row was the winning pitcher with Frankie Currie making his first start in two years being charged with the loss.

In the last half of the sixth frame with one out, Des Trainer tripled to right field, Jackie Cairns and John MacDougall the next two batters were intentionally passed to load the bases. But the strategy failed as Currie failed to field Kennedy's bunt back to the mound. Trainer came home on the play. With the sacks still crammed Currie bore down and retired the next two batters via the strikeout route.

Carson pitched a magnificent two hitter while whiffing ten and walking two others. Currie scattered six hits, hitting one, walking four and striking out eight Kinsmen batters. John MacDougall Kinsmen catcher was the only batter able to get two hits.

Charlottetown hockey enthusiasts last night advanced another step towards their ultimate goal of bringing "Big Four" hockey back to this Province next winter. The move was made at an enthusiastic meeting of some fifty interested citizens held at the Legion Hall to elect the Club executive and further the interest of the project.

Headed by Major T. B. Rogers, the executive was appointed from a prospective slate of officers brought in by a three-man nominating committee with added members from the floor, and voted upon by the general meeting. This has been a big step in the project, and the executive has now been named to carry the bulk of the Club's affairs, but judging from the reaction at the meeting, and also after the meeting, the governing body chosen, is a popular choice and one that has all the possibilities of being one that can succeed with the carrying out of the venture successfully.

The official name for the Club has not yet been decided upon, but it was agreed at last night's meeting, that prior to the Charlottetown Club making its final commitments to the M. S. H. L. executive at meeting to be held at Truro, N. S., on July 15th, that a final general meeting of all ticket holders will be held on July 13th, to decide on a final name for the local entity and to carry on the business necessary to its incorporation as a registered hockey club.

It was also decided that the campaign for holding seat pledges would be continued until a date to bring the present total of 1,581 pledges up to 1,800.

As a result of the meeting last night, a development that will hold much interest for local hockey fans, was also brought out in decided terms last night. It was the answer to a question that has been receiving much speculation of late, both here and throughout other points in the Maritimes. Will the Halifax Saint Mary's "Big Four" Hockey Club join the Cape Breton Senior Hockey League this winter? The answer is a definite "No".

The information was contained in correspondence received by Major T. B. Rogers from Judge J. Elliott Hudson, President of the M.S.H.L. It intimated that despite previous press reports, the Halifax Saint Mary's Club had no intention of joining the C. B. S. H. L. and that neither had it negotiated in any such proposals with Cape Breton hockey officials, and that officials of the Halifax Club had denied any such reports, to that effect.

In baseball, it is such a play as a "momentarily held fly ball" that is what Billy Evans, general manager of the Detroit Baseball Club, has to say about it in his "knotty problems of baseball": "Outfielder caught fly ball about five feet in front of the left field wall. He made the catch running at full speed. His next stride, after getting the ball in his hands, carried him into the left field wall with great force. As a result of the collision with the ball he dropped the ball. Incidentally, he was rendered unconscious. The centre fielder came all the way over to relay the ball to the infield. Runners were on second and third at the time when one out. Both crossed the plate on the play. The batter easily reached second on the play. What was the proper ruling?"

"To properly complete the catching of a fly ball, an outfielder must securely hold it after getting the ball in his hands. When the fielder, after getting the ball in his hands, collided with the wall and dropped it, he nullified the catch. Both runs legally scored and the batsman was entitled to the base he had reached. There is no longer such a thing as a momentarily held ball—long enough to be regarded as legal catch. That phase of the play was removed from the rules several years ago. The ball must now be securely held to complete the catch."

Dowling Tied For Top Spot In Golf Tourney

MONCTON, N. B., July 4—(CP)—With two-thirds of the three-day New Brunswick-Prince Edward Island Golf Association tournament behind them, Eugene Mealy of the Westfield Country Club and Maurice (Mousie) Dowling of Charlottetown tonight shared top spot in the first division of play, replacing Pete Kelly, former N.H.L. star who led at the end of the first day.

One stroke behind the leaders was Ben Isnor, Moncton Golf and Country Club, last year's Maritime amateur champion. Kelly fell to third place, three strokes off the pace.

The final 18 holes in the 54-hole match play will be run off tomorrow. Winners in the amateur, open, professional, senior and junior classes will be named and prizes presented.

The six leading amateurs and the four professionals remaining in play will start off last tomorrow. Amateurs are Ralph Harley, Moncton, Lew Beatty, Woodstock, Kelly, Fredericton, Isnor, Dowling and Mealy.

Don Sinclair, Riverside Golf and Country Club, Saint John, held a four-stroke edge in the professional class, and was one up on Mealy and Dowling for the open title.

Only title which seemed to be clinched already was the junior, with Thane Cody, Riverside Club, turning in a 159, 11 better than Mel Smith of the host club. Cody is playing in the first division and was tied for sixth place in that group.

Will MacPherson, Moncton, was the nearest pro in the running behind Sinclair, with a 155. The field was cut to four today when Cec Dowling, of the Charlottetown Green Gables course, was scratched.

Keen Racing Expected At Montague Today

A field of some 35 trotters and pacers will come down behind the starting gate at the Montague Raceway this afternoon when a full program of four classified events, and possibly one or two dash events, will get underway there at 1:45 sharp.

Providing good weather conditions prevail, it will be the first full Wednesday afternoon racing meet of the season on the large schedule slated for this summer over the Island Racing Circuit, and ardent rail fans should get a really full afternoon of top-notch racing entertainment at the Montague track today.

Yes, it will be at least a 12-heat program with such well-known entries as Billy McVeigh, Lee Brewer, New Look, Justicia, High Tide, Jimmy Long, O. U. Volo, Rosalie Hooper, New Money, Miss Playfair, Dot Budlong and a host of others that should bring about some keen racing and startling upsets in their battles over the mile route for top racing honors of the day.

Johnny Bulla Leads Golfers In British Open

TROON, Scotland, July 4—(AP)—Johnny Bulla, big, handsome pro from Pittsburgh, wielded a hot putter today to lead all qualifiers in the British open golf championship.

Johnny's two 70-70 rounds left him four strokes under par for the two qualifying courses. He won $15 ($46.50) as the prize for the low qualifying round.

Bulla had six one-putt greens today—and even sank an 18-footer that followed a quarter-circle turn before it popped in—as he did all his par-busting over the longer Loch Green course. His other 70 Monday matched par for the Troon course, where the tournament proper begins tomorrow.

Ezzard Charles To Be Examined By Doctor Today

NEW YORK, July 4—(AP)—The National Boxing Association heavyweight champion, Ezzard Charles, sidlined for several months by a heart injury, will be examined tomorrow to determine his fitness for ring action.

If the Cincinnati Negro passes, then he will be permitted to resume boxing activities. If he fails, he probably will have to give up his title and take a long rest.

Charles, who will be 20 July 20, was examined May 4 in Chicago by the Illinois State Athletic Association medical board. The doctors said Charles was "not fit for strenuous exercise at the present time."

Island-owned Dogs Do Well

Island-owned dogs exhibited at the Halifax Kennel Club Dog Show last Saturday sponsored by the Lions Club of that city made more than a creditable showing. It was learned yesterday.

A Brittany Spaniel owned by F. A. S. Jones, topped its class as best of breed. Similarly in the Air-dale class the best of breed went to another Charlottetown dog owned by Major Tom Rogers.

A wire-haired Fox Terrier owned by Mrs. C. S. Scranton, Southport, was declared best of breed and placed 2nd in the Terrier group—beaten out only by an international champion Kerry-Blue-Terrier.

A parti-colored Cocker Spaniel owned by Freeman Eddy, Mt. Edward Kennels, won the best bitch in her breed.

Some eight Island dogs were exhibited at the show.

Major Rogers Elected President Of Senior Hockey Club In City

The executive to head Charlottetown's potential team entry into Maritime Senior Hockey League competition in the 1950-51 season was appointed at an enthusiastic organizational meeting held at the Canadian Legion hall last evening, with Major T. B. Rogers elected as Club President.

Other officers elected are as follows:

Hon. President, Premier J. Walter Jones; 1st. Vice-President, William J. Brown; 2nd Vice-President, R. J. MacDonald; Secretary, Aubrey Ward; Treasurer, Arthur Clarke; Assistant Treasurer, B. M. Sears; Directors, John Squarebriggs, Joseph J. Trainor, William Boyles, Lt. Col. A. W. Rogers, A. J. McAdam, W. E. Seantlebury, Harry McInnis, Les Callaghan.

Although the main purpose of the meeting was to organize the Club and elect its officers, wide discussion was given at the meeting to many aspects concerning Charlottetown's entry into "Big Four" competition and many proposals and relative policies were set aside for the further consideration of the executive.

As chairman of the meeting, Major Rogers gave an account of the total number of pledges for holding seats and game tickets to date, stating that "although there are still some tickets outstanding that haven't been accounted for, the total number of pledges to date totals 1,581." He stated that the drive will be continued with the hope of having at least 1,800 before the final general meeting is held on Thursday, July 13th.

The chairman also read correspondence received from Judge J. Elliott Hudson, President of the M.S.H.L., in which the League president volunteered additional information concerning the league set-up and offering his fullest support and best wishes for the success of the Charlottetown Club's venture. Contained in Judge Hudson's correspondence, was the information that contrary to previous press reports, the Halifax Saint Mary's Hockey Club had no intention of joining the Cape Breton Senior Hockey League.

Major Rogers, the newly elected president, stated that executive meetings will be held before the July 13th final meeting, to iron out much of the Club's business and that it is expected that both the naming of the club and its incorporation will be tabled at that meeting.

Island Baseball League Games Scheduled Today

Despite unfavourable weather conditions that has called a halt to scheduled play since the latter part of June, the Island Physical Fitness Baseball League will renew action again today when the Abbies and the R.C.A.F. Royals will clash over Memorial Field tonight at 5:30 and the Curran and Briggs nine will play host to Men's Falcons at Summerside at the same time.

The game at Memorial Field will bring the Abbies and R.C.A.F. together for the first time this season in a scheduled tilt, with the Abbies coming out to do battle for a victory that will be their first of the season in four league starts, while the Royals will be gunning for their second win this same number of trips.

The Western Capital tilt will also be a first meeting, when the Falcons will get their first opportunity of the season of sharing top honors in the league race with their opponents if they can send them down to defeat today. But they will be meeting a team who have had a perfect win average in three clashes this season in scheduled play, and who will be coming out strong for that fourth straight that will give them a two-game edge for sole possession of the league leadership.

Sackville Horse Race

SACKVILLE, N.B., July 4—(CP)—Nova Scotia horses took all four events tonight at a harness racing meet that had been postponed Dominion Day because of rain.

Halfax-owned Johnny Clegg and Victory Dale took first places in all three heats in their race—the 2:27 trot and pace and the free-for-all. Clegg's best time was 2:17 and Dale's was 2:14 1/3.

A Bridgewater horse, Resourceful, which like Victory Dale, was making its Maritime debut, won the 2:30 trot and pace with a fastest time of 2:22 1/5.

Junior Hal, owned by E. Whalen of Amherst, took the 2:21 trot and pace with two first and a fourth place. The first and third heats had a top time of 2:15 4/5.
