Hours Of Fun And Frolic For The Children Tonight

Ghosts and goblins, witches and black cats, devils and angels. They will all be floating, flying, walking or crawling around Charlottetown tonight for it is the big night for the wee ones — Halloween! Gone, but not quite forgotten, are the days when householders dreaded the black night. They had reason to dread it as the youngsters of another era appeared bent on nothing but destruction. No fence was safe, no building immune. However, things are changed and tonight there will be a young host calling on all the homes looking for treats. They will be recipients of candies, apples, and, if they just happen to land at a home where the mistress finished her weekly baking, they might receive chocolate cake or perhaps a few cookies. Anyway they can hope for the best.

There are many factors entering into the change from the days when wanton damage was the sole reason for going out on Halloween. A larger and stricter Police Force had something to do with it in the beginning. But then the youngsters learned that though the Police might stop them from committing really serious offences, at the same time they would look the other way when it was only harmless mischief.

Police Understanding This factor was important as it bred into the kids a liking for the "coops" and a better understanding of the job they had to do in protecting the home-owners. At about this time service clubs realized that there was a real job for them and here the Kinsmen Club took up the cudgels. As a result of their efforts the Armouries will be a hive of activity tonight with hundreds of youngsters in all types of costume present for the annual party which the club now gives.

Broken Lights

However, there still remains an element which appears determined to do damage to property. One of the most common, and at the same time most dangerous, practices is the breaking of street lights. The danger from this lies in the inability of elderly, and not so old, adults to see their way across intersections when there are no lights to guide them. Countless accidents have happened because of this and a special plea has been made to all party-goers or fun-makers not to break the lights this year.

B.I.S. Halloween Party For Kiddies

The annual children's Halloween party was held in the Benevolent Irish Society hall last evening when approximately one hundred children were guests of the Society. For the occasion the hall was gaily enlivened by the numerous decorations ably bringing forth the spirit of the season. Many were the ghosts and spooks who flitted about the hall during the evening. Under the able chairmanship of Bro. Laurie Gormley, the young guests were treated to an evening of fun and frolic which was capped by the showing of suitable movies through the courtesy of the National Film Board.

Many varied and interesting costumes were worn by the children of the members. Highlights of the evening was the pie-eating contest which had many contestants. The winner of this event was Master Harry Callaghan. The children were treated to refreshments of candy, apples, etc.

B.Y.P.U. Halloween Social Enjoyed

The weekly meeting of the Baptist Young People's Union was held in the form of a Halloween social on Thursday night. Windsor Brehaut led the group in several lively games followed by bobbing for apples. Miss Greta Potter and Miss Marguerite Brehaut judged the colorful costumes. The prize for the most original costume was won by Mrs. Jean MacCallum and Daisy Mae and for the most comical by Miss Beulah Jardine.

The group was then conducted on a ghost walk through dark, spooky corridors, where they met several weird figures and heard strange noises. Several games were led by Don Holden and Windsor Brehaut followed by the serving of a delicious lunch by a committee headed by Glenda Brown. The programme committee for the evening was composed of Freda MacCallum, Virginia Matheson, Dick MacLean and Bill MacCannell.

The social was well attended and the Church hall was nicely decorated for the occasion. Mr. Hartley Condon, the honorary president of the B.Y.P.U. directed the activities of each committee. The social evening closed with the Lord's Prayer.

Ch'town Credit Union Has Successful Year

The second greatest increase in membership since inception of the organization 16 years ago was reported by the president as he addressed the annual meeting of the Charlottetown Credit Union held last night. Mr. Cletus Murphy, presenting the report of the Board of Directors, said the membership was now 226, an increase of 67 over the previous year.

He stated that over $6,900 was received in shares giving a share balance of approximately $18,000, an increase of nearly $5,000 compared to last year. However, he noted that the effect on increased membership on higher share capital was lessened by the fact that some members failed to add to their shares. He said that new loans to members during the year were 129 for a total of $12,191.65.

Mr. Murphy told of the promotional campaign carried on in the city earlier this year through circulating the residents by mail. In this campaign efforts were made to thoroughly acquaint the people with the Credit Union idea and as a necessary follow up the Union opened a full-time office. He believed that this move had resulted in the gaining of many new members as the greater service facilities enabled the staff to better handle the flow of business.

During the meeting it was agreed to pay a dividend of 2 per cent on shares and 1-1/2 per cent on deposits. The gathering also voted a slight increase in the amount paid to the treasurer's assistant.

In the election of officers Mr. Murphy was re-elected to the Board of Directors to succeed himself. New members will be Mr. Robert Acorn, succeeding retiring
