MR. AND MRS. KEIR LEIGH ADAMS AND ATTENDANTS

Very Pretty Wedding Is Held At St. Paul's

St. Paul's Anglican Church, Charlottetown, was the setting of a very pretty wedding at 3 p.m. Saturday, July 20th, when Elsie Louise youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elton C. Woodside, Clinton and Keir Leigh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Adams, Conway, were united in marriage. Reverend Canon J. T. Ibbott performed the double ring ceremony. The nuptial music was rendered by Mr. H. John Harris, F.R.C.O.

The church was beautifully decorated with baskets of peonies and assorted flowers. The guest pews were marked with silk net bows, tiny white bells, and lily-of-the-valley sprigs.

The bride given in marriage by her father looked winsome in a ballerina length gown of imported Chantilly lace with tulle illusion over net and satin, and a bolero jacket with long pointed sleeves. She wore a tiara seeded pearl trim headdress with a finger tip tulle illusion veil. Her bouquet was a cascade of red rroses, and white carnations decorated with lace and streamers of white ribbon.

Mrs. Roland Livingstone was her sister's bridesmaid. She wore a ballerina length gown of mauve nylon trico with matching head band. Her bouquet was a nosegay of white carnations and yellow mums.

Mr. Garth MacLean was the best man. The ushers were Mr. Roland Livingstone, the bride's brother-in-law.

The bride's mother wore for her daughter's wedding a pink crystallette dress with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations. The groom's mother wore a blue flowered dress and duster coat with white accessories and a corsage of pink and white carnations.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the bride's home for sixty guests. A two tier wedding cake decorated with pink roses and silver leaves with a minature bride and groom on top centered the bride's table. The toast to the bride was proposed by Reverend Canon J. T. Ibbott which was fittingly responded to by the groom. Miss Ida Phillips was in charge of the guest book. Friends of the bride, Miss Jennie Mayhew, Miss Mary MacKay, Miss Ruth Heaney, Mrs. Hillard Woodside, Mrs. James Smith, and Mrs. Earl Livingstone assisted in serving.

Out of town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Woodside, New Glasgow, N.S., Mr. and Mrs. Hayward Dunnett, Moncton, N. B.; Mr. Shelton Adams, Montreal, Quebec; Mr. Garth MacLean, Shediac, N.B.

For travelling the bride chose a light blue flowered dress with white accessories, and a corsage of red roses and white carnations.

Prior to her marriage the bride was entertained at a miscellaneous shower at her home in Clinton, and also by the staff of Eatons of Canada. She was the recipient of many beautiful gifts. The bride is on the staff of Eatons of Canada. Charlottetown, and the groom is a science student of Mount Allison University where he plans to resume his studies this fall. At present he is in the employ of the M. F. Schurman Company Limited. The happy young couple will reside temporarily in Charlottetown. — Photo by Garnhum.

KITTEN STITCH

KITTEN CROCHET

Clever kittens — these pretty little animals form a neat set to protect chair or buffet. Filet crochet in easy K-stitch.

Easy - to - follow chart makes this filet - crochet a cinch! Pattern 7316: chart, directions for chair-set in mercerized string.

Send THIRTY - FIVE CENTS (coins) for this pattern (stamps cannot be accepted) to Charlottetown Guardian, Household Arts Dept., 60 Front Street, W., Toronto, Ontario. Print plainly NAME, ADDRESS, PATTERN NUMBER.

A bonus for our readers: two FREE patterns, printed in our new Alice Brooks Needlecraft Book for 1957! Plus a variety of designs to order—crochet, knitting, embroidery, huck weaving, toys, dolls, others. Send 25 cents for your copy of this needlecraft book—now!

GIRL GUIDE CAMPERS

There's nothing like meals cooked over an open fire, so these girls discovered during their visit at the Girl Guide World Centenary Camp, at Doe Lake, Ont. Left, is Suzanne Shaw, of Charlottetown, P.E.I.

Chief Cook Jean Coughlan, of O'Leary, P.E.I. rustles up some lunch. Both girls were winners in Dominion Stores National Girl Guide Essay Contest and received an all-expense trip to the big international encampment, attended by 1500 girls from 40 countries.

ELLEN'S DIARY

Week Without Incident Is Full Of Pleasantries

August sets clump of phlox to blossoming in garden spots now — and nasturiums to flaunt their warm colors. To make engaging bouquets spicely fragrant for the housewife, for children to sample the sweet of the spurs. And for bees to plunder and make high carnival in the bright beds.

And above, the sky is very blue where the fleecy dream-clouds of Summer boat. And the breeze which wanders along the fields and yards is scented with the maturing riches of the season — of browning clover and aging fern, of blossom and berry of woodland and hedgerow. This is of course not the merry carefree wind of Spring. If one listens closely she may catch now a melancholy note even in its whisper and sometimes a long sigh at the end of its chuckle as it stirs gently the summer leaves.

The August breeze is like that. The year, we fancy in the turn of the seasons ages it. Like a child, so soon it grows up. There is a gain and loss in maturing. We notice that these days with Granddaughter who of late chose to give up the sunny braids and long, she has worn since a small one, traded the demure grace they gave her for the studied carelessness of a modern pony-tail of hairdo.

The week we look back on now, passed "without incident," yet was oh so full of the pleasantries of the summery days. The foal came to the Nell-mare, his arrival discovered one dewy morning by Jeanie. James with a "fair-food touch at the like, helped him to his first breakfast and then proceeded to regard him with that wrapt interest he gives to younglings of the farm, and in particular to foals . . The unsteady limbs of infancy are becoming surer now, and the mother and son on pasture make a winsome picture against a background of field and woodland over which August has woven her sunny shimmering spell.

Yes, busy these days are for Island farm-folk, very full and always interesting to those who love the land and its ways. It is our life. And interwoven in its fabric in a running thread of pure gold, we can so easily discern that Hand which guides, and guards, and keeps us along every hour of the day. Edna Jaques puts it this way:

"For this is life — this blessed
throbbing NOW,
This golden-tinted morning —
this today
Whose rich abundance speaks
from every bough
If we had just listen to the things they say.

For I shall never hear a clearer song
Than younger skylarks singing in the blue
Or know a sweeter ecstasy — or see
A richer purple than the pansy's hue.

For I shall never taste a lovelier breath
Than of red roses blooming on the vine,
Or sense a heaven nearer to the earth,
Or grasp a clearer sight of the Divine.

For Heaven lies about us everywhere,
And God is close, for every blade of grass
Sings on the wind like ancient line of prayer,
And all the world is hushed to watch Him pass."

Until Monday — — — Diary — Goodnight. . . .

HAPPENINGS

The Rev. Harold K. Wright, of Norwood, Ont., who is guest preacher at Trinity United Church, Summerside, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Wright, 4 Richmond St.

Miss Evelyn Henry, whose engagement has just been announced to Mr. Douglas Brown, is receiving all good wishes from her numerous friends.

Mr. Brown is an Australian and the young couple will be living in that vast Island commonwealth country. Miss Henry is a graduate of the Prince Edward Island Hospital and went to Australia in her profession.

She was outstanding in P.E.I. swimming circles. Miss Henry is unmistakably athletic in the way she moves and in her unobstrusive grace. In the water this grace blended with a powerful stroke put Miss Henry in the lead in many swimming events.

For the Canadian — Australian wedding, which takes place in September, the groom's mother, Mrs. Benn S. Brown of "Bogunda," Prairie, North Queensland, and the grandmother, Mrs. Boys are arriving from Australia.

They will be registered at the Charlottetown Hotel, from which centre they hope to do considerable sight-seeing on this "The Island" as well as enjoying the Brown-Henry wedding festivities.

Mrs. J. O. MacCallum and Miss Elsie Nicholson arrived home Thursday evening from a most enjoyable two months holiday spent in Eggland and on the Continent. They made the return trip on the S.S. Ivernia and landed in Quebec.

The wedding will take place Saturday afternoon, August seventeenth, at 4 o'clock at the Church of the Atonement, Alderwood, Toronto, of Helen Bertha Nisbet to William Shelton MacKay. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Nisbet of Tyne Valley, parents of the bride, are in Toronto to attend this happy event.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Crothers, who have been visiting Mrs. Crother's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Preston Rodd, left on Saturday for their home in Hamilton, Ontario.

Many entertainments featured the visit to the Island of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Crothers. In honor of their recent marriage, relatives gathered at the Rodd homestead for a reception, and showered them with many beautiful gifts.

Mrs. David MacLean, Charlottetown, was hostess for a nicely arranged shower, which included the graduating class of '55 from the P.E. Island Hospital of which Mrs. Crothers was a member.

A very happy time was held in the community hall at Harrington, when neighbours and class mates showered Mr. and Mrs. Crothers with a variety of useful gifts, all of which will serve as momentoes of friends on P E. Island.

Mr, Neil V. MacKenzie, St. Catherines has recently returned from a very pleasant trip to Ottawa.

He motored up with his son, George who was vacationing on the Island and was returning to resume his duties in the Dept. of Fisheries. After spending a few days sight-seeing in the capital he returned to the Island by plane.

Mr. and Mrs. William Hagan, Fairhaven, Mass., spent a very enjoyable honeymoon on P.E.I., guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Gillis, Kinross. Mrs. Hagan, the former Miss Margaret MacHugh was an associate teacher with Miss Betty Gillis at the Thomas R. Rodmen School, New Bedford, Mass.

Miss Eunice D. Johnson, R.N., B.A., M.S., director of Nursing School and Nursing Service, St. Luke's Hospital, and Miss Sullivan both of New Bedford, Mass., have returned to their homes after vacationing on P.E.I., as guests of Miss Florence M. Gillis, R.N., Kinross.

Mr. Don MacNally, R.C.A.F., Training Command Headquarters, Trenton, Ontario, is spending a holiday visiting his mother, Mrs. T. L. MacNally, Rochford St.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Benner, Melrose, Mass., are visiting in Charlottetown. They are the guests of Mrs. Benner's mother, Mrs. James Bell, and her sister, Mrs. David Murphy of Green Street.

Mr. and Mrs. George R. Spear of Beverly, Massachusetts, have been recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Matheson, Clyde River.

LAC. G. J. Aylward, R.C.A.F., of C.J.A.C., Rivers, Manitoba, is on leave and visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Aylward, Southport.

The following are the hostesses at the Charlottetown Golf Club: Mrs. Kay Johnston, Mrs. W. R. Jenkins, Mrs. Kenneth A. Parker, Mrs. Carl Burke, Mrs. Malvin Jenkins, Miss Marie Toole and Miss Shirley Sterns.

The spacious lawn and beautiful flowers at the home of Mrs. Thomas Palmer, Summerside, made a pretty setting for an afternoon tea recently, honoring Mrs. E. Palmer of Montreal. Mrs. Edwin Taylor presided over the teacups.

Rev. and Mrs. C. S. Linkletter of Des Moines, Iowa, are visiting with their daughter, Mrs. Wendell Muttart, and son, Charles Linkletter in Summerside. They will be here until about the first of September.

The choir of the Sacred Heart Church, Borden, were entertained on Wednesday evening August 14th, at the home of Miss Eleanor MacIsaac, the ocasion being a farewell party in honor of Miss Joyce MacInnis, who will leave this week for Toronto, Ontario, where she will be employed. An address was read by Mrs. Clinton Howatt, and Miss Anita Westhaver presented Joyce with a gold cross and chain on behalf of the choir. A delicious lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Clinton Howatt.

MOVIE MAKER DIES

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—Harry Jacques Revier, 55, a veteran movie maker in Hollywood, France and England, died Wednesday. He produced about 300 pictures, including many western and some of the Tarzan series.

MR. AND MRS. JOSEPH GERARD DORSEY AND ATTENDANTS

Bride's Grandmother Plays The Wedding Music

Baskets of summer flowers and peonies decorated the sanctuary of St. Malachy's Church, Kinkora for the marriage on July 17, of Margaret Catherine, daughter of Mrs. George McMahon and the late Gnr. George McMahon to Joseph Gerard, son of Mrs. Frank Dorsey and the late Frank Dorsey of Borden.

Rev. Harold Croken, P.P. performed the double ring ceremony, followed by Nuptial Mass. Present in the Sanctuary were Rev. R. F. MacDonald, Rev. P. Hammill and Rev. Regis Duffy.

The wedding music was played by the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Peter A. McMahon, who also accompanied the Girl's Choir in appropriate hymns.

Given in marriage by her brother, James, the youthful bride was radiant in a portrait gown of nylon net over satin. The tight fitted bodice was fashioned in princess lines with sabrina neckline and long tapered sleeves. The dress had a full hooped skirt with lace applique. A crown of seeded pearls held her finger tip veil of tulle illusion. Her cascade bouquet was of red roses.

The maid of honor, Margaret McCardle wore a cocktail gown of pink frosted nylon over-net and taffeta with a wide sash, picture hat and elbow mitts.

The two bridesmaids, Margaret Smith and Florence Clarkin were in similar gowns of blue and yellow, with matching picture hats and elbow mitts. All three attendants who were girl friends of the bride carried satin baskets of shasta daisies and mums in complimentary shades.

Little Roberta Hamill, niece of the groom was very winsome in a short dress of printed blue nylon and a coronet headdress. She carried a basket of mixed roses and mums.

The best man was James Dorsey, brother of the groom, James Hamill and George McMahon ushered the guests to the pews marked with satin bows and asparagus fern.

A reeception was held at the Summerlea Restaurant. The bride's table was centered with a three tier wedding cake, encircled with pink and white nylon tulle intermingled with rosebuds.

James Hamill capably acted as master of cermonies. Russell Deighan proposed the toast to the bride to which the groom fittingly replied. Several of the guests spoke briefly and many congratulatory telegrams were received by the newly weds. ..

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. McMahon, chose a printed silk dress topped by a cocoa brown linen duster with matching silk lining. A beige hat and accessories and a corsage of pink carnations completed her attire.

Mrs. Dorsey, mother of the groom, chose an aqua sheath dress, navy bengaline duster, with yellow hat and accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

For travelling the bride donned a light blue sheath dress with bolero, and a white picture hat and accessories. Her corsage was pink roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Dorsey will reside in Borden where the bride is a popular school teacher and the groom is a C.N.R. agent at Kinkora. Photo by Heckbert.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN WILLIAM PERRY AND ATTENDANTS

Children Of Mary Choir Sang At Lovely Wedding

A pretty wedding was solemnized at St. Simon and St. Jude church in Tignish at 8 a.m. on Wednesday, July 24, 1957, when Mary Irma, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Harper, Tignish, became the bride of John William, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Perry, also of Tignish Rev. Father Rooney performed the ceremony. Mrs. Francis Fraser was organist and accompanied the girls' choir (Children of Mary). The altar was attractively decorated with mixed flowers.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a long white satin gown covered with tiers of lace down the back and front, lace top and lace pointed sleeves. Her finger-tip veil was held by a tiara of sequins and net. She carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses with white streamers.

Miss Helena Perry, sister of the groom and maid of honor, was attired in pink taffeta covered with net and matching jacket. Her headdress was pink flowers and net. She carried a bouquet of pink roses with pink streamers. Mrs. Jack McAleer, sister of the bride, bride wore blue taffeta with net and nylon. Her headdress consisted of blue flowers with net and her bouquet of yellow roses with yellow streamers.

The best man was Mr. Louis Harper, brother of the bride, and the usher, Mr. Edward Profitt, the bride's nephew.

The bride's mother chose for her daughter's wedding a blue crepe dress trimmed with lace, and the groom's mother also wore a blue crepe dress. Both had corsages of American Beauty roses.

For the honeymoon to points of interest in New Brunswick and Nova Seotia, the bride donned a rose box-style suit with white accessories.

Reception for 100 guests was held at the bride's home which was decorated with pink and white streamers. The bride's table was centred with a three-tier wedding cake topped with miniature bride and groom. Rev. Father Rooney and Rev. Father Alphonsus Gaudet were present at both breakfast and dinner.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Ralph Miller and Mirs Rosetto Miller, Charlottetown; Mr. Louis Harper and Mr. Romeo Harper of Fredericton, N.B.

Summer Highway Safety Is Vital To Everyone

The following statement by Mrs. Rex Eaton, O.B.E., President of the National Council of women in Canada, is offered as a contribution towards summer highway safety.

In spite of constant warnings, safety campaigns and actual evidence of broken bodies on the highways, traffic fatalities are still on the increase," declares Mrs. Rex Eaton, O.B.E., President of the National Council of Women of Canada. "Many of these disasters are caused by sheer recklessness, but we must never lose sight of the fact that driver fatigue is one of the greatest dangers on the road,' she said in mid-summer statement issued in Dollarton, B.C.

With summer vacations at their peak and with many driving miles ahead for a large number of Canadian families, it is essential for Canadian mothers to accept their responsibilities to their families while on the road, she said.

Here are a few tips which Mrs. Eaton passes along to the Canadian mother to assist her in avoiding the danger of driver fatigue and to make the holiday trip a happy and safe one.

Plenty of rest for the entire family the night before departure is a must, praticularly if the drive is a lengthy one.

A stop every two hours or so is a must. A walk around the car to stretch the legs and a drink of coffee will do much to fight off driver fatigue.

Maximum mileage should not exceed 350 a day and wherever possible she should see that this limit is adhered to.

If a licensed driver herself, she should take her turn at the wheel once in a while.

Among her most important functions while in the car is to make sure that the driver is not annoyed. This is often difficult with children as they become restless on a long journey. It is a good idea to take along comic books or picture magazines to be produced only when signs of irritability occur. Also, two or three pillows should be put in the back seat for the children in the event they can be coaxed into taking a nap.

A thermos of coffee, either hot or iced should be taken along as well as some sweet cold milk, easy to eat fruit, and cookies for the children.

A mother should keep a watchful eye on the children to make sure that they do not play with door handles, hang out of the windows, or bother the driver in any way.

Aspirins, adhesive bandages, motion sickness pills, and a flashlight are good things to have in the glove compartment at all times.

It is dangerous to draw the driver into controversial subjects. Conversation should be light and pleasant with plenty of breathing spells.

It is not necessary to rush on a vacation trip, Mrs. Eaton declared, and it is well to keep in mind the current slogan of the Canadian Highway Safety Conference, "Slow Down and Live."

MR. AND MRS. HAYWARD DUNNETT

Junior Boys' Choir Sang At St. George's Wedding

A pretty wedding of interest to relatives and friends was solemnized in St. George's Anglican Church when Rev. Dr. J. J. Alexander, united in marriage with the double ring ceremony, Jean Marion, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Adams, Conway, P.E.I., and Hayward Vincent Dunnett, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert I. Dunnett, Fredericton, N B.

The church was tastefully decorated with flowers and guest pews were marked with nosegays of yellow and mauve 'mums. R. Douglas Murray presided at the organ and the junior boys choir sang "The Voice That Breathed O'er Eden" and during the signing of the register "O Perfect Love."

Given in marriage by her father the bride looked charming in a floor length gown of white embroidered tulle featuring a scalloped neckline and shirred bodice. The long sleeves ending in points over the hands were caught snugly at the wrists. The full skirt billowed out over lustrous bridal satin and hoop. Her scalloped hand rolled veil of silk illusion was gathered to a tiara of seed pearls and rhinestones, She carried a bouquet of red roses and white 'mums.

Mrs. Mary Stordy, matron of honor, wore a floor length gown of yellow net over satin with a scalloped embroidered overdress. She carried a nosegay of mauve and yellow 'mums.

Miss Frances Dunnett, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid and wore a floor length gown of mauve net over taffeta with matching jacket. She carried a nosegay of yellow and white 'mums.

Miss Frances Dunnett, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid and wore a floor length gown of mauve net over taffeta with matching jacket. She carried a nosegay of yellow and white 'mums.

Roland Adams, brother of the bride, acted as best man. Ushering were John Stordy and Keir Adams.

A reception was held in the church hall. The bride's table, decorated with white 'mums, red roses and peonies, was centred with a three tier wedding cake surmounted by love birds and lily-of-the-valley. The toast to the bride was responded to by the groom. Serving were Miss Louise Dunfield and Miss Betty Stuart. Pouring were Miss Margaret Steeves and Miss Adeline Morin. The guest book was in charge of Miss Ann Mullin.

After the reception the couple left on a motor trip to various points in the Maritimes. For travelling the bride chose a beige silk sheath dress with matching duster and yellow accessories. Her corsage was of yellow 'mums.

On their return Mr. and Mrs. Dunnett will reside in Moncton where the groom is employed with Alex E. Ross Ltd., and the bride is with The T. Eaton Co. (Maritimes) Ltd.

Out of town guests were present from Fredericton, Newcastle, N.B., and Kinkora and Conway, P.E.I.

GOOD POINT

Co-education was strongly supported by Plato.

KEEPS AWAKE

Caffeine, found in coffee and tea, stimulates the reason and prevents sleep.